Making Of Telecommunications Policy:

The Making of Telecommunications Policy Dick Olufs, 1999 The Making of Telecommunications Policy examines the history politics and impact of telecommunications policy Beginning with a comparison of several alternate views of the future Olufs explains how government action makes the widespread use of some new technologies more likely than others He details the challenges that rapid advances in communications technologies pose for policymaking institutions and considers the ways that government responds to the ideological economic and political interests of industry private advocacy groups and individuals Olufs discussed the recent trend toward deregulation and provides a full analysis of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 including the politics of its enactment and its long term implications for both industry and the daily lives of citizens

Telecommunications Policy-making in the European Union Joseph W. Goodman, 2006-01-01 This book offers a good study of the development of telecommunications policy by the EU Great value to those interested in understanding both European telecommunications policy and more generally in how policy making operates in the EU Mark Thatcher West European Politics the book provides an interesting perspective on the evolution of nature of telecommunications policy making within the EU As a consequence the book should be of interest to telecommunications and politics government researchers alike Jason Whalley Communications Booknotes Quarterly This well written book deals with the emergence and shaping of telecommunications policy in Europe with a particular focus on the time period of 1987 1998 This book fills an important gap reviewing the initial formative years of European telecommunications policy development and liberalization in detail The book captures the complicated and interdependent policy formation process in Europe in a credible and thoughtful way without falling into the trap of admiring critical personalities and key actors The author has written an important and useful book which invites the research community to further explore the evolution of European telecommunications policy Erik Bohlin Communications Strategies Examining the emergence of a European Union telecommunications policy Joseph Goodman explains how and why the policy developed as it did and why certain reforms in the sector were easier to achieve than others He provides a history of the key actors in the policy making process from the first attempts by the national postal telegraph and telecommunication administrations to coordinate their telecommunications policies in the 1950s to the implementation of a comprehensive EU telecommunications regulatory structure in 1998 and the development of a new regulatory structure in 2003 The analytical framework employed by the author draws upon new institutionalism and actor based approaches providing an opportunity to evaluate the utility of a synthetic approach for examining and explaining EU policy making The focus of his analysis is on the European Commission s two pronged strategy of liberalisation and harmonisation which began in the late 1980s and culminated in an important milestone on January 1st 1998 when the EU Member States fully opened their telecommunications markets to competition He concludes that a synthetic approach which enables the researcher to apply a number of approaches to multiple settings and various levels of analysis is useful even necessary in understanding and explaining the many dimensions of EU policy making This authoritative study will be of interest to all those in the telecommunications industry including attorneys consultants and lobbyists who would like to know how the EU s policy developed It will appeal more generally to political scientists and scholars of European history and politics The Making of Telecommunications Policy Dick W. Olufs III,2022 Olufs examines the history politics and impact of telecommunications policy Telecommunication Policy Act United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Telecommunications and Finance,1990
