Walter Jost, Wendy Olmsted, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Rhetoric offers the first major survey in two decades of the field of rhetorical studies and of the practice of rhetorical theory and criticism across a range of disciplines. Assesses rhetoric's place in the larger intellectual universe. Focuses on the practical side of rhetoric looking at specific works, problems and figures. Provides examples of rhetoric from ancient times to the present day. Written by leading scholars from a variety of different fields.

Brill's Companion to the Reception of Ancient Rhetoric, 2021-12-06 This volume examining the reception of ancient rhetoric aims to demonstrate that the past is always part of the present in the ways in which decisions about crucial political, social and economic matters have been made historically or in organic interaction with literature, philosophy and culture at the core of the foundation principles of Western thought and values. Analysis is meant to cover the broadest possible spectrum of considerations that focus on the totality of rhetorical species i.e. forensic, deliberative and epideictic as they are applied to diversified topics including but not limited to language, science, religion, literature, theatre and other cultural processes e.g. athletics, politics and leadership, pedagogy and gender studies and cross-cultural, geographical and temporal contexts.

Rhetoric at the Non-Substantialistic Turn Therese Boos Dykeman, 2018-05-04 Rhetoric at the Non-Substantialistic Turn The East-West Coin presents a unique theory of rhetoric that encompasses both Eastern and Western approaches. Based on the Field Being philosophy founded by Lik Kuen Tong, this theory gives an account of the ontological foundations of both kinds of rhetoric. Beginning with an exposition of the nature of Field Being rhetoric as Eastern and Western, this book presents chapters on Eastern and Western rhetoric over history, as power, ethics, art, creativity, politics and communication. It acknowledges the thinking of many philosophers and rhetoricians who have contributed to East-West comparative studies in both fields and argues that both understandings of rhetoric are necessary for global communication.

Philosophy, Rhetoric, and Thomas Hobbes Timothy Raylor, 2018 Thomas Hobbes claimed to have founded the discipline of civil philosophy. Rhetoric and the Writing of History, 400-1500 Matthew Kempshall, 2011-08-31 This book provides an analytical overview of the vast range of historiography which was produced in western Europe over a thousand-year period between c. 400 and c. 1500. Concentrating on the general principles of classical rhetoric central to the language of this writing alongside the more familiar traditions of ancient history, biblical exegesis and patristic theology, this survey introduces the conceptual sophistication and semantic rigour with which medieval authors could approach their narratives of past and present events and the diversity of ends to which this history could then be put By providing a close reading of some of the historians who put these linguistic principles and strategies into practice from Augustine and Orosius through Otto of Freising and William of Malmesbury to Machiavelli and Guicciardini it traces and questions some of the key methodological changes that characterise the function and purpose of the western historiographical tradition in this formative period of its development

Robert DeMaria, Jr.,Heesok Chang,Samantha Zacher,2013-12-13 The Stoic Origins of Erasmus' Philosophy of Christ Ross Dealy,2017-01-18 This original and provocative engagement with Erasmus work argues that the Dutch humanist discovered in classical Stoicism several principles which he developed into a paradigm shifting application of Stoicism to Christianity Ross Dealy offers novel readings of some lesser and well known Erasmian texts and presents a detailed discussion of the reception of Stoicism in the Renaissance In a considered interpretation of Erasmus De taedio Iesu Dealy clearly shows the two dimensional Stoic elements in Erasmus thought from an early time onward Erasmus genuinely philosophical disposition is evidenced in an analysis of his edition of Cicero s De officiis Building on stoicism Erasmus shows that Christ s suffering in Gethsemane was not about the triumph of spirit over flesh but about the simultaneous workings of two opposite but equally essential types of value on the one side spirit and on the other involuntary and intractable natural instincts

Epistolary

Community in Print, 1580-1664 Diana G. Barnes,2016-05-13 Epistolary Community in Print contends that the printed letter is an inherently sociable genre ideally suited to the theorisation of community in early modern England In manual prose or poetic form printed letter collections make private matters public and in so doing reveal first how tenuous is the divide between these two realms in the early modern period and second how each collection helps to constitute particular communities of readers Consequently as Epistolary Community details epistolary visions of community were gendered This book provides a genealogy of epistolary discourse beginning with an introductory discussion of Gabriel Harvey and Edmund Spenser s Wise and Wittie Letters 1580 and opening into chapters on six printed letter collections generated at times of political change Among the authors whose letters are examined are Angel Day Michael Drayton Jacques du Bosque and Margaret Cavendish Epistolary Community identifies broad patterns that were taking shape and constantly morphing in English printed letters from 1580 to 1664 and then considers how the six examples of printed letters selected for discussion manipulate this generic tradition to articulate ideas of community under specific historical and political circumstances This study makes a substantial contribution to the rapidly growing field of early modern letters and demonstrates how the field impacts our understanding of political discourses in circulation between 1580 and 1664 early modern women s writing print culture and rhetoric
