Rodin Lynne Ambrosini, Michelle Facos, 1987 Rodin Joan Vita Miller, Gary Marotta, 1986 Rodin's Art the late Albert E. Elsen, Rosalyn Frankel Jamison, 2003-03-13 The late Albert Elsen was the first American scholar to study seriously the work of the French sculptor Auguste Rodin and the person most responsible for a revival of interest in the artist as a modern innovator after years during which the sculpture had been dismissed as so much Victorian bathos After a fortuitous meeting with the financier philanthropist and art collector B Gerald Cantor Elsen helped Cantor to build up a major collection of Rodin's work A large part of this collection consisting of more than 200 pieces was donated to the Stanford Museum by Mr Cantor who died recently In size it is surpassed only by the Musée Rodin in Paris and rivaled only by the collection in Philadelphia In scope the collection is unique in having been carefully selected to present a balanced view of Rodin's work throughout his life Rodin's Art encompasses a lifetime's thoughts on Rodin's career surveying the artist's accomplishments through the detailed discussion of each object in the collection It will begin with essays on the formation of the collection the reception of Rodin's work and his casting techniques The entries that follow are arranged topically and include extensive discussions of Rodin's major projects "Rival Sisters, Art and Music at the Birth of Modernism, 1815-1915" James H. Rubin, 2017-07-05 Introducing the concept of music and painting as rival sisters during the nineteenth century this interdisciplinary collection explores the productive exchange from rivalry to inspiration to collaboration between the two media in the age of Romanticism and Modernism The volume traces the relationship between art and music from the opposing claims for superiority of the early nineteenth century to the emergence of the concept of synesthesia around 1900 This collection puts forward a more complex history of the relationship between art and music than has been described in earlier works including an intermixing of models and distinctions between approaches to them Individual essays from art history musicology and literature examine the growing influence of art upon music and vice versa in the works of Berlioz Courbet Manet Fantin Latour Rodin Debussy and the Pre Raphaelites among other artists Auguste Rodin Nelly S. Gerald Cantor Collection Kirk Varnedoe, 2001 The work of the master French sculptor Auguste Rodin 1840-1917 is instantly recognizable throughout the world This is due in no small part to the proselytizing efforts of B Gerald Cantor 1916-1996 widely acknowledged as the preeminent collector and proponent of Rodin in America during the second half of the twentieth century He purchased his first piece a bronze of The Hand of God in 1946 after being profoundly moved by seeing a marble version of it at the Metropolitan Museum of Art New York For five decades Cantor focused all of his efforts on researching and acquiring works by Rodin Joined by his wife Iris in 1977 they built the largest and most comprehensive private collection of Rodin sculpture drawings prints photographs and memorabilia Of the approximately 750 works that the Cantors collected including casts of each of Rodin's major

Harrison, 2008-07-08 Which cultural values beliefs and attitudes best promote democracy social justice and prosperity How can we use the forces that shape cultural change such as religion education and political leadership to promote these values in the Third World and for underachieving minorities in the First World In this book Lawrence E Harrison offers intriguing answers to these questions in a valuable follow up to his acclaimed Culture Matters Drawing on a three year research project that explored the cultural values of dozens of nations from Botswana Sweden and India to China Egypt and Chile Harrison offers a provocative look at values around the globe revealing how each nation's culture has propelled or retarded their political and economic progress The book presents 25 factors that operate very differently in cultures prone to progress and those that resist it including one's influence over destiny the importance attached to education the extent to which people identify with and trust others and the role of women in society Harrison pulls no punches and many of his findings are controversial Contradicting the arguments of multiculturalists this book contends that when it comes to promoting human progress some cultures are clearly more effective than others It convincingly shows which values beliefs and attitudes work and how we can foster them Harrison takes up the question that is at the center of politics today Can we self consciously change cultures so they encourage development and modernization David Brooks New York Times I can think of no better entrance to the topic both for what it teaches and the way it invites and prepares the reader to continue A gateway study David S Landes author of The Wealth and Poverty of Nations The Bronzes of Rodin Antoinette Le

Rodin in His Time Los Angeles County Museum of Art, Mary L. Levkoff, 2000 The sculpture of Auguste Rodin has become such an important part of our visual culture that it seems to have been with us always The universal appeal of Rodin's work springs from its emotional expressiveness its astonishingly lifelike vitality and its passionate mirroring of the human condition With his impressionistic technique supported by a complete mastery of anatomical structure Rodin overthrew the reigning academic precepts of finish and symmetry By developing subjects beyond traditional allegories he pointed the way to sheer abstraction in the twentieth century This handsomely illustrated catalogue publishes for the first time in its entirety a major American collection of sculpture the Cantor gifts to the Los Angeles County Museum of Art and provides a rich context for Rodin's own work It presents sculpture by Rodin's most important nineteenth century forerunners Jean Baptiste Carpeaux Albert Ernest Carrier Belleuse Fran ois Rude and others as well as work by the contemporaries he admired those with whom he competed those he influenced and those who moved from his orbit to develop their own styles at the dawn of the twentieth century But the centerpiece of the book remains Rodin forty two works by the most influential sculptor of the modern period all specially photographed and many shown in multiple views Publisher description

"Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France, 1789-1914" Heather Belnap Jensen, 2017-07-05 Focusing specifically on portraiture as a genre this volume challenges scholarly assumptions that regard interior spaces as uniquely feminine Contributors analyze portraits of men in domestic and studio spaces in France during the long nineteenth century the preponderance of such portraits alone supports the book's premise that the alignment of men with public life is oversimplified and more myth than reality The volume offers analysis of works by a mix of artists from familiar names such as David Delacroix Courbet Manet Rodin and Matisse to less well known image makers including Dominique Doncre Constance Mayer Anders Zorn and Lucien Etienne Melingue The essays cover a range of media from paintings and prints to photographs and sculpture that allows exploration of the relation between masculinity and interiority across the visual culture of the period The home and other interior spaces emerge from these studies as rich and complex locations for both masculine self expression and artistic creativity Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France 1789-1914 provides a much needed rethinking of modern masculinity in this period
