The Biosphere, Problems and Solutions, 2011-09-22 The Biosphere Problems and Solutions

Risk/Benefit Analysis in Water Resources Planning and Management Yacov Haimes, 2013-06-29 Ronald M North President Universities Council on Water Resources People sense intuitively that the world in which we live is not free of risk Every decision every action even the refusal to either act or decide involves some element of risk Perhaps because we accept relatively low levels of risk in our daily activities we tend to minimize the existence of risk and thereby fail to include risk assessment in those decisions and actions which could be improved through a risk assessment process However our casual approach to risk assessment seems to stem largely from the difficulties inherent in measuring risk rather than from any lack of cognizance of the existence of risk This conclusion is evidenced by the many statements in official documents relating to planning and evaluation which suggest that risk assessments should be conducted but do not provide the mechanism for such assessments nor do they encourage their consideration in the decision making process This conference on Risk Benefit Analysis in Water Resources Planning and Management is notable because it attempts to identify and evaluate the mechanisms available for risk assessment which might be useful in water resources planning and management efforts These proceedings bring together the thoughts of professional persons who have struggled with the problems of risk assessment and who have contributed to the refinement of both theoretical and pragmatic solutions for the improvement of risk assessment processes

Corporate Management Of Health And Safety Hazards Roger E. Kasperson, 2019-04-09 This book provides one of the first systematic accounts of how corporations manage risk to workers and consumers Careful analysis and interviewing in different corporations elicit a portrait of the myriad hazards that currently confront industry the corporate programs and resources that have emerged since 1970 to respond to this challenge and factors that have contributed to successes and failures In depth studies of the Volvo Car Corporation Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant Union Carbide's Bhopal facility and large chemical and pharmaceutical corporations provide a state of the art assessment of the advances and problems inherent today in industrial safety management Roger E Kasperson Jeanne X Kasperson and Christoph Hohenemser are senior researchers at Clark University's Center for Technology Environment and Development CENED Roger E Kasperson is Director of CENED and its Hazard Assessment Group Jeanne X Kasperson is Research Librarian at CENED and Senior Research Associate in Brown University's World Hunger Program Hohenemser a professor of physics directs the Environment Technology and Society Program at Clark University Robert W Kates formerly with CENED is Director of the Alan Shawn Feinstein World Hunger Program at Brown University Ola Svenson of the Department of Psychology at Lund University in Sweden is a leading researcher in the field of risk perception and decision analysis

Environmental Hazards in the British Isles A.H. Perry, 2023-09-20 Environmental Hazards in the British Isles 1981 offers a comprehensive account of the various hazards affecting Britain Based on a wealth of empirical data it provides a balanced perspective on phenomena that are usually presented in a sensational way by the media and then quickly forgotten A three fold methodology is suggested for the study of environmental hazards which concentrates on their incidence their causes and their frequency and their impact on both the individual and society as a whole

Acceptable Evidence Deborah G. Mayo, Rachelle D. Hollander, 1994-02-17 Discussions of science and values in risk management have largely focused on how values enter into arguments about risks that is issues of acceptable risk Instead this volume concentrates on how values enter into collecting interpreting communicating and evaluating the evidence of risks that is issues of the acceptability of evidence of risk By focusing on acceptable evidence this volume avoids two barriers to progress One barrier assumes that evidence of risk is largely a matter of objective scientific data and therefore uncontroversial The other assumes that evidence of risk being just a matter of values is not amenable to reasoned critique Denying both extremes this volume argues for a more constructive conclusion understanding the interrelations of scientific and value issues enables a critical scrutiny of risk assessments and better public deliberation about social choices The contributors distinguished philosophers policy analysts and natural and social scientists analyze environmental and medical controversies and assumptions underlying views about risk assessment and the scientific and statistical models used in risk management
