Saul Tschernichowsky Poet Of Revolt:

Saul Tschernichowsky Eisig Silberschlag, 1968 Saul Tschernichowsky Eisig Silberschlag, Saul Tchernichowsky, 1968 Contains poems by Saul Tchernichowsky Saul Tschernichowsky Eisig Silberschlag, 1968 Saul Tschernichowsky Eisig Silberschlag, 1968 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century Sorrel Kerbel, 2004-11-23 Now available in paperback for the first time Jewish Writers of the Twentieth Century is both a comprehensive reference resource and a springboard for further study This volume examines canonical Jewish writers less well known authors of Yiddish and Hebrew and emerging Israeli writers includes entries on figures as diverse as Marcel Proust Franz Kafka Tristan Tzara Eugene Ionesco Harold Pinter Tom Stoppard Arthur Miller Saul Bellow Nadine Gordimer and Woody Allen contains introductory essays on Jewish American writing Holocaust literature and memoirs Yiddish writing and Anglo Jewish literature provides a chronology of twentieth century Jewish writers Compiled by expert contributors this book contains over 330 entries on individual authors each consisting of a biography a list of selected publications a scholarly essay on their work and suggestions for further reading The Seductiveness of Jewish Myth S. Daniel Breslauer, 2012-02-01 The Seductiveness of Jewish Myth offers a panorama of diverse definitions of myth understandings of Judaism and competing evaluations of the mythic element in religion The contributors focus on the problem of defining myth as a category in religious studies examine modern religion and the role of myth in a secularized world and look at specific cases of Jewish myth from biblical through modern times Modern Jewish Literatures Sheila E. Jelen, Michael P.
Kramer, L. Scott Lerner, 2011-06-06 Is there such a thing as a distinctive Jewish literature While definitions have been offered none has been universally accepted Modern Jewish literature lacks the basic markers of national literatures it has neither a common geography nor a shared language though works in Hebrew or Yiddish are almost certainly included and the field is so diverse that it cannot be contained within the bounds of one literary category Each of the fifteen essays collected in Modern Jewish Literatures takes on the above question by describing a movement across boundaries between languages cultures genres or spaces Works in Hebrew and Yiddish are amply represented but works in English French German Italian Ladino and Russian are also considered Topics range from the poetry of the Israeli nationalist Natan Alterman to the Russian poet Osip Mandelstam from turn of the century Ottoman Jewish journalism to wire recorded Holocaust testimonies from the intellectual salons of late eighteenth century Berlin to the shelves of a Jewish bookstore in twentieth century Los Angeles The literary world described in Modern Jewish Literatures is demarcated chronologically by the Enlightenment the Haskalah and the French Revolution on one end and the fiftieth anniversary of the State of Israel on the other The particular terms of the encounter between a Jewish past and present for modern Jews has varied greatly by continent country or village by language and by social standing among other things What unites the subjects of these studies is not a common ethnic religious or cultural history but rather a shared endeavor to use literary production and writing in general as the laboratory in which to explore and represent Jewish experience in the modern world The Diary of Dawid Sierakowiak Dawid Sierakowiak,1998-05-14 In the evening I had to prepare food and cook supper which exhausted me totally In politics there is absolutely nothing new Again out of impatience I feel myself beginning to fall into melancholy There is really no way out of this for us This is Dawid Sierakowiak's final diary entry Soon after writing it the young author died of tuberculosis exhaustion and starvation the Holocaust syndrome known as ghetto disease After the liberation of the Warsaw Ghetto his notebooks were found stacked on a cookstove ready to be burned for heat Young Sierakowiak was one of more than 60 000 Jews who perished in that notorious urban slave camp a man made hell which was the longest surviving concentration of Jews in Nazi Europe The diary comprises a remarkable legacy left to humanity by its teenage author It is one of the most fastidiously detailed accounts ever rendered of modern life in human bondage Off mountain climbing and studying in southern Poland during the summer of 1939 Dawid begins his diary with a heady enthusiasm to experience life learn languages and read great literature He returns home under the quickly gathering clouds of war Abruptly Warsaw is occupied by the Nazis and the Sierakowiak family is among the city's 200 000 Jews who are soon forced into a sealed ghetto completely cut off from the outside world With intimate undefended prose the diary's young author begins to describe the relentless horror of their predicament his daily struggle to obtain food to survive trying to make reason out of a world gone mad coping with the plagues of death and deportation Repeatedly he rallies himself against fear and pessimism fighting the cold disease and exhaustion which finally consume him Physical pain and emotional woe hold him constantly at the edge of endurance Hunger tears Dawid's family apart turning his father into a thief who steals bread from his wife and children The wonder of the diary is that every bit of hardship yields wisdom from Dawid's remarkable intellect Reading it you become a prisoner with him in the ghetto and with discomfiting intimacy you begin to experience the incredible process by which the vast majority of the Jews of Europe were annihilated in World War II Significantly the youth has no doubt about the consequence of deportation out of the ghetto Deportation into labor he calls it A committed communist and the unit leader of an underground organization he crusades for more food for the ghetto's school children But when invited to pledge his life to a suicide resistance squad he writes that he cannot become a professional revolutionary He owes his strength and life to the care of his family Saul Tchernichovsky Eisig Silberschlag,Saul Tchernichowsky,1968 Theological Stains Assaf Shelleg,2020-11-20 In this in depth study of Israeli art music in the second half of the twentieth century author Assaf Shelleg explores how art music and modern Hebrew literature engaged with Zionism and competing diasporic Jewish histories that are not grounded in notions of territory History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope,John Neubauer,2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timișoara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people The Jews in Poland and Russia Antony Polonsky, 2010-06-17 A comprehensive survey socio political economic and religious of Jewish life in Poland and Russia Wherever possible contemporary Jewish writings are used to illustrate how Jews felt and reacted to new situations and ideas The Middle East and North Africa Florian Zemmin, Nequin Yavari, Markus Dressler, Nurit Stadler, 2024-12-16 This volume collects reflections on secularity from the Middle East and North Africa To highlight proximate connections as well as resonances with debates elsewhere it includes premodern contributions from the region as well as Jewish thought from Europe that have provided significant references for modern appropriations of secularity The texts for the most part previously untranslated reflect commonalities within the region as well as its great diversity Thus while Islam is a common reference for most of our authors the selections point to its varied invocations in the interest of differing political ends Others write from a Christian or Jewish perspective or subscribe to non religious intellectual traditions They range from premodern Muslim jurists and philosophers to Ottoman statesmen Arab socialist and nationalist intellectuals of the interwar period Iranian revolutionaries Israeli novelists and finally post secular intellectuals lay and religious predominantly from the former Islamic heartland modern Arab states and Iran Several introductions weave together the swathe of topics raised in the discussions beginning with a schematic presentation of the concerns that undergird the volume's organization Jewish Translation History Robert Singerman, 2002-01-01 A classified bibliographic resource for tracing the history of Jewish translation activity from the Middle Ages to the present day providing the researcher with over a thousand entries devoted solely to the Jewish role in the east to west transmission of Greek and Arab learning and science into Latin or Hebrew Other major sections extend the coverage to modern times taking special note of the absorption of European literature into the Jewish cultural orbit via Hebrew Yiddish or Judezmo translations for instance or the translation and reception of Jewish literature written in Jewish languages into other languages such as Arabic English French German or Russian This polyglot bibliography the first of its kind contains over 2 600 entries is enhanced by a vast number of additional bibliographic notes leading to reviews and related resources and is accompanied by both an author and a subject index Terrorism in Context Martha Crenshaw, 2010-11-01 Witnesses of War Nicholas

Stargardt, 2007-12-18 A groundbreaking study of what happened to children of all nationalities and religions living under the Nazi regime Drawing on a wide range of new sources Witnesses of War reveals the stories of life under the Third Reich as never before As the Nazis overran Europe children were saved or damned according to their race Turning to an untouched wealth of original material school assignments juvenile diaries letters and even accounts of children's games Nicholas Stargardt breaks stereotypes of victimhood and trauma to give us the gripping individual stories of the generation Hitler made Jewish Education and Learning Glenda Abramson, Tudor Parfitt, 2018-12-07 First published in 1994 This volume dedicated to Dr David Patterson founding President of the Oxford Centre for Postgraduate Hebrew Studies takes as its theme Jewish education and learning throughout the ages But it is the Academy interpreted here to mean an institution of Judaic scholarship which dominates this collection of essays For almost three thousand years centres of Jewish learning have flourished in many parts of the world This volume discusses these institutions from biblical times to the present From the time of the Mishnaic Academy at Yavneh established in the first century CE the academies were more than schools of higher religious education They incorporated rational analysis of the scriptures the natural sciences and other secular studies Some of the most celebrated academies such as those in Cairo and Tunisia and later in the Iberian Peninsula were of a very high intellectual order sometimes superior to the great Christian universities It was at these institutions that the great Jewish legal and literary works were written and completed This collection of essays has been written by outstanding scholars who have been associated with David Patterson and the Oxford Centre The essays explore the nature and function of the Jewish Academies in the broadest sense the leading personalities associated with them and their social cultural and moral effect on the Jewish communities of their day Jewish History and Thought Menahem Mansoor, 1991 This survey of Jewish history and thought spans biblical times through the twentieth century and the establishment of the State of Israel covering developments that have shaped Judaism Jewish learning Jewish experience and the Jewish people Based on the author's experience teaching Jewish history this survey is presented in an outline form and contains charts and other learning aids

Imitate Anacreon! Manuel Baumbach, Nicola Dümmler, 2014-04-01 Despite their rich tradition the Carmina Anacreontea transmitted in the Palatine Anthology have received little scholarly attention This neglect is linked to questions concerning their authenticity Long read as poems by the ancient lyricist Anacreon they are now regarded instead as imitations of Anacreontic lyricism This volume presents the latest findings on the language poetology tradition and reception of this lyrical collection The McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of World Biography, 1973
