The Right to be Heard Framework Adrienne Hopkins, 2012 Chinese Rules and Procedures for Addressing Mass Actions Cong-rui Qiao, 2024-08-10 This book unravels the intricate tapestry of Chinese state society and government citizen interactions in both legal historical and contemporary contexts Set against the backdrop of China's meteoric rise as a global economic and political powerhouse it presents a comprehensive and nuanced exploration of China's governance norms and their transformative evolution in the modern and contemporary eras The book analyses China's multifaceted governance landscape including its profound influence on the dynamics of government citizen interactions in contemporary China By introducing the concept of juridification it demystifies the complexities of Chinese governance traditions and transitions At its core the book reveals how legislative administrative and judicial authorities address the collective grievances of Chinese citizens Through a combination of historical legal and sociological analyses it equips readers with an understanding of the formal and practical mechanisms used by Chinese authorities spanning from the 1980s to the present to address mass actions In addition the book assesses an underexplored aspect the changing narratives and diverse perspectives found in news coverage of government responses to mass actions shedding light on the socialisation of principles of public accountability and the safeguarding of civil rights in China The book is intended to make the topic accessible to both scholars and an interested global audience helping them understand the Chinese legal governance model its underlying rationale recent developments and social implications

Emerging Adulthood in Hong Kong Chau-kiu Cheung, 2017-09-22 How emerging adults broadly referring to those aged from 18 to 29 years old fare in civic engagement as compared with other adults is the focus of the present work The work takes civic engagement to comprise prosociality in civil society sustaining social institutions and challenging institutions Delineating a theoretical framework based on voluntaristic theory the work expects to find differences in civic engagement due to the voluntaristic mechanisms of power realization utilitarian optimization normative conformity and idealistic consistency maintenance in the emerging adult as compared with the other Using survey data from 25 878 Chinese adults in Hong Kong the work illustrates that the emerging adult is higher than is the other in challenging social institutions notably in terms radicalism and occupying protest Moreover the emerging adult is less prosocial in terms in community participation Meanwhile the emerging adult is not consistently different from the other in sustaining social institutions The findings are crucial given the control various background characteristics including age education marriage and employment These findings are therefore useful for illustrating social forces postulated in voluntaristic theory for explaining civic engagement

Human Rights Literacies Cornelia Roux, Anne Becker, 2018-12-29 This book adds impetus to the nexus between human rights human rights education and material reality The dissonance between these aspects is of growing concern for most human rights educators in various social contexts The first part of the book opens up new discourses and presents new ontologies and epistemologies from scholars in human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to critique and or justify the understandings of human rights complex applications Today s rapidly changing social contexts and new languages attempting to understand ongoing dehumanization and violations put enormous pressure on higher education educators individuals working in social sciences policy makers and scholars engaged in curricula making The second part demonstrates how global interactions between citizens from different countries with diverse understandings of human rights from developed and developing democracies question the link between human rights and it s in ex clusive Western philosophies Continuing inhumane actions around the globe reflect the failure of human rights law and human rights education in schools higher education and society at large The book shows that human rights education is no longer a blueprint for understanding human rights and its universal or contextual values presented for multicomplexial societies The final chapters argue for new ontologies and epistemologies of human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to open up difficult conversations and to give space to dissonant and disruptive discourses The many opportunities for human rights education and literacies lies in these conversations

The Human Animal Earthling Identity Carrie P. Freeman, 2020-12 With The Human Animal Earthling Identity Carrie P Freeman asks us to reconsider the devastating division we have created between the human and animal conditions leading to mass exploitation injustice and extinction As a remedy Freeman believes social movements should collectively foster a cultural shift in human identity away from an egoistic anthropocentrism human centered outlook and toward a universal altruism species centered ethic so people may begin to see themselves more broadly as human animal earthlings To formulate the basis for this identity shift Freeman examines overlapping values supporting life fairness responsibility and unity that are common in global rights declarations and in the current campaign messages of sixteen global social movement organizations that work on human civil rights nonhuman animal protection and or environmental issues such as Amnesty International Human Rights Watch CARE People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals the World Wildlife Fund the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society the Nature Conservancy the Rainforest Action Network and Greenpeace She also interviews the leaders of these advocacy groups to gain their insights on how human and nonhuman protection causes can become allies by engaging common opponents and activating shared values and goals on issues such as the climate crisis enslavement extinction pollution inequality destructive farming and fishing and threats to democracy Freeman s analysis of activist discourse considers ethical ideologies on behalf of social justice animal rights and environmentalism using animal rights respect for sentient individuals as a bridge connecting human rights to a more holistic valuing of species and ecological systems Ultimately Freeman uses her findings to recommend a set of universal values around which all social movements campaign messages can collectively cultivate respectful relations between human animal earthlings fellow sentient beings and the natural world we share

Global Governance in the Age of the Anthropocene Markus Fraundorfer, 2022-01-04 Why has global governance largely failed to effectively tackle some of the most pressing global environmental challenges of our time What are the obstacles to effective global and planetary problem solving And which solutions and responses have global governance actors come up with to confront these challenges This textbook teases out the tragic entanglements between dominant global governance dynamics and the global environmental challenges of the Anthropocene showing how international and global cooperation mechanisms that evolved over the last two hundred years are deeply implicated in exacerbating many of today s global environmental challenges The book focuses on several global environmental challenges which are intrinsically interconnected threatening to destabilise the entire Earth system with serious consequences for human societies across the world These global environmental challenges include infectious disease outbreaks global food production processes the pollution of freshwater resources energy consumption patterns deforestation and CO2 emissions At the same time the book also presents several alternative governance examples based on more democratic citizen based and holistic approaches to the global climate crisis which point the way towards a new understanding of global governance in the age of the Anthropocene This textbook is for undergraduate and postgraduate students of global governance environmental politics and international relations

A Digest of the Decisions of All the Courts of the State of New York Frank Frederick Brightly, 1893

Contesting and Constructing International Perspectives in Global Education R. Reynolds, D. Bradbery, J. Brown, K. Carroll, D. Donnelly, K. Ferguson-Patrick, S. Macqueen, 2015-02-27 This volume addresses the need for an international perspective on global education and provides alternate voices to the theme of global education The editors asked international educators in different contexts to indicate how their own experience of global education addresses the broad and contested concepts associated with this notion Following the lead of the internationally acknowledged authors from North America Europe Africa Australia and Asia perspectives were provided on a wide variety of contexts including tertiary education and teacher education various pedagogies for global education including digital pedagogies and curriculum development at school tertiary and community levels Contesting and Constructing International Perspectives in Global Education explores the tensions inherent in discussions of global education from a number of facets including spatial pedagogical temporal social and cultural and provides critical descriptive and values laden interpretations The book is divided into five sections Temporal and Spatial Views of Global Education Telling National Stories of Global Education Empowering Citizens for Global Education Deconstructing Global Education and Transforming Curricula for Global Education It is envisaged as a starting point for a stronger international conception of global education and a way to build a conversation for the future of global education in a neo liberal and less internationally confident time
