Carver, Sung-Sheng Yvonne Chang, 1993-01-01 A short story collection hailed as a welcome and valuable addition to our growing knowledge about the inner lives and literary talents of Chinese women Amy Ling author of Between Worlds Women Writers of Chinese Ancestry This remarkable anthology introduces the short fiction of fourteen writers major figures in the literary movements of three generations who represent a range of class ethnic and political perspectives It is filled with unexpected gems such as Lin Hai yin s story of a woman suffering under the feudal system of Old China and Chiang Hsiao yun s optimistic solutions to problems of the elderly in rapidly changing 1980s Taiwan And in between a dozen rich stories of aristocrats comrades wives concubines children mothers sexuality female initiation rape and the tensions between traditional and modern life This is not western feminism with an Asian accent says Bloomsbury Review but a description of one culture s reality The woman protagonists survive both despite and because of their existence in a changing Taiwan Critical Ecofeminism Greta Gaard, 2017-06-16 Australian feminist philosopher Val Plumwood coined the term critical ecofeminism to situate humans in ecological terms and non humans in ethical terms for the two tasks are interconnected and cannot be addressed properly in isolation from each other Various using the terms critical ecological feminism critical anti dualist ecological feminism and critical ecofeminism Plumwood s work developed amid a range of perspectives describing feminist intersections with ecopolitical issues i e toxic production and toxic wastes indigenous sovereignty global economic justice species justice colonialism and dominant masculinity Well over a decade before the emergence of posthumanist theory and the new materialisms Plumwood s critical ecofeminist framework articulates an implicit posthumanism and respect for the animacy of all earthothers exposing the linkages among diverse forms of oppression and providing a theoretical basis for further activist coalitions and interdisciplinary scholarship Had Plumwood lived another ten years she might have described her work as Anthropocene Ecofeminism Critical Material Ecofeminism Posthumanist Anticolonial Ecofeminism all of these inflections are present in her work Here Critical Ecofeminism advances upon Plumwood s intellectual activist and scholarly work by exploring its implications for a range of contemporary perspectives and issues critical animal studies plant studies sustainability studies environmental justice climate change and climate justice masculinities and sexualities With the insights available through a critical ecofeminism these diverse eco justice perspectives become more robust Managing Development Kathleen Staudt, 1991-04-01 The text is illustrated with many development cases hypothetical situations examples and role playing exercises The book is well researched and well written It will be useful to students and teachers of development administration RISA Staudt s very readable text is peppered with numerous illustrative examples from throughout the world including the United States and other developed countries that bring potentially esoteric issues to life. Also included are brief case studies, role playing exercises and staggered assignments for individual projects that can be used by imaginative instructors to promote hands on involvement. An appendix lists other useful sources for case materials and the book contains numerous valuable references to the recent literature on development. Gregory D Schmidt, Northern Illinois University. This book offers interesting features at both the pedagogical and analytical levels. The author's interdisciplinary approach as well as her macro and micro perspectives give valuable insight into the highly complex world of the management of development. International Review of Administrative Sciences. This is a superb text, one that will be required reading by all scholars in the field of development. It is particularly important for its contribution to recent scholarship and its use of new innovative approaches to development. This book is a breath of fresh air in a field full of platitudes and old ideas. It will improve both thinking and teaching about development management. Jane L Parpart, Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia, Canada. Long overdue. This text is not only gender sensitive but interdisciplinary, theoretically grounded, policy relevant and best of all interesting to read. Sue Ellen Charlton, Colorado State University. While theoretically aware and non-aligned to any official agency, Staudt's approach to development management is essentially practical and pragmatic. Her concern for grassroots participation is combined with a full appreciation of the significance of national and international levels of decision making and implementation and of the roles of both governmental and non-governmental organizations. In a style that is both direct and clear, she informs but does not prescribe about the contexts, the techniques, the institutions and the sectors in which and with which management operates, providing in the process a variety of challenging and realistic case studies. She also succeeds admirably in integrating gender as a matter of common sense into the mainstream of international development management concerns. David Hirschmann, The American University, Washington D C. This text provides a brilliant juxtaposition of interrelated but hitherto isolated fields in the complex and controversial political economy of development. The author brings unique, timely insights and formats to bear, especially from indigenous Third World activists, authors and scholars as well as practitioners. She bridges the local and global, the political and the technical. Her book is particularly welcome at the start of the 1990s as a truly radical departure from the diversions and disappointments of orthodox development administration and structural adjustment. Hopefully public policy will not be the same once this text is distributed, digested and debated. Timothy W Shaw, Dalhousie University, Nova Scotia, Canada. Staudt presents a multifaceted comprehensive analysis with illustrative examples drawn from a wide range of countries, a worthwhile contribution to recent literature reporting on and assessing the record of governmentally sponsored developmental efforts with a focus on issues of management and administration. Woven throughout the text are commendable references to persistent deficiencies such as the dearth of participation by women in development activities and the frequency of a feeling of alienation and distance between institutional staff members and the people they should be serving. Another praiseworthy feature is inclusion of many teaching aids such as cases role playing sessions and staggered assignments related to the preparation of individual projects outstanding source for bibliographical information about recent literature on development Public Administration Review A useful book for those involved in development work it moves beyond politics and policy making into organization for action and studies political relationships between people their organizations and the state in development projects Case studies examples and role play exercises are used to build analytic skills Intermediate Technology Bookshop The complexities facing development managers are vast The enormous challenges to understanding the breadth and depth of development transformation are apparent in each level of this process and demand attention Answering the need for a comprehensive introductory resource is Managing Development This fresh perspective on development management analyzes both international and national development agencies and shows the widely differing cultural contexts in which to plan manage and evaluate development programs Stressing political context and process throughout the focus nevertheless in Managing Development is on bureaucratic politics and political relationships between people their organizations and the state in development programs and projects The chapters examine development programs in agriculture and health particularly reproductive health and provide hypothetical situations examples and roleplay exercises A well integrated treatment of development teaching learning and applications this volume shows that much can be learned from the analysis of both successful and unsuccessful development programs Managing Development is the essential resource for courses in development studies political science comparative politics urban studies and policy studies as well as for planners and researchers in development management Homeworkers in Global Perspective Eileen Boris, Lisa Prugl, 2016-01-28 Homeworkers in Global Perspective documents the lives of homeworkers exploring state policies towards them and describing the innovative ways in which homeworkers organize Moving away from well known already explored cases the essays focus on less known but equally compelling examples organize and covers the major geographic regions of the world and illustrates the diversity of home based work and homeworker organizing How I Wrote Jubilee and Other Essays on Life and Literature Margaret Walker, 1990 This first comprehensive collection of Margaret Walker s autobiographical and literary essays has been acclaimed as a powerful social history and as a serious study of black American literature Kirkus Review In the title essay Walker recounts the search for family and social history from which she wrote her carefully researched novel of the Civil War The autobiographical essays reflect on her work and her life as an artist as African American and a woman while the literary essays examine the writings of such giants as Richard Wright W E B DuBois Phyllis Wheatley Georgia Douglas Johnson and others Spanning a half century 1943 to 1988 these brilliant intimate writings capture the flavor of the times and powerfully convey the social and literary thoughts that distinguishes Walker as one of the intellectual beacons of her generation Booklist The Daughters of Danaus Mona Caird, 1989 Follows the lives of two sisters in a wealthy Scots family One escapes to a profession in London and eventually a decent marriage while the heroine Hadria
