Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts Manifestations Of Aje In Africana Literatures:

Our Mothers, Our Powers, Our Texts Teresa N. Washington, 2005-06-27 Washington writes supple and thoughtful prose and creatively integrates African and African derived terminology which never distract the reader I consider Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts not only a brilliant study but also a model to be emulated Ouseyounou B Traore William Patterson University of Iowa is a Yoruba word that signifies a spiritual power of vast potential as well as the human beings who exercise that power Although both men and women can have Aje its owners and controllers are women the literal and cosmic Mothers who are revered as the gods of society Because of its association with female power its invisibility and profundity Aje is often misconstrued as witchcraft However as Teresa N Washington points out in Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts Aje is central to the Yoruba ethos and cosmology Not only does it underpin the concepts of creation and creativity but as a force of justice and retribution Aje is essential to social harmony and balance As Africans were forced into exile and enslavement they took Aje with them and continued its work of creating destroying harming and healing in the New World Washington seeks out Aje's subversive power of creation and re creation in a diverse range of Africana texts from both men and women from both oral and contemporary literature and across space and time She guides readers to an understanding of the symbolic methodological and spiritual issues that are central to important works by Africana writers but are rarely elucidated by Western criticism She begins with an examination of the ancient forms of Aje in Yoruba culture which creates a framework for innovative readings of important works by Africana writers including Zora Neale Hurston Toni Morrison Ben Okri Wole Soyinka Jamaica Kincaid and Ntozake Shange This rich analysis will appeal to readers of Africana literature African religion and philosophy feminist studies and comparative literature

Our Mothers, Our Powers, Our Texts Teresa N.

Washington, 2018-05-22 This is the revised and expanded edition of Teresa N Washington's groundbreaking book Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts Manifestations of Aje in Africana Literature Washington guides readers through rich analyses of complex and diverse manifestations of Aje that are central to important works by Africana writers

Our Mothers, Our Powers, Our Texts Teresa N. Washington, 2015-12-23 Blazes a new trail in Africana literary criticism by providing an insight into the soul and spirit of Africana womanhood Anthonia Kalu The Ohio State University author of Women Literature and Development in Africa This is the revised and expanded edition of Teresa N Washington's groundbreaking book Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts Manifestations of Aje in Africana Literature In Yoruba language and culture Aje signifies both a phenomenal spiritual power and the human beings who exercise that power Aje is the birthright of Africana women who are revered as the Gods of Society While Africana men can have Aje its owners and controllers are Africana women Because it is an African female power and due to its invisibility ubiquity and profundity Aje is often maligned as witchcraft However as Teresa N Washington reveals in Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts Aje is central to the Yoruba ethos worldview and cosmology Not only is it essential to human creation and artistic creativity but as a force of justice and retribution Aje is vital to social harmony and balance Washington analyzes forms figures and forces of Aje in the Yoruba world in the Caribbean Islands in Latin America and in African America Washington's research reveals that with the exile and enslavement of millions of Africans Aje became a global force and an essential ally in organizing insurrections soothing shattered souls and reminding the dispossessed of their inherent divinity From her in depth exploration of Aje in Pan African history and orature Washington guides readers through rich analyses of the symbolic methodological and spiritual manifestations of Aje that are central to important works by Africana writers but are rarely elucidated by Western criticism Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts includes innovative readings of works by many Africana writers including Zora Neale Hurston Toni Morrison Ben Okri Wole Soyinka Jamaica Kincaid and Ntozake Shange This revised and expanded edition of Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts will appeal to scholars of Africana literature African religion and philosophy gender studies and comparative literature Devotees of Africana spiritual systems will find this book to be indispensable Afrikan Wisdom Valerie Taken together the essays also demonstrate that black women writers from both sides of the Atlantic borrow formal structures and literary techniques from one another to describe the workings of structural racism in the daily lives of black subjects and to provoke readers to think anew about race. Narratology has only recently begun to use race as a category of narrative theory. This collection seeks both to show the ethical effects of narrative form on individual readers and to foster reconceptualizations of narrative theory that account for the workings of race within literature and culture.

African Religions Douglas Thomas, Temilola Alanamu, 2018-12-01 This book supplies fundamental information about the diverse religious beliefs of Africa, explains central tenets of the African worldview, and overviews various forms of African spiritual practices and experiences. Africa is an ancient land with a significant presence in world history, especially regarding the history of the United States, given the ethnic origins of a substantial proportion of the nation's population. This book presents a broad range of information about the diverse religious beliefs of Africa that serves to describe the beliefs, practices, deities, sacred places, and creation stories of African religions. Readers will learn about key forms of spiritual practices and experiences such as incantations and prayer, dance as worship, and spirit possession, all of which pepper African American religious experiences today. The entries also discuss central tenets of the African worldview, for example, the belief that humankind is not to fight nature but to integrate into the natural environment. This volume is specifically written to be highly accessible to students. It provides a much needed source of connections between the religious traditions and practices of African Americans and those of the people of the continent of Africa. Through these connections, this work will inspire tolerance of other religions, traditions, and backgrounds. The included selection of primary documents provides users first-hand accounts of African religious beliefs and practices, serving to promote critical thinking skills and support Common Core State Standards.

Toni Morrison Linda Wagner-Martin, 2022-02-08 A reading of the oeuvre of Toni Morrison, fiction, non-fiction, and other, drawing extensively from her many interviews as well as her primary texts. Toni Morrison: A Literary Life, second edition, provides an overview of Morrison's intellectual growth as an artist. Linda Wagner-Martin aligns Morrison's novels with the works of Virginia Woolf and William Faulkner, assessing her works as among the most innovative and most significant worldwide of the past fifty-plus years. The revised edition includes new discussion of God Help the Child, The Origin of Others, and The Source of Self-Regard. These additions present and intensify scholarship on Morrison's major literary contributions but also trace her significant role as a public intellectual bringing to light the consistency of Morrison's aesthetic and political visions.

Encyclopedia of Women in World Religions Susan de-Gaia, 2018-11-16 This reference offers reliable knowledge about women's diverse faith practices throughout history and prehistory and across cultures. Across the span of human history, women have participated in world building and life sustaining, cultural creativity, making enormous contributions to religion and spirituality. In the contemporary period, women have achieved greater equality with more educational opportunities, female role models in public life, and opportunities for religious expression than ever before.

Contemporaneously with this increased visibility women are actively and energetically engaging with religion for themselves and for their communities Drawing on the expertise of a range of scholars this reference chronicles the religious experiences of women across time and cultures The book includes sections on major religions as well as on spirituality African religions prehistoric religions and other broad topics Each section begins with an introduction followed by reference entries on specialized subjects along with excerpts from primary source documents The entries provide numerous suggestions for further reading and the book closes with a detailed bibliography

The Fiction of Gloria Naylor Maxine Lavon Montgomery,2010-11-26 The Fiction of Gloria Naylor is one of the very first critical studies of this acclaimed writer Including an insightful interview with Naylor and focusing on her first four novels the book situates various acts of insurgency throughout her work within a larger framework of African American opposition to hegemonic authority But what truly distinguishes this volume is its engagement with African American vernacular forms and twentieth century political movements In her provocative analysis Maxine Lavon Montgomery argues that Naylor constantly attempts to reconfigure the home and homespace to be more conducive to black self actualization thus providing a stark contrast to a dominant white patriarchy evident in a broader public sphere Employing a postcolonial and feminist theoretical framework to analyze Naylor

s evolving body of work Montgomery pays particular attention to black slave historiography tales of conjure trickster lore and oral devices involving masking word play and code switching the vernacular strategies that have catapulted Naylor to the vanguard of contemporary African American letters Montgomery argues for the existence of home as a place that is not exclusively architectural or geographic in nature She posits that in Naylor s writings home exists as an intermediate space embedded in cultural memory and encoded in the vernacular Home closely resembles a highly symbolic signifying system bound with vexed issues of racial sovereignty as well as literary authority Through a reinscription of the subversive frequently clandestine acts of resistance on the part of the border subject those outside the dominant culture Naylor recasts space in such a way as to undermine reader expectation and destabilize established models of dominance influence and control Thoroughly researched and sophisticated in its approach The Fiction of Gloria Naylor will be essential reading for scholars and students of African American American and Africana Literary and Cultural studies

Reading for the Body

Jay Watson, 2012 Jay Watson argues that southern literary studies has been overidealized and dominated by intellectual history for too long In Reading for the Body he calls for the field to be rematerialized and grounded in an awareness of the human body as the site where ideas including ideas about the U S South itself ultimately happen Employing theoretical approaches to the body developed by thinkers such as Karl Marx Colette Guillaumin Elaine Scarry and Friedrich Kittler Watson also draws on histories of bodily representation to mine a century of southern fiction for its insights into problems that have preoccupied the region and nation alike slavery Jim Crow and white supremacy the marginalization of women the impact of modernization the issue of cultural authority and leadership and the legacy of the Vietnam War He focuses on the specific bodily attributes of hand voice and blood and the deeply embodied experiences of pain illness pregnancy and war to offer new readings of a distinguished group of literary artists who turned their attention to the South Mark Twain Jean Toomer Zora Neale Hurston William Faulkner Richard Wright Katherine Anne Porter Bobbie Ann Mason and Walker Percy In producing an intensely embodied U S literature these writers Watson argues were by turns extending and interrogating a centuries old tradition in U S print culture in which the recalcitrant materiality of the body serves as a trope for the regional alterity of the South Reading for the Body makes a powerful case for the body as an important methodological resource for a new southern studies
