The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries

The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: 1900-1950 George Watson, 1969 Bulletin of Bibliography and Dramatic Index, 1930 Lucifer at Large C. John MacCole, 1968 Critiques of 20th century writers Anderson Aiken Cabell Crane Dos Passos Faulkner Fisher Hemingway Joyce London Mitchell Norris others from the standpoint of the New Humanists Contesting Earth's History in Transatlantic Literary Culture, 1860-1935 Richard Fallon, 2025-02-14 By the mid nineteenth century geologists and palaeontologists had reconstructed an authoritative narrative of Earth s deep history from the planet's molten origins to the rise of humanity. Many figures in transatlantic science across subsequent decades however had problems with this narrative: it was too secular, inhuman, and evolutionary, or controlled too exclusively by elite scientists. Speaking from palaeoscience's unevenly professionalized and controversy-racked borders, Christian fundamentalists, charismatic psychics, and respected scholars alike voiced their objections. Until now, no study has brought their work together for detailed comparative analysis. Spanning from the 1860s to the interwar decades, Contesting Earth's History examines the fascinating stories of five significant examples of fringe or borderline palaeoscience: old earth creationism, hollow earth theory, clairvoyant time travel, and sunken continent catastrophism. Innovatively combining methods from literary studies with the history of science, this book attends not just to the conceptual content of these strange sciences but also to their proponents' communication of truth claims through diverse genres ranging from the scientific textbook and the technical monograph to the lost world romance and the epic poem. By paying close attention to the hitherto overlooked textual forms and literary strategies of these works of pseudoscience, this volume throws into relief the variant conceptions of audience, evidence, and method that jostled and competed in wider scientific culture during this period. It also demonstrates that for all their diversity, authors of borderline palaeoscience shared the desire to shift the balance of power, creating textual spaces where exclusive hierarchies of scientific expertise could be levelled away. These conjurors of lost worlds often captivated wide audiences, and many of their bizarre, astonishing, and iconoclastic ideas remain with us to this day. Some even inspired early science fiction by the likes of H.P. Lovecraft and Edgar Rice Burroughs. Hijacking geologists and palaeontologists' longstanding effort at making the prehistoric past visible, authors on the borderlines of palaeoscience asserted their right to scientific authority and encouraged readers to gaze into time's abyss with bold new eyes.

Guille-Allès library and museum, Guernsey, 1891 Want List, 1939 New Religions and Spiritualities Stephen Hunt, 2017-03-02

Since the 1960s, a fresh wave of new religions and what has come to be termed spiritualities have been evident on a global scale. This volume in The Library of Essays on Sexuality and Religion focuses on these new religions and their often contentious attitudes towards human sexuality. Part 1, through previously published articles, provides instances of affirming orientations of the new religions towards sexuality. This entails scrutinising examples of innovative religion from a historical perspective as well as those of a more contemporary nature. Part 2 examines, with pertinent illustrations, the controversial character of new religions in their cultist forms and matters of sexual control and abuse. Part 3 considers sexuality as articulated through paganism, the occult, and esotericism in the postmodern setting. Part 4 examines both hetero and non-hetero expressions of sexuality through the so-called New Spiritualities, Quasi-religions, and the more hidden forms of religiosity.
