Eating Her Curries and Kway Nicole Tarulevicz,2013-12-15 Discovering Singaporean identity through cooking and cuisine While eating is a universal experience for Singaporeans it carries strong national connotations The popular Singaporean English phrase Die die must try is not so much hyperbole as it is a reflection of the lengths that Singaporeans will go to find great dishes In Eating Her Curries and Kway A Cultural History of Food in Singapore Nicole Tarulevicz argues that in a society that has undergone substantial change in a relatively short amount of time food serves Singaporeans as a poignant connection to the past Eating has provided a unifying practice for a diverse society a metaphor for multiracialism and recognizable national symbols for a fledgling state Covering the period from British settlement in 1819 to the present and focusing on the post 1965 postcolonial era Tarulevicz tells the story of Singapore through the production and consumption of food Analyzing a variety of sources that range from cookbooks to architectural and city plans Tarulevicz offer a thematic history of this unusual country which was colonized by the British and operated as a port within Malaya

Connecting food culture to the larger history of Singapore she discusses various topics including domesticity and home economics housing and architecture advertising and the regulation of food related manners and public behavior such as hawking littering and chewing gum Moving away from the predominantly political and economic focus of other histories of Singapore Eating Her Curries and Kway provides an important alternative reading of Singaporean society The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues Ken Albala, 2015-03-27 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues explores the topic of food across multiple disciplines within the social sciences and related areas including business consumerism marketing and environmentalism In contrast to the existing reference works on the topic of food that tend to fall into the categories of cultural perspectives this carefully balanced academic encyclopedia focuses on social and policy aspects of food production safety regulation labeling marketing distribution and consumption A sampling of general topic areas covered includes Agriculture Labor Food Processing Marketing and Advertising Trade and Distribution Retail and Shopping Consumption Food Ideologies Food in Popular Media Food Safety Environment Health Government Policy and Hunger and Poverty This encyclopedia introduces students to the fascinating and at times contentious and ever so vital field involving food issues Key Features Contains approximately 500 signed entries concluding with cross references and suggestions for further readings Organized A to Z with a thematic Reader's Guide in the front matter grouping related entries by general topic area Provides a Resource Guide and a detailed and comprehensive Index along with robust search and browse functionality in the electronic edition This three volume reference work will serve as a general non technical resource for students and researchers who seek to better understand the topic of food and the issues surrounding it Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2022-05-30 Home articulates a critical geography of home in which home is understood as an emotive place and spatial imaginary that encompasses lived experiences of everyday domestic life alongside a wider and often contested sense of being and belonging in the world Engaging with the burgeoning cross disciplinary interest in home since the first edition was published this significantly revised and updated second edition contains new research boxes illustrations and contemporary examples throughout It also adds a new chapter on Home and the City that extends the scalar understanding of home to the urban The book develops the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of a critical geography of home drawing on key feminist postcolonial and housing thinkers as well as contemporary methodological currents in non representational thinking and performance The book's chapters consider the making and unmaking of home across the domestic scale house as home the urban city as home national nation as home and homemaking in relation to transnational migration and diaspora Each chapter includes illustrative examples from diverse geographical contexts and historical time periods Chapters also address some of the key cross cutting dimensions of home across these scales including digital connectivity art and performance more than human constructions of home and violence and dispossession The book ends with a research agenda for home in a world of COVID 19 The book provides an understanding of home that has three intersecting dimensions that material and imaginative geographies of home are closely intertwined that home power and identity are intimately linked and that geographies of home are multi scalar This framework the examples used to illustrate it and the intended audience of academics and students across the humanities and social sciences will together shape the field of home studies into the future The Birth of the English Kitchen, 1600-1850 Sara Pennell,2016-06-30 Tracing the emergence of the domestic kitchen from the 17th to the middle of the 19th century Sara Pennell explores how the English kitchen became a space of specialised activity sociability and strife Drawing upon texts images surviving structures and objects The Birth of the English Kitchen 1600 1850 opens up the early modern English kitchen as an important historical site in the construction of domestic relations between husband and wife masters mistresses and servants and householders and outsiders and as a crucial resource in contemporary heritage landscapes Food and Drink in American History Andrew F. Smith,2013-10-28 This three volume encyclopedia on the history of American food and beverages serves as an ideal companion resource for social studies and American history courses covering topics ranging from early American Indian foods to mandatory nutrition information at fast food restaurants The expression you are what you eat certainly applies to Americans not just in terms of our physical health but also in the myriad ways that our taste preferences eating habits and food culture are intrinsically tied to our society and history This standout reference work comprises two volumes containing more than 600 alphabetically arranged historical entries on American foods and beverages as well as dozens of historical recipes for traditional American foods and a third volume of more than 120 primary source documents Never before has there been a reference work that coalesces this diverse range of information into a single set The entries in this set provide information that will transform any American history research project into an engaging learning experience Examples include explanations of how tuna fish became a staple food product for Americans how the canning industry emerged from the Civil War the difference between Americans and people of other countries in terms of what percentage of their income is spent on food and beverages and how taxation on beverages like tea rum and whisky set off important political rebellions in U S history
