Jenny Carlyon, Diana Morrow

New Dreamland Writing Nz Architect:

New Dreamland Douglas Lloyd-Jenkins, 2005-01-01 Douglas Lloyd Jenkins brings together in one volume a selection of key essays 28 in total that have shaped 20th century New Zealand architecture and architectural thinking The essays have traditionally appeared in journals and magazines but with an increasing popular and scholarly interest in NZ architectural history particularly as it pertains to the 20th century there is considerable renewed interest in these difficult to locate works Each decade is well represented particularly the 1940s and 1950s with the influences of the Central European refugees such as Plischke Porsolt Kulka and Cacala and the renowned Group Architects and the 1970s with the innovative philosophies of Peter Beaven Miles Warren Chris Brooke White and David Mitchell both in the areas of residential and commercial architecture

Architecture and Urbanism in the British Empire G. A. Bremner, 2016-10-13 Throughout today's postcolonial world buildings monuments parks streets avenues entire cities even remain as witness to Britain's once impressive if troubled imperial past These structures are a conspicuous and near inescapable reminder of that past and therefore the built heritage of Britain's former colonial empire is a fundamental part of how we negotiate our postcolonial identities often lying at the heart of social tension and debate over how that identity is best represented This volume provides an overview of the architectural and urban transformations that took place across the British Empire between the seventeenth and mid twentieth centuries Although much research has been carried out on architecture and urban planning in Britain's empire in recent decades no single comprehensive reference source exists The essays compiled here remedy this deficiency With its extensive chronological and regional coverage by leading scholars in the field this volume will quickly become a seminal text for those who study teach and research the relationship between empire and the built environment in the British context It provides an up to date account of past and current historiographical approaches toward the study of British imperial and colonial architecture and urbanism and will prove equally useful to those who study architecture and urbanism in other European imperial and transnational contexts The volume is divided in two main sections The first section deals with overarching thematic issues including building typologies major genres and periods of activity networks of expertise and the transmission of ideas the intersection between planning and politics as well as the architectural impact of empire on Britain itself The second section builds on the first by discussing these themes in relation to specific geographical regions teasing out the variations and continuities observable in context both practical and theoretical

Changing Times Jenny Carlyon, Diana Morrow, 2014-02-01 From the golden weather of postwar economic growth through the globalization economic challenges and protest of the 1960s and 1970s to the free market revolution and new immigrants of the 1980s and 1990s and beyond this account the most complete and comprehensive history of New Zealand since 1945 illustrates the chronological and social history of the country with the engaging stories of real individuals and their experiences Leading historians Jennifer Carlyon and Diana Morrow discuss in great depth New Zealand's move toward nuclear free status its embrace of a small state free market ideology and the seeming rejection of its citizens of a society known for the worship of averages Stories of pirate radio in Auckland s Hauraki Gulf the first DC8 jets landing at Mangere airport feminists liberating pubs public protests over the closing of post offices and indigenous language nests vividly demonstrate how a postwar society famous around the world for its dull conformity became one of the most ethnically economically and socially diverse countries on earth Long Live the Modern Julia Gatley,2008 Long Live the Modern celebrates New Zealands heritage of modern architecture It is not a history of modern architecture in that country Rather it identifies 180 key modern buildings that survive and maintain their original design integrity The Writers Directory ,2004 A Reader's Guide to Contemporary Literature William Swan Sonnenschein,1895 The Best Books William Swan Sonnenschein,1895 The Best Books: a Readers Guide to the Choice of the Best Available Books (about 50.000)... William Swan Sonnenschein,1895 A Reader's Guide to the Choice of the Best Available Books (about 50,000) in Every Department of Science, Art & Literature, with the Dates of the First & Last Editions, & the Price, Size & Publisher's Name of Each Book William Swan Sonnenschein,1901 International Books in Print ,1997
