Making And Managing High Quality Workplaces An Organizational Ecology:

Making and Managing High-quality Workplaces Fritz Steele, 1986-01-01 International Handbook of Organizational Teamwork and Cooperative Working Michael A. West, Dean Tjosvold, Ken G. Smith, 2008-05-27 In today's fast changing hyper competitive environment teamwork and cooperative working enhance the organisation's adaptive capability. The team rather than the individual is increasingly seen as the building block of organisations and a key source of competitive advantage. The International Handbook of Organisational Teamwork and Cooperative Working provides a clear focus on the psychological and social processes that can stimulate successful cooperation and teamwork. Michael West, Dean Tjosvold and Ken Smith have brought together the world's leading authorities from a range of social science disciplines to provide a contemporary review of established and emerging perspectives. Throughout the book processes that both facilitate and obstruct successful cooperation and teamwork are detailed alongside guidance on best practice and methodology. The challenging and alternative perspectives presented will inform future research and practice. The result is a systematic and comprehensive synthesis of knowledge from a range of disciplines that will prove invaluable to professionals, researchers and students alike. A systematic and coherent framework which organizes and structures the knowledge in this field. An outstanding collection of authoritative high profile authors. Challenging alternative perspectives that will stimulate and enlighten future research and practice. Selective updated bibliographies of key literatures support every chapter, a valuable resource for students, trainers and practitioners.

Workspace Strategies Jacqueline C. Vischer, 2012-12-06 We live in an era of transformation of technology, social values and of the way work is done. This book represents a timely and innovative addition to current thinking and writing about transformation in organizations. In order to meet an increasingly global and competitive environment, organizations are undergoing reengineering, work process redesign, right sizing, creating a virtual office and other forms of restructuring and basic change of the way work is accomplished. Such transformation means analyzing and redesigning core processes in organizations around new kinds of principles such as total quality and customer service. The eventual effect of these changes is likely to be the networked or boundary-less organization in which the traditional boundaries between functions and between producers and their suppliers and sometimes even between organizations and their competitors are broken down. The goal of such transformation is to make the work of the organization more efficient and productive, to produce more with fewer resources and at a lower cost. In the conventional view of the transformation process, certain secondary concerns such as the need to protect the environment or to help an increasingly heterogeneous work force deal with its personal issues are seen as problematic for this core thrust. Some recent work, however, is beginning to show that if these so-called secondary concerns are considered central, far from being problematic, they actually present strategic opportunities for productive innovation and change.

The Essentials of Teamworking Michael A. West, Dean Tjosvold, Ken G. Smith, 2005-08-05 The team rather than the individual is increasingly seen as the building block of organizations and a key source of competitive advantage Despite this not enough is understood about how to build successful teams in modern organizations The Essentials of Teamworking broadens this understanding by offering a selection of key chapters on teamwork from the International Handbook of Organizational Teamwork and Cooperative Working This concise paperback edition reveals the complexity of teamwork and offers empirically based guidance on how teamwork can be effectively developed in modern organizations Bringing together leading international scholars The Essentials of Teamworking offers challenging perspectives on teamwork that will inform future research and practice It is an invaluable resource for professionals researchers and students alike Healthy Work Namir Khan,Nina Nakajima,Willem H.

Facilities Change Management Edward Finch,2011-11-14 Modern organisations are subject to continual change technologies evolve organisational structures are modified people and underlying cultures are transformed Yet the facilities that organisations occupy are static and can impede the changes that are essential to organisational survival The response to change in terms of property and support services is often too little too late leading to facilities that do not support organisational reality The facilities management team is thus constantly challenged to bridge the gap between what an organisation has and what it needs Facilities Change Management is a practical evaluation of the management of change for facilities managers and related professions It considers the forces of change affecting facilities decisions the obstacles to change at a resource level and human level the effective implementation of change the human aspect of change Each of these is considered in relation to modern facilities management issues The discussion will enable practising facilities managers project managers surveyors service providers and architects to understand engage with and manage facilities change effectively at a strategic level Through real life case studies it demonstrates the complexities of change and hidden elements of change that may undermine carefully planned projects Design Economics for the Built Environment Herbert Robinson,Barry Symonds,Barry project evaluation The aim is to provide a new approach to understanding design economics in the context of the changing policy environment legislative and regulatory framework and increasing economic environmental and social pressure as result of the sustainability agenda The book follows a structured approach from theories and principles in the earlier chapters to the practical applications and emerging techniques focusing on value and social economic and environmental considerations in making design decisions It starts with the policy context building on various theories and principles such as capital cost value of design and resource based theories the new rules of measurement NRM to explore cost planning the relationship between height and costs key socio economic and environmental variables for design appraisal eco cost value ratio EVR whole life theory and the treatment of carbon emission as external costs productivity and efficiency fiscal drivers and legal framework for carbon reduction procurement and allocation of risks in contracts Case studies practical examples and frameworks throughout reinforce theories and principles and relate them to current practice The book is essential reading for postgraduate students in architecture building and quantity surveying and is also a valuable resource for academics consultants and policy makers in the built environment
