Making Our High Schools Better Anne Wescott Dodd, Jean L. Konzal, 2000-09-02 Calling on teachers and parents to work together two noted educators examine how teachers and parents can better understand their varying perspectives and negotiate their differences to improve high schools How Communities Build Stronger Schools A. Dodd, J.

Konzal, 2016-03-05 If it takes a village to raise a child Anne Wescott Dodd and Jean L. Konzal feel that it takes a community to make a school Not content with the idea of a school being contained within four walls and existing only for a few hours every day Dodd and Konzal know that a school which looks after the complete child exists far beyond its four walls and for the whole 24 hours in each day They present a radical democratic vision of the public school where everyone not just students teachers and parents plays a part in shaping our children and consequently our future Resources in Education, 1998

Engaging All Families Steven M. Constantino, 2003-10-22 Families are a child's first and best teachers A significant amount of research exists that strongly links the engagement of families in the educational lives of their children as a strong foundation to the successful achievement of all students Educators cannot expect total engagement and high standards from students if both families and schools cannot form powerful alliances to guide those students to academic and lifelong success Putting research into practice remains one of the most significant barriers to engaging families with schools School leaders already stretched thin struggle to carve out the time and energy necessary to pour through research and create programs to promote family engagement within their school and community As principal of a large comprehensive and diverse high school Constantino solves this dilemma by providing a step by step process for practitioners to create family engagement programs at all levels Engaging All Families provides a summary of research that acts as a foundation upon which the practitioner's tools are crafted Readers are given the resources necessary to assess their present level of family engagement and the ideas strategies suggestions programs practices policies and procedures to implement a wide variety of customized family engagement programs Numerous resources and references are also included As a successful school administrator and nationally known expert in the field of family and community engagement Steven Constantino builds the bridge from research to practice with Engaging All Families and provides the information that allows all schools to become family friendly
