Writing Women in Central America Laura Barbas-Rhoden, 2003

What is the relationship between history and fiction in a place with a contentious past And of what concern is gender in the telling of stories about the past This study explores these questions as it considers key Central American texts Omar Cabezas, Nicaragua, and the Narrative of Liberation José María Mantero, 2019-06-26

Throughout his political and military career Omar Cabezas fought to transform Nicaragua to implement the ethics that had led him to participate in the armed struggle against Anastasio Somoza's regime and to be active during the 1980s and 1990s as a member of the National Congress Omar Cabezas Nicaragua and the Narrative of Liberation To the Revolution and Beyond surveys the foundations of liberation discourse as it relates to the work of Omar Cabezas It examines themes associated with Nicaraguan and Latin American culture and literature considering key issues of national liberation and identity in the wake of the Sandinista revolution By contextualizing the research within a continental and national perspective and using concepts such as utopia orality and humor to frame the discussion on national liberation Mantero shows the symbiotic relationship between the work of Cabezas and the reformulation of Nicaraguan identity in the post revolution Post-Conflict Central American Literature Yvette Aparicio, 2013-11-26

Post Conflict Central American Literature Searching for Home and Longing to Belong studies often overlooked contemporary poetry Through the exploration of poetry and a select number of short stories this book contemplates the meanings of home belonging and the homeland in post conflict globalizing and neoliberal El Salvador Nicaragua and Costa Rica Aparicio analyzes literary representations of and meditations on the current conditions as well as the recent pasts of Central American homelands Additionally the book highlights aesthetic renditions of home at the same time that it engages with and is grounded in contemporary Central American cultures politics and societies In effect this book contests hegemonic and apparently commonsense views that assert that globalization produces global citizenship and globalized experiences Instead it argues that a palpable desire for home and belonging survives and thrives in rapidly globalizing Central American homelands Seeking Meaning, Seeking Justice in a Post-Cold War World Judith Keene, Elizabeth Rechniewski, 2018-03-27

The challenge for historians as for individuals and nations has been to make sense of the Cold War past without recourse to the obsolete frameworks of a dichotomous world The editors of Seeking Meaning Seeking Justice in the Post Cold War World Judith Keene and Elizabeth Rechniewski have brought together contributions that address the diverse modes by which the Cold War is being assessed with a major focus on countries on the periphery of the Cold War confrontation These approaches include developments in historiography as new intellectual and cultural frame are applied to old debates Authors also consider the universal principles and moral discourses including that of human rights on which judgements have been based and judicial processes instigated and the forms of memorialisation that have sought to come to terms and perhaps achieve reconciliation with a Cold War past Contributors are Ann Curthoys Philip Deery

Gender for the Warfare State Robin Truth Goodman, 2016-10-14 Gender for the Warfare State is the first scholarly investigation into the written works of U S women combat veterans in twenty first century wars Most recent studies quantify military participation showing how many women participate in armed services and what their experiences are in a traditionally male institution Many of these treatments regard women as victims solely of enemy fire even as they are also often victims of their own military apparatus and of their own involvement in global aggression By applying literary analysis to a sociological question Gender for the Warfare State views women s experiences through story and literary traditions that carry meaning into present practices Goodman shows that women in combat are not just entering and being victimized in male institutions but are also actively changing the story of gender and thus the structure of power that is constructed through gender Moreover this book unveils a new narrative of care that affects economic relations more broadly and the contemporary politics of the liberal social contract Women s participation in combat is not just a U S event but global and therefore has a deeper historical range than current sociological accounts imply The book compares the political contexts of women s entry into war now with their prior twentieth century contributions to wars in other cultural settings and then uses this comparison to show a variety of meanings at play in the gender of war the guerrilla warfare of the Sandinista Revolution and the ongoing drug related wars in Mexico and Central America to highlight the historical cultural gendered and political significance of weapons in this volatile region Negotiating Love in Post-revolutionary Nicaragua Turid Hagene, 2008 This book explores the issue of love and its place in the reproduction of gender asymmetry in Nicaragua The theme is discussed in the context of specific religious and work practices living arrangements gender values and norms and the gender practices and legislation of the Sandinista revolution The study uses lifeworld phenomenology as its theoretical approach placing people's own experience center stage Therefore a case study of the Esperanza sewing cooperative is presented built on life stories interview materials and participant observation with the cooperative women and their husbands The material and discursive practices and emotional experiences of men and women are examined in this particular socio cultural setting How do we account for the highly unequal bargains the women strike with their husbands accepting large material responsibilities and time share love even if they experience this as emotionally hurtful The study testifies to women's autonomy in family maintenance and religious practices an autonomy which seems to falter in the fields of love and sexuality some of the men and women however negotiate subtle changes in gender norms and values Nicaragua and the Politics of Utopia Daniel Chavez, 2015-12-08 The history of modern Nicaragua is populated with leaders promising a new and better day Inevitably as Nicaragua and the Politics of Utopia demonstrates reality casts a shadow and the community must look to the next leader As an impoverished state second only to Haiti in the Americas Nicaragua has been the scene of cyclical attempts and failures at modern development Author Daniel Chavez investigates the cultural and ideological bases of what he identifies as the three decisive movements of social reinvention in Nicaragua the regimes of the Somoza family of much of the early to mid twentieth century the governments of the Sandinista party and the present day struggle to adapt to the global market economy For each era Chavez reveals the ways Nicaraguan popular culture adapted and interpreted the new political order shaping critiquing or amplifying the regime's message of stability and prosperity for the people These tactics of interpretation otherwise known as meaning making became all important for the Nicaraguan people as they opposed the autocracy of Somocismo or complemented the Sandinistas or struggled to find their place in the Neoliberal era In every case Chavez shows the reflective nature of cultural production and its pursuit of utopian idealism
