Making Blood White Historical Transformations In Early Modern Makassar:

Making Blood White William Cummings, 2002-01-01 Central to his argument is the notion that histories are not just records or representations of the past but are themselves forces or agents capable of transforming the worlds in which humans live Not simply structured by the prevailing social cultural and ideological contexts in which they are made they also shape these contexts BOOK JACKET A Chain of Kings William P. Cummings, 2007-01-01 The chronicles of Gowa and Talloq are the most important historical sources for the study of pre colonial Makassar They have provided the basic framework and much of the information that we possess about the origins growth and expansion of Gowa during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries During this period Gowa and its close ally Talloq became the most powerful force in the eastern Indonesian archipelago and historians have relied heavily on the chronicles to chart the developments of this period Available for the first time in English translation the two texts will offer historians and other scholars an invaluable foundation on which to base interpretations of this crucial place and time in Indonesian history This volume is required reading for scholars of pre modern Southeast Asia including historians linguists anthropologists and others The Makassar Annals William Cummings, 2013-04-09 Beginning in the 1630s a series of annalists at the main courts of Makassar began keeping records with dated entries that recorded a wide variety of specific historical information about a wide variety of topics including the births and deaths of notable individuals the actions of rulers the spread of Islam trade and diplomacy the built environment ritual activity warfare internal political struggles social and kinship relations eclipses and comets and more These Lontaraq bilang were a clear departure in form and function from the genealogically structured chronicles being composed about the ruling families of Gowa and Talloq in the same era By the end of 1751 nearly 2400 entries had been completed These records are a rich lode of information for scholars interested in virtually any aspect of life in premodern Makassar and are a rare and precious resource for scholars of Southeast Asia This is the first English translation and annotation of the annals Intertidal History in Island Southeast Asia Jennifer L. Gaynor, 2016-06-15 Intertidal History in Island Southeast Asia shows the vital part maritime Southeast Asians played in struggles against domination of the seventeenth century spice trade by local and European rivals Looking beyond the narrative of competing mercantile empires it draws on European and Southeast Asian sources to illustrate Sama sea people s alliances and intermarriage with the sultanate of Makassar and the Bugis realm of Bon Contrasting with later portrayals of the Sama as stateless pirates and sea gypsies this history of shifting political and interethnic ties among the people of Sulawesi s littorals and its land based realms along with their shared interests on distant coasts exemplifies how regional maritime dynamics interacted with social and political worlds above the high water mark Anglo-Dutch Connections in the Early Modern World Sjoerd Levelt, Esther van Raamsdonk, Michael D. Rose, 2023-02-10 This ground breaking collection reveals the networks of interrelation between Early Modern England and the Dutch Republic As people ideas and goods moved back and forth across the North Sea or spread further afield in the vanguard of globalisation and empire Anglo Dutch relations shaped all aspects of life with profound implications still relevant today A diverse range of expert scholars share new research in their discipline ranging across technology trade politics religion and the arts Different aspects of this history of competition alliance migration and conflict are taken up by each chapter providing the reader with detailed case studies as well as the broader background and its historical roots Anglo Dutch Connections in the Early Modern World aims to be both accessible and innovative It will be essential to students and researchers interested in European politics intellectual history and shared Anglo Dutch society while showcasing current research in multiple facets of the Early Modern World The Wheel-Turner and His House Geok Goh, 2014-11-30 The recorded history of precolonial Burmese empire and the modern state of Myanmar starts with the kingdom of Bagan in the eleventh century The oldest surviving written records and structures are from the reign of King Anawrahta 1044-1077 Anawrahta converted to Theravada Buddhism and created a vibrant Buddhist state in the Irrawaddy River basin Anawrahta is a folk hero to this day in Myanmar and is widely credited as a charismatic and pious leader who consolidated various ethnic groups throughout the region into a single nation The Wheel-Turner and His House traces the archaeological and historical record of Anawrahta and his seminal position in forming modern Myanmar based on the few sources that have been recovered The Great Chronicle an important history of the country written by the 18th century Burmese nobleman U Kala forms the basis for much of the knowledge we have about Anawrahta today Geok Yian Goh examines U Kala's work in light of the context of U Kala's own time and points out the bias of his royal court as well as the scribe's personal views from the elaborate narratives he produced She looks at other sources as well including unpublished palm leaf manuscripts to disentangle earlier knowledge about Anawrahta and eleventh century Bagan Placing the overall study of Burmese historical tradition within the larger manuscript culture of Asia Goh presents a critique of theoretical issues in history especially the relationship between the past and memory In order to analyze the expansion of Anawrahta's historical image that formed the development of a Buddhist ecumene in the eleventh and twelfth centuries Goh utilizes published and unpublished texts in Burmese and classical Chinese along with northern Thai and Sri Lankan texts many of which Goh makes available for the first time in English Asian Expansions Geoff Wade, 2014-10-17 Asia as we know it today is the product of a wide range of polity expansions over time Recognising the territorial expansions of Asian polities large and small through the last several millennia helps rectify the fallacy long held and deeply entrenched that Asian polities have been interested only in the control of populations not in expanding their command of territory In countering this misapprehension this book suggests that Asian polities have indeed been concerned with territorial control and expansion over time whether for political or strategic advantage trade purposes defence needs agricultural expansion or increased income through taxation The book explores the historical experiences of a set of polity expansions within Asia specifically in East and Southeast Asia and by examining the motivations mechanisms processes validations and limitations of these Asian territorial expansions reveals the diverse avenues by which Asian polities have grown. The chapters draw on these historical examples to highlight the connections between Asian polity expansion and centralised political structures and this aids in a broader and more comprehensive understanding of Asian political practice both past and present. Through these chapter studies and the integrative introduction the book interrogates key concepts such as imperialism and colonialism and the applicability and relevance of such terminology in Asian contexts both historical and contemporary. Comparisons and contrasts with European historical expansions are also suggested. This book will be welcomed by students and scholars of Asian history as well as by those with an interest in Asian interactions international relations polity expansion Asia Europe historical comparisons and globalisation. Environment, Trade and Society in Southeast Asia, 2015-03-20. In Environment Trade and Society in Southeast Asia. A. Longue Dur e. Perspective eleven historians bring their knowledge and insights to bear on the long Braudelian sweep of Southeast Asian history. In doing so they seek both to debunk simplistic assumptions about fragile traditions and transformational modernities and to identify real repeating patterns in Southeast Asia's past: clientelistic political structures, periodic tectonic and climatic disasters, ethnic occupational specializations, long cycles of economic globalization and deglobalization. Their contributions range across many centuries from the Austronesian expansion to the Aceh tsunami and from the Sanskrit cosmopolis to the Asian financial crisis. The book is inspired by and dedicated to Peter Boomgaard, a scholar whose work has embodied the Braudelian spirit in Southeast Asian historiography. This title is available online in its entirety in Open Access.

Perfection Makes Practice, Anna M. Gade, 2004-04-30. The last decade has seen widespread Islamic religious revitalization in Southeast Asia, a region with a Muslim population almost as large as that of the entire Arabic speaking Middle East. One such movement in the 1990s, Indonesia promoted engagement with the Qur'an through memorization, reading, skilled performance and popular competitions in recitation. This movement drew on longstanding structures of Islamic education and piety, social interests, Southeast Asian patterns of performance and aesthetics and unique features of the Qur'an itself. Based on fieldwork in South Sulawesi and elsewhere in Indonesia, Perfection Makes Practice vividly portrays Indonesian Muslims committed practice of perfecting their own and others' Qur'anic piety.
