Seductive Illusion:

Seductive Illusion Joanne Bremer, 1984 Real Deceptions Jennifer Friedlander, 2017 Real Deceptions develops a new theory of realism through close consideration of myriad contemporary art media and cultural practices. Rather than focusing on transgressing deceptions which distort reality, the book argues that reality lies within the deceptions themselves. That is to say, realism's political potential emerges not by revealing deception but precisely by staging deceptions, particularly deceptions that imperil the very categories of true and false. In lieu of perceiving deception as an obstacle to truth, it shows how deception functions as the truth's necessary conduit. Categories invoked in realist works such as trompe l'oeil, illusion, hypervirtuality, and simulation help to establish how realism can be seen as moving from the creation of mere epistemological uncertainty to radical ontologically based indeterminacy. The book cultivates this schema by considering productive connections between insights from Jacques Lacan and Jacques Rancière. Real Deceptions not only applies these theoretical frameworks to art and media examples but also engages in the reverse move of using the cases to further the theories. This dual approach points to the ways in which efforts to produce realist representations often give rise to the destabilizing Real.

The Forest of Illusions Chinmoy Mukherjee, 2025-07-18 There is a forest that breathes. A place where sunlight filters down not as gold but as a hazy liquid amber and the air hangs thick with the scent of damp earth and a jasmine so sweet it feels like a memory. Here the veil between mind and matter is worn thin, almost to a shimmer. This is the Forest of Illusions, sprung not from soil and seed but from the deep meditative vision of Valmiki. Its branches twist into shapes of longing, and its phosphorescent moss pulses with a soft emerald light. Listen closely and you can hear the leaves whispering, not with the wind but with the echoes of your own unspoken fears. To walk its paths is to feel the forest notice you, reshaping itself around the contours of your soul and summoning phantoms of desire, doubt, and pride drawn from the marrow of your memories.
