Security Issues And The Law Of The Sea:

Security Issues and the Law of the Sea David Larson,1994 To find more information on Rowman Littlefield titles please visit us at www.rowmanlittlefield.com Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea Natalie Klein,2012-10-04 Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea examines the rights and duties of states across a broad spectrum of maritime security threats It provides comprehensive coverage of the different dimensions of maritime security in order to assess how responses to maritime security concerns are and should be shaping the law of the sea The discussion sets out the rules regulating passage of military vessels and military activities at sea law enforcement activities across the different maritime zones information sharing and intelligence gathering as well as armed conflict and naval warfare In doing so this book not only addresses traditional security concerns for naval power but also examines responses to contemporary maritime security threats such as terrorism weapons of mass destruction piracy drug trafficking environmental damage and illegal fishing While the protection of sovereignty and national interests remain fundamental to maritime security and the law of the sea there is increasing acceptance of a common interest that exists among states when seeking to respond to a variety of modern maritime security threats This book argues that security interests should be given greater scope in our understanding of the law of the sea in light of the changing dynamics of exclusive and inclusive claims to ocean use More flexibility may be required in the interpretation and application of the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea if appropriate responses to ensure maritime security are to be allowed Maritime Security and the Law of the Sea Sir Malcolm D. Evans,Sofia Galani,2020-01-31 Exploring everything from contemporary challenges to ocean security this book offers detailed insights into the increasing activities of state and non state actors at sea Chapters revisit the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea LOSC highlighting how not all maritime security threats can be addressed by this and further looking at the ways in which the LOSC may even hinder maritime security Non-Traditional Security Issues and the South China Sea Shicun Wu,Keyuan Zou,2016-05-23 While there is abundant literature discussing non traditional security issues there is little mention of such issues existing in the South China Sea This area is vulnerable to natural hazards and marine environmental degradation The marine ecosystem is threatened by various adverse sources including land based pollution busy shipping lanes and over exploitation activities which threaten the security of the surrounding population This area is also threatened by piracy and maritime crimes but law enforcement becomes difficult due to unclear maritime boundaries This volume is designed to explore the security cooperation and regional approaches to these non traditional security issues in the hope to build a peaceful environment and maintain international and regional security and order in the South China Sea region

Advances in Marine Environmental Protection: Challenges, Solutions and Perspectives Mehran Idris Khan,Yen-Chiang Chang,Wen-Hong Liu,2025-04-29 Environments have no boundaries and no borders Managing oceanic environments particularly the threats and risks of pollution should also consider the shared responsibility of all coastal states

Emerging issues for oceanic pollution governance include global changes like rising temperature ocean acidification but also disturbances of ecosystem functioning by plastic and pollution by other emerging contaminants for example noise pollution and deep sea mining These call for efficient and sustainable prevention and restoration strategies such as efficient urban and industrial sewage treatment plants efficiently administered transnational marine protected areas and among others sustainable aquaculture extensive small scale fisheries Environmental protection warrants the development of interrelationships between marine sciences relevant industries and ocean governance developing internationally accepted rules and regulations for sustainable ocean management This Research Topic will explore possible new domains of ocean governance and the marine environment from the interdisciplinary perspectives of the rule of law including the international agreement on equal conventions the Convention on Facilitation of International Maritime Traffic the Convention on the International Regulation for Preventing Collisions at Sea and International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships MARPOL

The Oxford Handbook of the International Law of Global Security Robin Geiß, Nils Melzer, 2021-02-16 Understanding the global security environment and delivering the necessary governance responses is a central challenge of the 21st century On a global scale the central regulatory tool for such responses is public international law But what is the state role and relevance of public international law in today s complex and highly dynamic global security environment Which concepts of security are anchored in international law How is the global security environment shaping international law and how is international law in turn influencing other normative frameworks The Oxford Handbook of the International Law of Global Security provides a ground breaking overview of the relationship between international law and global security It constitutes a comprehensive and systematic mapping of the various sub fields of international law dealing with global security challenges and offers authoritative guidance on key trends and debates around the relationship between public international law and global security governance This Handbook highlights the central role of public international law in an effective global security architecture and in doing so addresses some of the most pressing legal and policy challenges of our time The Handbook features original contributions by leading scholars and practitioners from a wide range of professional and disciplinary backgrounds reflecting the fluidity of the concept of global security and the diversity of scholarship in this area Addressing Emerging Security Risks for Energy Networks in South Caucasus J. Novogrockiene,E.

Siaulyte,2017-07-20 A stable and reliable energy supply is of critical importance and enhances resilience against political and economic pressures As was noted during the NATO Warsaw Summit in 2016 energy developments could have significant political and security implications for the alliance and its allies as demonstrated by the crises to NATO s east and south This book presents papers from the NATO Advanced Research Workshop Addressing Emerging Security Risks for Energy Flows over South Caucasus which took place in Tbilisi Georgia in December 2016 The workshop brought together academics specializing in energy security practitioners dealing with energy infrastructure safety and critical energy projects NATO and EU experts and representatives from industry civil society and governmental agencies The workshop consisted of six major panels which addressed numerous issues and emphasised the importance of the energy transit function of Georgia and the South Caucasus It reviewed existing and future energy transit projects and potential flows of oil and power and debated areas of common interest and forms of cooperation between consumers producers and transit states New security challenges raised by the increased threat of terrorist activities and potential military actions were also analyzed Potential forms of cooperation to provide adequate strategic and tactical safeguards against emerging threats were identified by the participants and the book will be of interest to all those concerned with the security of our energy supplies Global Challenges in Maritime Security Lisa Otto,Anja Menzel,2024-10-22 Achieving sustainability is perhaps the single most important task for our generation In the face of a looming climate disaster calls for the sustainable use of the world s resources are getting louder As the sea covers more than 70 per cent of the earth s surface this holds even more true for the use of ocean resources Despite its vastness the sea has often been a securitised and politicised space where the concepts of sustainability and security meet at sea in the form of a myriad of important contemporary issues In this volume we set out the intersection between sustainability and security alongside the security development nexus and examine these issues under four dimensions of security economic security ecological security human security and traditional security Within sections dedicated to each of these we explore both theory and practice by offering cases alongside a conceptual discussion and in so doing cover topics ranging from the Blue Economy and the net zero agenda to natural disasters and climate change from food security and the future of Small Island Developing States to the geopolitics of the Arctic This book takes a bird s eye view connecting the dots between these issues of security and sustainability and ending with scenarios for the future with policy making in mind This volume presents a timely and compelling argument that policymakers and scholars need to come to terms with the intersection of sustainability and security at sea The editors detail a clear and insightful conceptual approach for grasping the simultaneity and interplay of security and sustainability concerns that will give inspiration to further research in the field Chapter contributors convincingly illustrate aspects of this approach across regions scales and sites of political engagement from port cities to the UN A must read for students researchers and practitioners of ocean politics Elana Wilson Rowe Research Professor at the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs NUPI Too often issues of security and sustainability at sea have been studied in narrow terms This volume makes a critical contribution the literature by unpacking the interconnections and interdependence between these two vitally important issues Robert McCabe Assistant Professor and Director of the MA Maritime Security Programme at Coventry University In this timely publication an international set of contributors portray a rich array of views on the oceans security and sustainability for the reader Of particular value is how the security sustainability nexus runs through the chapters to emphasise the ever growing importance and relevance of this interplay Francois Vre Professor Emeritus of Military Science and Research Coordinator at the Security Institute for Governance and Leadership in Africa SIGLA Stellenbosch University

Maritime Security Cooperation in the Gulf of Guinea Kamal-Deen Ali, 2015-07-28 In Maritime Security Cooperation in the Guinea Prospects and Challenges Kamal Deen Ali provides ground breaking analyses of the maritime security situation in the Gulf of Guinea and its implications for shipping energy security sustainable fisheries as well as national and regional security The book juxtaposes the growing strategic importance of the Gulf of Guinea against the rising insecurity in the maritime domain especially from piracy Ali points out key gaps in prevailing regional and international approaches to maritime security cooperation in the Gulf of Guinea and sets out several suggestions for combating piracy as well as other maritime security threats while effectively enhancing maritime security cooperation in the region

Arbitration Concerning the South China Sea Shicun Wu, Keyuan Zou, 2016-03-02 On 22 January 2013 the Republic of the Philippines instituted arbitral proceedings against the People s Republic of China PRC under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS with regard to disputes between the two countries in the South China Sea The South China Sea Arbitration is a landmark case in international law because of the parties involved the legal questions to be decided and the absence of one of the parties As revealed in its official statements the PRC will neither accept nor participate in this arbitration nor present written and oral arguments in the tribunal room Such default of appearance makes applicable certain procedural rules According to Article 9 of Annex VII the Tribunal before making its Award is obligated to satisfy itself not only that it has jurisdiction over the dispute but also that the claims brought by the Philippines are well founded in fact and law Therefore it is necessary for the Tribunal to look into all the claims brought forward by the Philippines and all the disputes constituted by the claims in the procedural phase The possible arguments the PRC could make should be explored during this process This book brings together chapters selected from well established scholars in Asia Europe and North America addressing the issues arising from the South China Sea Arbitration It contains five easy to read parts origin and development of the South China Sea dispute the jurisdiction and admissibility of the case international adjudication and dispute settlement legal issues arising from the case such as the legal status of the U shaped line and islands rocks and low tide elevations and the Arbitration case and its impact on regional maritime security
