Rights And Reason An Introduction To The Philosophy Of Rights:

Rights and Reason Jonathan Gorman, 2003-09-23 He begins by contrasting the ideas of Plato Hobbes and Locke and their appeal to reason with the empiricism of Hume showing that the issue of whether rights can express independent authoritative standards is inseparable from the longstanding conflict between empiricism and rationalism By examining Kant's attempt to resolve this conflict he shows that Kant changed our understanding of morality and of rights in particular by basing his philosophy on an analysis of human language An outline of Hohfeld's analysis of the language of rights and duties completes the examination of rights and reason Gorman goes on to investigate some substantive criteria for the application of concepts of rights including the beneficiary view of a right group rights non human rights the nature of the individuals who are the bearers of rights the interest theory of rights and the will theory Finally he examines the view that rights and duties are mutually supporting features of a just situation introducing Rawls's theory of justice Throughout Gorman shows that alongside arguments about the content of rights and the myriad claims to rights there are pluralities of theories that offer some understanding of the moral and legal realm and of the places that rights may hold in it Marx's Discourse with

Legal Naturalism Olufemi Taiwo, 2015-11-12 Legal Naturalism advances a clear and convincing case that Marx's theory of law is a form of natural law jurisprudence It explicates both Marx's writings and the idea of natural law and makes a forceful contribution to current debates on the foundations of law Olufemi Taiwo argues that embedded in the corpus of Marxist writing is a plausible adequate and coherent legal theory He describes Marx's general concept of law which he calls legal naturalism For Marxism natural law isn't a permanent verity it refers to the basic law of a given epoch or social formation which is an essential aspect of its mode of production Capitalist law is thus natural law in a capitalist society and is politically and morally progressive relative to the laws of preceding social formations Taiwo emphasizes that these formations are dialectical or dynamic not merely static so that the law which is naturally appropriate to a capitalist economy will embody tensions and contradictions that replicate the underlying conflicts of that economy In addition he discusses the enactment and reform of positive law law established by government institutions in a Marxian framework Reasons,
