Making Collaboration Work Julia M. Wondolleck, Steven Lewis Yaffee, 2000-05 The authors explain the need for collaboration in the management of natural resources and cite successful partnerships doing so including government agencies community groups businesses and individuals across the USA Implementing Innovation Toddi A. Steelman, 2010 Over the past three decades governments at the local state and federal levels have undertaken a wide range of bold innovations often in partnership with nongovernmental organizations and communities to try to address their environmental and natural resource management tasks Many of these efforts have failed Innovations by definition are transitory How then can we establish new practices that endure Toddi A Steelman argues that the key to successful and long lasting innovation must be a realistic understanding of the challenges that face it She examines three case studies land management in Colorado watershed management in West Virginia and timber management in New Mexico and reveals specific patterns of implementation success and failure Steelman challenges conventional wisdom about the role of individual entrepreneurs in innovative practice She highlights the institutional obstacles that impede innovation and its longer term implementation while offering practical insight in how enduring change might be achieved Social Networks and Natural Resource

Waller, Thomas P. Rooney, 2009-08-01 Straddling temperate forests and grassland biomes and stretching along the coastline of two Great Lakes Wisconsin contains tallgrass prairie and oak savanna broadleaf and coniferous forests wetlands natural lakes and rivers But like the rest of the world the Badger State has been transformed by urbanization and sprawl population growth and land use change For decades industry and environment have attempted to coexist in Wisconsin and the dynamic tensions between economic progress and environmental protection makes the state a fascinating microcosm for studying global environmental change The Vanishing Present brings together a distinguished set of contributors including scientists naturalists and policy experts to examine how human pressures on Wisconsin's changing lands waters and wildlife have redefined the state's ecology Though they focus on just one state the authors draw conclusions about changes in temperate habitats that can be applied elsewhere and offer useful insights into future of the ecology conservation and sustainability of Wisconsin and beyond A fitting tribute to the home state of Aldo Leopold and John Muir The Vanishing Present is an accessible and timely case study of a significant ecosystem and its response to environmental change Condos in the Woods Rebecca L. Schewe, Donald R. Field, Deborah J. Frosch, Gregory Clendenning, Dana Jensen, Rebecca Schewe, Donald Field, Deborah Frosch, 2012-05-15 Scenic rural communities across the nation and around the world have been transformed as they have shifted away from extractive industries such as agriculture mining and forestry and toward recreation based development relying on tourism vacation homes and retirees These communities have built new economies and identities based on local natural resources and are highly dependent on the natural environment With these changes have come new questions Do retirees and seasonal
