study grounded in vivid depictions of local life relates to larger questions about the postcolonial exercise of political and economic power when ostensibly sovereign states such as Madagascar are so profoundly controlled by international organizations unattached to any particular state Sharp asks how young people in these radically changing circumstances are taught and teach themselves to understand their past present and future Gillian Feeley Harnik author of A Green Estate Sharp's work is in the best tradition of classic anthropology extending the critiques of Fanon Mannoni Memmi and Freire by examining the effects of the socialist revolution the birth of Malagasy nationalism and the imposition of a postcolonial pedagogy on the minds of the sacrificed generation Her detailed ethnography is superb Nancy Scheper Hughes author of Death without Weeping State and Court Ritual in China Joseph P. McDermott, 1999-09-16 This broad ranging examination of Chinese court and state ritual from 1000 BC to AD 1750 represents the first modern comprehensive account of the subject in any language The essays demonstrate how and why ritual has played such a fundamental and often controversial role in the practice of Chinese politics By tracing the political and social development of particular rituals such as imperial funerals and popular religious practices or Buddhist ordination ceremonies and court audiences the authors set out to convey their historical significance Further discussion of the role of ritual in relation to language and elite and popular concepts of emperorhood is included in the volume The book will be of interest to students of Chinese history anthropology and religion as well as those seeking to understand the legacy of that history in modern China The Contest for Time and Space in the Roman Imperial Cults and 1 Peter Wei Hsien Wan, 2019-10-17 Wei Hsien Wan builds on the work of David Horrell and Travis Williams for his argument that the letter of 1 Peter engages in a subtle calculated form of resistance to Rome that has often gone undetected Whilst previous discussion of the topic has remained largely focused on the letter's stance toward specific Roman institutions such as the emperor household structures and the imperial cults Wan takes the conversation beyond these confines and examines 1 Peter's critique of the Roman Empire in terms of its ideology or worldview Using the work of James Scott to conceptualize ideological resistance against domination Wan considers how the imperial cults of Anatolia and 1 Peter offered distinct constructions of time and space that is how they envisioned reality differently Insofar as these differences led to divergent ways of conceiving the social order they acquired political power and generated potential for conflict Wan thus argues that 1 Peter confronts Rome on a cosmic scale with its alternative construal of time and space and examines the evidence that the Petrine author consciously if cautiously interrogated the imperial imagination at its most foundational levels and set forth in its place a theocentric Christological understanding of the world
