Spanish linguistics      Historical Linguistics 2013 Dag T.T. Haug, 2015-09-15 The International Conference on Historical Linguistics is the main conference for specialists in language change and the 2013 conference in Oslo drew more than 300 participants with 182 papers presented in the general session. The 16 papers selected for inclusion in this volume from the general session of ICHL 2013 not only provide a clear picture of the state of the art in various subfields of historical linguistics but also present recent insights in diachronic phonology, typology, morphology and morphosyntax. The languages and families covered include English, German, Scandinavian, French, Occitan, Portuguese, Sardinian, Spanish, Ancient Greek, Old Japanese and Austronesian. The volume will be useful to any linguist with an interest in diachronic matters as well as general linguistic theory.

Comparative Historical Dialectology Thomas D. Cravens, 2002-01-01 This brief monograph explores the historical motivations for two sets of phonological changes in some varieties of Romance: restructuring of intervocalic p t k and palatalization of initial l and n. These developments have been treated repeatedly over the decades yet neither has enjoyed a satisfactory solution. This book attempts to demonstrate that both outcomes are ultimately attributable to the loss of early pan-Romance consonant gemination. This study is of interest not only to the language-specific field of historical Romance linguistics but also to general historical linguistics. The central problems examined here constitute classic cases of questions that cannot be answered by confining analysis solely to the individual languages under investigation. The passage of time, the indirect nature of fragmentary and accidental documentation and the nature of the changes themselves conspire to deny access to the most essential facts. However, comparison of closely cognate languages now undergoing change supplies a perspective for discerning conditions that may ultimately lead to states achieved in the distant past by the languages under investigation.

New Approaches to Old Problems Steven N. Dworkin, Dieter Wanner, 2000-11-13 This volume contains revised versions of thirteen of the papers presented at the parasession 'New Solutions to Old Problems: Issues in Romance Historical Linguistics' held as part of the 29th Linguistic Symposium on the Romance Languages, 1999. These studies examine specific problems in Romance historical linguistics within the framework of new analytical approaches, many of which represent extensions into the diachronic realm of methodologies and theories originally formulated to explain aspects of synchronic phonology and syntax. Insights afforded by Principles and Parameters the Minimalist Program Optimality Theory grammaticalization theory and sociohistorical linguistics are used to elucidate such long standing issues in traditional historical grammar as diphthongization in Hispano Romance syncope of intertonic vowels in Hispano and Gallo Romance lenition the role of analogy in morphological change word order infinitival constructions and the collocation of clitic object pronouns in Old French and Old Spanish

Bibliographie Linguistique de L'annee 1999 Mark Janse, Hella Olbertz, Sijmen Tol, 2003-11-30 Setting out the historical national and religious characteristics of the Italians as they impact on the integration within the European Union this study makes note of the two characteristics that have an adverse effect on Italian national identity cleavages between north and south and the dominant role of family It discusses how for Italians family loyalty is stronger than any other allegiance including feelings towards their country their nation or the EU Due to such subnational allegiances and values this book notes that Italian civic society is weaker and engagement at the grass roots is less robust than one finds in other democracies leaving politics in Italy largely in the hands of political parties The work concludes by noting that EU membership however provides no magic bullet for Italy it cannot change internal cleavages the Italian worldview and family values or the country's mafia dominated power matrix and as a result the underlying absence of fidelity to a shared polity Italian or European leave the country as ungovernable as ever
