Craigslist Confessional Helena Dea Bala,2020-07-07 Touching The New York Times For fans of Humans of New York and PostSecret a collection of raw urgent and heartfelt stories shared anonymously Helena Dea Bala was an exhausted and isolated DC lobbyist suffocating under the weight of her student loan debt when she decided to split her lunch with a man who often panhandled near her office They chatted effortlessly as they ate there were no half truths or white lies and no fear of judgment Helena felt connected and unburdened in a way she hadn't in years Inspired she posted an ad on Craigslist

promising to listen anonymously and for free to whatever the speaker felt he or she couldn't tell anyone else. Emails from people desperate to connect flooded her inbox and she listened. Within months Helena quit her job, deferred her loans, and dove into listening full time. The forty-first person confessions in this book are vivid, intimate, and real; they range from devastating traumas to lost loves to reflections on hard choices. Some accounts are quotidian like that of one increasingly estranged husband. I want to feel that we're not just roommates, that we're not just waiting for the kids to grow up so that we can move on. Others are deeply disconcerting like that of a sex addict employed by a religious organization, and several are heartening like that of a mother who dares to hope that her daughter, born with life-threatening heart defects, will one day walk down the aisle. Sometimes you need to have the audacity to believe that it will all be okay, that it is okay to have the same kinds of dreams as everyone else. In its complex portrayal of the common human experience, Craig's List Confessional challenges us to explore the depths of our vulnerability and expand the borders of our empathy.

Swole Michael Andor Brodeur, 2024-05-28 From a Washington Post critic and self-described meathead, a witty, incisive, poignant exploration of male body image from the history of the gym to the politics of superheroes to the world of manfluencers. Michael Andor Brodeur is a Gen X gay writer with a passion for bodybuilding and an insatiable curiosity about masculinity, a concept in which many men are currently struggling to find their place. In our current moment, where manfluencers on TikTok tease their audiences with their latest videos, where right-wing men espouse the importance of being alpha, as toxic masculinity and the patriarchy are being rightfully criticized, the nature of masculinity has become murkier than ever. In excavating this complex topic, Brodeur uses the male body as his guide, its role in cultures from the gymnasias of ancient Greece to Walt Whitman's essays on manly health, from the rise of Muscular Christianity in 19th-century America to the swollen superheroes and Arnold Schwarzeneggers of Brodeur's childhood. Interweaving history, cultural criticism, memoir, and reportage, laced with an irrepressible wit, Brodeur takes us into the unique culture centered around men's bodies, probing its limitations and the promise beyond: how men can love themselves while rejecting the aggression, objectification, and misogyny that have for so long accompanied the quest to become swole.
