Seeing Children Seeing God A Practical Theology Of Children And Poverty

Mary M. Doyle Roche

Seeing Children Seeing God A Practical Theology Of Children And Poverty:

Seeing Children, Seeing God Pamela D. Couture, 2000 In Seeing Children Seeing God Pamela Couture explores the actual and potential relation of the church and the theological school to economically and socially relationally poor children. She argues that the solution to the problem of child poverty requires the shared responsibility of individuals, families, neighborhoods, congregations, governments, businesses, and international organizations because children develop within these multiple systems. With their unique access to these multiple systems, churches and theological schools are in a wonderful position to transform the social ecology within which children develop and to assist in children's flourishing. Concretely, what would it mean for the caring ministries of the church and those who teach and learn about them in seminary to make the issue of children and poverty central to what we do? How would this change the way we live? Pamela Couture argues from a Wesleyan perspective that caring for poor children is a means of grace, a grace that deepens our experience as the adopted children of God. She draws explicitly on recent writings that have updated the Wesleyan theological tradition. Seeing Children Seeing God will be of particular interest to everyone who is concerned about children and poverty, especially from a Wesleyan perspective. Key Features: Brief and accessible. Offers a constructive, theologically sound response to the problem of children and poverty. Recognizes and shares responsibility for solutions across society but especially with the church and the seminary. Key Benefits: Readers will understand the dynamics and extent of the problem of children living in poverty today. Readers will understand ways in which theology has undergirded efforts to deal with this problem in the past. Readers will understand and identify with the specifically Christian imperative to respond to this problem. Readers will understand how various groups can contribute to a concerted effort to deal with the problem. Readers will understand how the church has failed to deal with this problem in the past.

Children, Consumerism, and the Common Good Mary M. Doyle Roche, 2009-09-17 Children, Consumerism, and the Common Good explores the impact of consumer culture on the lives of children in the United States and globally, focusing on two phenomena: advertising to children and child labor. Christian communities have a critical role to play in securing the well-being of children and challenging the cultural trends.

that undermine that well being Themes in the tradition of Catholic social teaching can move us beyond the tensions between children s rights activists and those who propose a return to family values and can inform practices of resistance participation and transformation Roche argues that children are full interdependent members of the communities of which they are a part They have a claim on the fruits of our common life and are called to participate in that life according to their age and ability The principle of the common good forms the benchmark for analyzing children s participation in the market and the ways in which market logic shapes other institutions of civil society particularly educational institutions The Cristo Rey Network of schools is highlighted as an example of institutional transformation which shapes children s participation in education and the economic life of their families and communities in a spirit of solidarity Children, Youth, and Spirituality in a Troubling World, 2012-11 Editors Mary Elizabeth Moore and Almeda M Wright address the harsh challenging and delicate realities of children and youth who live as spiritual beings within a beautiful yet destructive world Providing a practical theological analysis of the spiritual yearnings expressions and challenges of children and youth in a world of rapid change dislocation violence and competing loyalties Children Youth and Spirituality in a Troubling World provides readers with a purposeful conversation on this important topic This book will serve as more than a collection it will be a genuine conversation which will in turn stir lively conversation among scholars theological students and Christian communities that seek to understand and respond more adequately in ministries to and with children and youth Contributors include Claire Bischoff Susanne Johnson Jennie S Knight Bonnie Miller McLemore Mary Elizabeth Moore Joyce Ann Mercer Veronice Miles Rodger Nishioka Evelyn Parker Luther E Smith Jr Joshua Thomas Katherine Turpin David White Almeda Wright and Karen Marie Yust Opening the Field of Practical Theology Kathleen A. Hermeneutics and Empirical Research in Practical Theology Chris Hermans, Mary Moore, 2021-09-20 There is a growing consensus among scholars in different countries about the object of practical theology Hans van der Ven has contributed much to this consensus through his writings on the foundations of practical theology the empirical paradigm within practical theology and specific subdisciplines within practical theology especially religious education moral education church development and ministry At the center of this growing consensus is an understanding of the independent hermeneutical role of religious experiences and practices of people in the process of theological theory building If contemporary religious experiences and practices have a critical role with regard to religious tradition and the ministry of this tradition then practical theology cannot just be a form of applied theology The contributors of this volume focus on this hermeneutical core foundations of practical theology and on empirical research as a research method within practical theology in the work of Van der Ven

Render Unto God James Newton Poling, 2012-03-01 What marks principles and values from our study of Jesus can guide our reflections about the church and its witness in a world of economic injustice What kinds of principles ought to be part of an ecclesiology in a world where family violence is epidemic So asks author James Poling in his exploration of the role of faith and religious practice as a resource for those who are economically vulnerable to domestic violence In this groundbreaking work Poling focuses his research on women and children in working class and poor communities of three cultures analyzing the forces that define and sustain economic vulnerability and detailing how such vulnerability affects the daily lives of people within these communities He looks at how the church can function as a source of healing and empowerment for persons who are trapped by domestic violence and economic vulnerability and develops models for prevention of violence and of practical ministry for pastoral care of the victims and perpetrators Little Theologians David M. Csinos, 2020-11-18 Children don't just learn theology They actively create it playing with ideas and drawing together aspects of their own lives to form theological understanding David Csinos offers a groundbreaking exploration of how cultural contexts intersect with the theological meaning making of children Welcoming Children Joyce Ann Mercer, 2005-11-01 This book develops a theology of childhood both from a theoretical basis in biblical theology especially the gospel of Mark and practical experience in children and youth ministry Mercer builds on classical theologians such as Augustine Calvin Barth and Rahner as well as modern feminist theologians such as Brock and Russell She gains insights from pastoral theologians such as Capps and Couture and from contemporary cultural criticism Mercer challenges approaches to educational and liturgical practices with children in congregations that segregate children from the rest of the church and its key practices of service mission worship care and learning She reframes ministries with children as processes through which the church as a community of practice forms children into an alternative identity that resists surrounding consumerist culture and walks in the ways of Jesus This book offers strategies for educational practices with children in congregations as it seeks to address the question What might educational practices that welcome children and contribute to their flourishing look like in the context of a faith community where children's learning happens in collaboration with experienced practitioners of faith Outlining a feminist practical theology of childhood it explores five basic theological claims 1 children as gifts and parenting as a religious practice of stewardship 2 welcoming those who welcome and care for children 3 children as already fully human 4 children as part of the purposes of God and 5 acknowledging and transforming the sufferings of children Powers, inequalities and vulnerabilities Johannes J. Knoetze, Valentin Kozhuharov, 2020-12-31 This research addresses the gap that is present in both missiology and family and youth ministry Missiology does not focus on children and youth specifically while this is the largest population in the developing world On the other hand family and youth ministry has a more pastoral than missional approach not always taking cognisance of contexts like globalisation Thus the purpose of the book is to address the sometimes unintended and unnoticed influence of globalisation on the mission of the church with a specific focus on children youth and family For this purpose the International Association for Mission Studies study group for children youth and families coming from different parts of the world decided to describe the powers inequalities and vulnerabilities of children youth and families in a globalised world from their specific contexts Although the most prominent research methodology was critical literature studies methods like autoethnographic and empirical methods were also used No decisions were made on a specific method of research for this publication This publication can be viewed as an interdisciplinary and intra disciplinary because it deals with social sciences anthropology psychology missiology systematic theology and practical theology The Equal-Regard Family and Its Friendly Critics John Witte, M.
