Turkey Sibel Bozdoğan, Esra Akcan, 2013-02-15 Turkey Modern Architectures in History offers a journey through the iconic buildings of Turkey that begins with the end of World War I when the new Turkish Republic was born out of the disintegration of the Ottoman Empire includes its democratization in the midst of the Cold War's competing ideologies and concludes with the present day in which Turkey continues to be dramatically transformed through globalization economic integration and a renewed appreciation for its Islamic and Ottoman heritage Sibel Bozdoğan and Esra Akcan explore modern institutional masterpieces and architect designed buildings through the decades Their focus includes informal residential plans and they discuss how these have evolved from small settlements to colossal urban quarters that exist at a slippery threshold of legality This richly informative history of Turkey's built environment goes beyond typical surveys of Western modern architecture and is unique in tackling the issue of the modern and contemporary periods that are often omitted in studies of Islamic art and architecture Offering a perceptive overview of modern Turkish architecture this book places it within the larger social political and cultural context of the country's development as a modern nation in the twentieth century      Mid-Century Modernism in Turkey Meltem Ö Gürel, 2018-02-05 Mid Century Modernism in Turkey studies the unfolding of modern architecture in Turkey during the 1950s and 1960s The book brings together scholars who have carried out extensive research on post WWII modernism in a global context The authors situate Turkish architectural case studies within an international framework during this period providing a close reading of how architectural culture responded to ubiquitous post war ideas and ideals and how it became intertwined with politics of modernization and urbanization This book contributes to contemporary scholarship to reconsider post war architecture beyond canonical explanations      Travel, Space, Architecture Miodrag Mitrasinovic, 2016-02-17 Travel Space Architecture defines a new theoretical territory in architectural and urban scholarship that frames the processes of spatial production through the notion of travel By aligning architectural thinking with current critical theory debates this book explores whether dissociating culture from place and identity and detaching the idea of architecture from both can reframe our understanding of spatial and architectural practices The book presents seventeen key case studies from a diverse range of perspectives including historical theoretical and praxis based and range from interrogations of architectural travel and notions of belonging and nationhood to challenging established geopolitical hierarchies      Turkey's Engagement with Modernity C. between religion state and society continue unabated      The Cambridge History of Turkey Kate Fleet, Suraiya Faroqhi, Reşat Kasaba, 2006 Publisher Description      Imagining the Turkish House Carel Bertram, 2013-05-01 Houses can become poetic expressions of longing for a lost past voices of a lived present and dreams of an ideal future Carel Bertram discovered this truth when she went to Turkey in the 1990s and began asking people about their memories of the Turkish house The fondness and nostalgia with which people recalled the distinctive wooden houses that were once ubiquitous throughout the Ottoman Empire made her realize that the Turkish house carries rich symbolic meaning In this delightfully readable book Bertram considers representations of the Turkish house in literature art and architecture to understand why the idea of the house has become such a potent signifier of Turkish identity Bertram s exploration of the Turkish house shows how this feature of Ottoman culture took on symbolic meaning in the Turkish imagination as Turkey became more Westernized and secular in the early decades of the twentieth century She shows how artists writers and architects all drew on the memory of the Turkish house as a space where changing notions of spirituality modernity and identity as well as the social roles of women and the family could be approached contested revised or embraced during this period of tumultuous change
