Resources in Education ,1998 From Craft to Profession Mary N. Woods,2023-04-28 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during the late nineteenth century Instead she cites several instances in the early 1800s of craftsmen builders who shifted their identity to that of professional architects While struggling to survive as designers and supervisors of construction projects these men organized professional societies and worked for architectural education appropriate compensation and accreditation In such leading architectural practitioners as B Henry Latrobe Alexander J Davis H H Richardson Louis Sullivan and Stanford White Woods sees collaborators partners merchandisers educators and lobbyists rather than inspired creators She documents their contributions as well as those far less familiar of women architects and people of color in the profession s early days Woods s extensive research yields a remarkable range of archival materials correspondence among carpenters 200 year old lawsuits architect client spats the organization of craft guilds apprenticeships university programs and correspondence schools and the structure of architectural practices labor unions and the building industry In presenting a more accurate composite of the architectural profession s history Woods lays a foundation for reclaiming the profession s past and recasting its future Her study will appeal not only to architects but also to historians sociologists and readers with an interest in architecture s place in America today This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1999 This is the first in depth study of how the architectural profession emerged in early American history Mary Woods dispels the prevailing notion that the profession developed under the leadership of men formally schooled in architecture as an art during t Gender Studies in Architecture Dörte Kuhlmann, 2014-04-11 Analyzing a range of ideas from biological evolutionary and anthropological theories to a variety of feminist psychoanalytic poststructuralist and constructivist discourses this book provides a comprehensive introduction to the problematics of gender and power in architectural and urban design Topics range from conceptions of postulated matriarchal architecture in Old Europe to contemporary technologies of control from the mechanisms of gaze to architectural performatives from the under representation of women in the planning profession to the integration of gender issues to the curriculum The particular strengths of the book lie in its inclusiveness and critical analysis It is not a partisan defence of feminism or any other theory but a critical introduction to the issues relating to gender Moreover the conclusions reach beyond a narrow gender studies perspective to social and ethical considerations that are unavoidable in any responsible architectural or urbanistic practice With its broad range and balanced analysis of different theories the book is suitable as an overview of gender studies in architecture and useful for any designer who is concerned with the social effects of the built environment The Publishers Weekly ,1995 Housing Abstracts ,1997
