Renaissance Configurations is a ground breaking collection of essays on the structures and strategies of Early Modern culture as embodied in issues of gender sexuality and politics by a group of critics from the new generation of Early Modern specialists The essays focus on the relations of public and private of verbal and spatial of textual and material reading and re reading texts both canonical and non canonical with a textual and historical rigour often considered lacking in work with theoretical premises The collection as a whole offers a clear sense of the direction to be taken by Early Modern studies over the next decade

Bodies and Their Spaces Russell West-Pavlov,2006 Bodies and their Spaces System Crisis and Transformation in Early Modern Theatre explores the emergence of the distinctively modern gender system at the close of the early modern period The book investigates shifts in the gendered spaces assigned to men and women in the public and private domains and their changing modes of interconnection in concert with these social spaces it examines the emergence of biologically based notions of sex and a novel sense of individual subjectivity These parallel and linked transformations converged in the development of a new gender system which more efficiently enforced the requirements of patriarchy under the evolving economic conditions of merchant capitalism These changes can be seen to be rehearsed contested and debated in literary artefacts of the early modern period in particular the drama This book suggests that until the closure of the English theatres in 1642 the drama not only reflected but also exacerbated the turbulence surrounding gender configurations in transition in early modern society The book reads a wide range of dramatic and non dramatic texts and interprets them with the aid of the systems theory developed by the German sociologist Niklas Luhmann

The Painted Closet of Lady Anne Bacon Drury

H.L. Meakin,2017-07-05 Lady Anne Bacon Drury 1572 1624 was the granddaughter and niece of two of England's Lord Keepers of the Great Seal Sir Nicholas Bacon and Sir Francis Bacon Lady Anne was also the friend and patroness of John Donne and Joseph Hall however she deserves to be remembered in her own right Within her massive country house Lady Anne created a tiny painted room that she seems to have used as a kind of three dimensional book The walls consisted of panels of pictures and mottoes grouped under Latin sentences These panels can still be viewed in a Suffolk museum Christchurch Mansion in Ipswich Some panels point to classical and Biblical sources and to popular emblem books The sources of other panels are more recondite while still others are original compositions by Lady Anne The panels exhibit a contemptus mundi theme and reflect a struggle with ambition pride and even despair Some panels also appear to register carefully veiled but pointed critiques of political and religious events and figures Lady Anne's painted closet or architext is thus relevant to a wide range of early modern scholarship in various disciplines but is as yet largely unappreciated For the first time in four hundred years this book fully describes the closet and places it in its personal social intellectual and aesthetic contexts It argues for the painted closet's importance for understanding early modern conceptualizations of private and public spaces and for illuminating fundamental early modern habits of seeing and reading especially combinations of text and image Finally this book explores the closet as an example of the ingenious ways in which female subjectivity found ways to express itself even within the constraints of early modern patriarchal society in England     Women, Reading, and the Cultural Politics of Early Modern England Edith Snook,2017-07-05 A study of the representation of reading in early modern Englishwomen s writing this book exists at the intersection of textual criticism and cultural history It looks at depictions of reading in women s printed devotional works maternal advice books poetry and fiction as well as manuscripts for evidence of ways in which women conceived of reading in sixteenth and early seventeenth century England Among the authors and texts considered are Katherine Parr Lamentation of a Sinner Anne Askew The Examinations of Anne Askew Dorothy Leigh The Mothers Blessing Elizabeth Grymeston Miscelanea Meditations Memoratives Aemelia Lanyer Salve Deus Rex Judaeorum and Mary Wroth The First Part of the Countess of Montgomery s Urania Attentive to contiguities between representations of reading in print and reading practices found in manuscript culture this book also examines a commonplace book belonging to Anne Cornwallis Folger Folger MS V a 89 and a Passion poem presented by Elizabeth Middleton to Sarah Edmondson Bod MS Done 17 Edith Snook here makes an original contribution to the ongoing scholarly project of historicizing reading by foregrounding female writers of the early modern period She explores how women s representations of reading negotiate the dynamic relationship between the public and private spheres and investigates how women might have been affected by changing ideas about literacy as well as how they sought to effect change in devotional and literary reading practices Finally because the activity of reading is a site of cultural conflict over gender social and educational status and the religious or national affiliation of readers Snook brings to light how these women when they write about reading are engaged in structuring the cultural politics of early modern England     Christopher Marlowe at 450 Sara Munson Deats,Robert A. Logan,2016-05-23 There has never been a retrospective on Christopher Marlowe as comprehensive complete and up to date in appraising the Marlovian landscape Each chapter has been written by an eminent international Marlovian scholar to determine what has been covered what has not and what scholarship and criticism will or might focus on next The volume considers all of Marlowe s dramas and his poetry including his translations as well as the following special topics Critical Approaches to Marlowe Marlowe s Works in Performance Marlowe and Theatre History Electronic Resources for Marlovian Research and Marlowe s Biography Included in the discussions are the native continental and classical influences on Marlowe and the ways in which Marlowe has interacted with other contemporary writers including his influence on those who came after him The volume has appeal not only to students and scholars of Marlowe but to anyone interested in Renaissance drama and poetry Moreover the significance for readers lies in the contributors approaches as well as in their content Interest in the biography of Christopher Marlowe and in his works has bourgeoned since the turn of the century It therefore seems especially appropriate at this time to present a comprehensive assessment of past and present traditional and innovative lines of inquiry and to look forward to future developments that must not be overlooked     The Matter of Song in Early Modern England Katherine R. Larson,2019-08-29 Given the variety and richness of the sixteenth and seventeenth century English songscape it might seem unsurprising to suggest that early modern song needs to be considered as sung When a reader encounters a song in a sonnet sequence a romance and even a masque or a play however the tendency is to engage with it as poem rather than as musical performance Opening up the notion of song from a performance based perspective The Matter of Song in Early Modern England considers the implications of reading song not simply as lyric text but as an embodied and gendered musical practice Animating the traces of song preserved in physiological and philosophical commentaries singing handbooks poetic treatises and literary texts ranging from Mary Sidney Herbert's Psalms to John Milton's Comus the book confronts song's ephemerality its lexical and sonic capriciousness and its airy substance These features can resist critical analysis but were vital to song's affective workings in the early modern period The volume foregrounds the need to attend much more closely to the embodied and musical dimensions of literary production and circulation in sixteenth and seventeenth century England It also makes an important and timely contribution to our understanding of women's engagement with song as writers and as performers A companion recording of fourteen songs featuring Larson soprano and Lucas Harris lute brings the project's innovative methodology and central case studies to life     Imagining the Audience in Early Modern Drama, 1558-1642 J.
