New Documentary A Critical Introduction:

New Documentary Stella Bruzzi, 2000 Bruzzi relates contemporary cinema to the documentary tradition exploring questions of authorship spectatorship and truth in the context of issues of race gender and performance New Documentary Stella Bruzzi, 2006-09-27 Praise for New Documentary It's refreshing to find a book that cuts through the tired old debates that have surrounded documentary film and television It heralds a welcome new approach Sight and Sound Documentary practice changes so fast that books on the subject are often out of date before they are published Bruzzi's achievement is to have understood the genre as an activity based on performance rather than observation This is a fresh perspective which illuminates the fundamental shifts that will continue to take place in the genre as it enters its second century John Ellis Professor of Media Arts Royal Holloway University of London New Documentary provides a contemporary look at documentary and fresh and challenging ways of theorising the non fiction film As engaging as the original this second edition features thorough updates to the existing chapters as well as a brand new chapter on contemporary cinema release documentaries This new edition includes Contemporary films such as Capturing the Friedmans tre et avoir Fahrenheit 9 11 The Fog of War and Touching the Void as well as more canonical texts such as Hoop Dreams and Shoah Additional interviews with influential practitioners such as director Michael Apted and producer Stephen Lambert A comprehensively revised discussion of modern observational documentary including docusoaps reality television and formatted documentaries The work of documentary filmmakers such as Nicholas Barker Errol Morris Nick Broomfield Molly Dineen and Michael Moore and the work of Avant Garde filmmakers such as Chris Marker and Patrick Keiller Gender identity queer theory performance race and spectatorship Bruzzi shows how theories of documentary filmmaking can be applied to contemporary texts and genres and discusses the relationship between recent innovative examples of the genre and the more established canon of documentary Reality TV Anita Biressi, Heather Nunn, 2005 Through detailed case studies this book breaks new ground by linking together two major themes the production of realism and its relationship to revelation It addresses truth telling confession and the production of knowledges about the self and its place in the world BOOKJACKET Documentary's Awkward Turn Jason Middleton, 2013-12-04 Despite the prominence of awkwardness as cultural buzzword and descriptor of a sub genre of contemporary film and television comedy it has yet to be adequately theorized in academic film and media studies Documentary's Awkward Turn contributes a new critical paradigm to the field by presenting an analysis of awkward moments in documentary film and other reality based media formats It examines difficult and disrupted encounters between social actors on the screen between filmmaker and subject and between film and spectator These encounters are of course often inter connected Awkward moments occur when an established mode of representation or reception is unexpectedly challenged stalled or altered when an interviewee suddenly confronts the interviewer when a subject who had been comfortable on camera begins to feel trapped in the frame when a film perceived as a documentary turns out to be a parodic

mockumentary This book makes visible the ways in which awkwardness connects and subtends a range of transformative textual strategies political and ethical problematics and modalities of spectatorship in documentary film and media from the 1970s to the present

Philosophy and Film Christina

Rawls, Diana Neiva, Steven S. Gouveia, 2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film. It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy. The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including Noë Carroll, Chris Falzon, Deborah Knight, Paisley Livingston, Robert Sinnerbrink, Malcolm Turvey, and Thomas Wartenberg. While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse, there are a number of thematic threads that connect them. Overall, the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways. Moving to the individual essays, the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film. The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate. Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence, race, and film, and cinema's biopolitical potential. Finally, the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film. This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies, theory, and philosophy.

Telecinematic Stylistics Christian Hoffmann, Monika Kirner-Ludwig, 2020-05-14 Over the last two decades, the study of discourse in film and television has become one of the most promising research avenues in stylistics and pragmatics due to the dazzling variety of source material and the huge pragmatic range within it. Meanwhile, with the advent of streaming and the box set, film and television themselves are becoming separated by an increasingly blurred line. This volume closes a long-standing gap in stylistics research, bringing together a book-level pragmaty stylistic showcase. It presents current developments from the field from two complementary perspectives: looking stylistically at the discourse in film and the discourse of and around film. This latter phrase comes to mean the approaches which try to account for the pragmatic effects induced by cinematography. This might be the camera work or the lighting or the mise en scène or montage. The volume takes a multimodal approach, looking at word, movement, and gesture in keeping with modern stylistics. The volume shows how pragmatic themes and methods are adapted and applied to films, including speech acts, im/politeness, implicature, and context. In this way, it provides systematic insights into how meanings are displayed, enhanced, suppressed, and negotiated in both film and televisual arts.

Dialogues between Media Paul Ferstl, 2021-01-18 Comparative Literature is changing fast with methodologies, topics, and research interests emerging and reemerging. The fifth volume of ICLA 2016 proceedings, Dialogues between Media, focuses on the current interest in inter-arts studies as well as papers on comics studies, further testimony to the fact that comics have truly arrived in mainstream academic discourse. Adaptation is a key term for the studies presented in this volume; various articles discuss the adaptation of literary source texts in different target media: cinematic versions, comics adaptations, TV series, theatre, and opera. Essays on the interplay of media beyond adaptation further show many of the strands that are woven into dialogues between media and thus the expanding range of comparative literature.
