Making Of Textual Culture:

The Making of Textual Culture Martin Irvine, 1994-04-28 This is the a major study of the cultural work performed by grammatica the central discipline concerned with literacy language interpretation and literature in medieval society Grammatica was with all aspects of Latin literary text its language meaning and value Martin Irvine demonstrates that grammatica though the first of the liberal arts was not simply one discipline among many it had an essentially constitutive function defining language meaning and texts for other medieval disciplines Martin Irvine draws together several aspects of medieval culture literary theory the nature of literacy education biblical interpretation the literary canon and linguistic thought in order to disclose the more far reaching social effect of grammatica chief of which was the making of textual culture in the medieval West Rezension: Martin Irvine, "The Making of Textual Culture : "grammatica" and Literary Theory 350-1100" Michael Stolz, 1995 Rezension Martin Irvine: The Making of Textual Culture, "grammatica" and Literary Theory, 350-1100 Anna A. Grotans, 1997 The Development of Education in Medieval Iceland Ryder Patzuk-Russell, 2021-02-08 Medieval Iceland is known for the fascinating body of literary works it produced from ornate court poetry to mythological treatises to sagas of warrior poets and feud culture This book investigates the institutions and practices of education which lay behind not only this literary corpus but the whole of medieval Icelandic culture religion and society By bringing together a broad spectrum of sources including sagas law codes and grammatical treatises it addresses the history of education in medieval Iceland from multiple perspectives It shows how the slowly developing institutions of the church shaped educational practices within an entirely rural society with its own distinct vernacular culture It emphasizes the importance of Latin despite the lack of surviving manuscripts and teaching and learning in a highly decentralized environment Within this context it explores how medieval grammatical education was adapted for bilingual clerical education which in turn helped create a separate and fully vernacularized grammatical discourse Joinings Jonathan Davis-Secord, 2016-01-01 The first comprehensive study of the use of compound words in Old English poetry homilies and philosophy Joinings explores the effect of compounds on style pace clarity and genre in Anglo Saxon vernacular literature Jonathan Davis Secord demonstrates how compounds affect the pacing of passages in Beowulf creating slow motion narrative at moments of significant violence how their structural complexity gives rhetorical emphasis to phrases in the homilies of Wulfstan and how they help to mix quotidian and elevated diction in Cynewulf's Juliana and the Old English translations of Boethius His work demonstrates that compound words were the epitome of Anglo Saxon vernacular verbal art combining grammar style and culture in a manner unlike any other feature of Old English Guardians of Letters Kim Haines-Eitzen, 2000-12-07 Who were the scribes that copied early Christian literature during the second and third centuries What roles did they play in the reproduction and dissemination of these writings To answer these questions this study utilizes evidence from early Christian literature and the earliest Christian papyri including their form physical features and textual characteristics Textual Histories Thomas A. Bredehoft, 2001-01-01 What modern scholars have been too willing to dismiss as a scattershot collection of unrelated annals is Bredehoft argues a tool created to forge through linking literature and history a patriotic Anglo Saxon national identity The Matter of Capital Christopher Nealon, 2011-04-01 In this highly original reexamination of North American poetry in English from Ezra Pound to the present day Christopher Nealon demonstrates that the most vital writing of the period is deeply concerned with capitalism This focus is not exclusive to the work of left wing poets the problem of capitalism s effect on individuals communities and cultures is central to a wide variety of poetry across a range of political and aesthetic orientations Indeed Nealon asserts capitalism is the material out of which poetry in English has been created over the last century Much as poets of previous ages continually examined topics such as the deeds of King Arthur or the history of Troy poets as diverse as Jack Spicer John Ashbery and Claudia Rankine have taken as their matter the dynamics and impact of capitalism not least its tendency to generate economic and political turmoil Nealon argues persuasively that poets attention to the matter of capital has created a corresponding notion of poetry as a kind of textual matter capable of dispersal retrieval and disguise in times of crisis Offering fresh readings of canonical poets from W H Auden to Adrienne Rich as well as interpretations of younger writers like Kevin Davies The Matter of Capital reorients our understanding of the central poetic project of the last century Locations of Knowledge in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Kocku Von Stuckrad, 2010 Addressing discourses of perfect knowledge in Western culture between 1200 and 1800 this book integrates the study of Western esotericism in a larger analytical framework of European history of religion Indigenous Textual Cultures Tony Ballantyne, Lachy Paterson, Angela Wanhalla, 2020-08-10 The contributors to Indigenous Textual Cultures examined the ways in which indigenous peoples created textual cultures to navigate shape and contest empire colonialism and modernity
