Penguin Of 20th Century Essays:

The Penguin Book of Twentieth-century Essays Ian Hamilton, 2000 Whether highly personal polemical philosophical or playful the essays in this fascinating collection capture their times with wit urgency erudition and insight Decade by decade the greatest British and American writers span the twentieth century including Orwell's England Your England Nancy Mitford on the upper classes Fitzgerald's Crack Up James Baldwin's harrowing Notes of a Native Son Martin Amis on US politics Tom Wolfe on radical chic and Julian Barnes on the Thatcher years Twentieth-Century War Poetry Philippa Lyon, 2004-10-28 Poets have written about wars throughout the 20th century questioning protesting and sometimes celebrating the nature and purpose of conflict Attracting an enthusiastic popular readership war poetry has often been seen as a way of remembering and reimagining wars Today war poems are not only part of our memorial culture on epitaphs and in Remembrance Day services but have inspired books and films and become studied widely around the world This Guide examines the genesis and development of the important genre of war poetry in the twentieth century focusing in particular on the role of the two world wars in the literary and cultural construction of a war poetry category Philippa Lyon draws upon a range of key historical and contemporary critical responses from poetic memoir and journalism to sophisticated academic criticism to demonstrate the rich diversity of expectations and evaluations elicited by the developing genre The Modern Essay in French Charles Forsdick, Andy Stafford, 2005 As a textual form the essai predominates in modern and contemporary literature in French Emerging from an earlier tradition and distinguished from its English language counterpart the French language essay ranges from Stéphane Mallarmé to Colette Victor Segalen to Aimé Césaire Jean Grenier to Pierre Michon The essai remains however one of the most hazily identified of textual forms its definition often depending on the progressive elimination of all other generic possibilities Excluded from the archigenres theatre poetry etc it can even be seen as a hold-all category whose role is to absorb the anarchic extremes of writing It is perhaps this very lack of pretension to orthodoxy that has drawn so many writers to the essai The conventional understanding of the term as a tentative unsystematic exploration stresses the genre's provisional nature its refusal of any claims to comprehensiveness The essai exploits the devices of anecdote illustration and humour it is addressed to a wide and often general audience it is also intricately linked to the performance of ideological and writerly strategies often reordering the classical art of rhetoric and persuasion As the contributions to this volume show there is a need to outline an ethics and politics as well as poetics of essayism Neurology Of The Arts: Painting, Music And Literature F Clifford Rose, 2004-04-21 This book is the first attempt to provide a basis for the interaction of the brain and nervous system with painting music and literature The introduction deals with the problems of creativity and which parts of the brain are involved Then an overview of art presents the multiple facets such as anatomy and the myths appearing in ancient descriptions of conditions such as polio and migraine The neurological basis of painters like Goya and van Gogh is analysed Other chapters in the section on art cover da Vinci's mechanics and the portrayal of epilepsy The section on music concerns the parts of the brain linked to perception and memory as well as people who cannot appreciate music and the effect of music on intelligence and learning the Mozart effect The section on literature relates to Shakespeare Dostoyevsky Conan Doyle James Joyce and the poetry of one of England's most famous neurologists Henry Head a Neurology of the Arts F. Clifford Rose, 2004 This book is the first attempt to provide a basis for the interaction of the brain and nervous system with painting music and literature The introduction deals with the problems of creativity and which parts of the brain are involved Then an overview of art presents the multiple facets such as anatomy and the myths appearing in ancient descriptions of conditions such as polio and migraine The neurological basis of painters like Goya and van Gogh is analysed Other chapters in the section on art cover da Vinci's mechanics and the portrayal of epilepsy The section on music concerns the parts of the brain linked to perception and memory as well as people who cannot appreciate music and the effect of music on intelligence and learning the Mozart effect The section on literature relates to Shakespeare Dostoyevsky Conan Doyle James Joyce and the poetry of one of England's most famous neurologists Henry Head

Family Britain, 1951-1957 David Kynaston, 2009-11-02 As in Austerity Britain an astonishing array of vivid intimate and unselfconscious voices drive the narrative The keen eyed Nella Last shops assiduously at Barrow Market as austerity and rationing gradually give way to relative abundance housewife Judy Haines relishing the detail of suburban life brings up her children in Chingford the self absorbed civil servant Henry St John perfects the art of grumbling These and many other voices give a rich unsentimental picture of everyday life in the 1950s We also encounter well known figures on the way such as Doris Lessing joining and later leaving the Communist Party John Arlott sticking up on Any Questions for the rights of homosexuals and Tiger's Roy of the Rovers making his goal scoring debut for Melchester All this is part of a colourful unfolding tapestry in which the great national events the Tories returning to power the death of George VI the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth the Suez Crisis jostle alongside everything that gave Britain in the 1950s its distinctive flavour Butlin's holiday camps Kenwood food mixers Hancock's Half Hour Ekco television sets Davy Crockett skiffle and teddy boys Deeply researched David Kynaston's Family Britain offers an unrivalled take on a largely cohesive ordered still very hierarchical society gratefully starting to move away from the painful hardships of the 1940s towards domestic ease and affluence The Familiar Essay, Romantic Affect and Metropolitan Culture Simon Peter Hull, 2018-06-11 Through close readings of diverse examples by Lamb De Quincey Hazlitt Irving and Poe this book argues that the familiar essay in the Romantic period embodies a quintessentially metropolitan mode of affect The generic traits of the essay astuteness of observation an ambulatory or paratactic movement of thought and an urbane tone of wry or ironic humour all predispose it to the expression of a detached non pathological state of mind This is a mind conditioned by the quickened pace assorted humanity and plenitude of spectacle which characterise urban and urbanised life In making a valuable genre based contribution to scholarship on the importance to Romantic studies of the city and metropolitan culture the traditional concept of Romantic affect is reassessed The book proposes a more complex and varied model than the simple binary one of a feeling reaction to Enlightenment reason Partly enacted within its own formal parameters and partly through its disruptive and genre transcending progeny the essayistic figure the familiar essay articulates a blithe and at times shocking and provocative discourse of an affect or a strategically and often satirical callousness Therefore the overall concept of affect in this period needs to be understood not as a unified entity opposed to Enlightenment reason but a dialogue between concurrent opposing modes played out against a dichotomized geo cultural landscape of the country and the city Essayistic un affect emerges in the end as an apolitical phenomenon a primary vehicle for the essayist's inherent scepticism sometimes enabling outright ridicule and at other times a tentative questioning or probing of both orthodox thought and emerging ideas from the rarefied liberalist sensibility of the Lake poets to the hubristic vanity of the colonial adventurer and from the allure of hedonistic Old World decadence to the proscriptive strictures of moralistic art Irish Elegies C. Arthur, 2009-06-22 In this book critically acclaimed author Chris Arthur continues his experiments with the mercurial literary genre of the essay using it in innovative ways to explore aspects of family place memory loss and meaning Through these unique prose meditations readers are led to a dozen unexpected windows on Ireland Begin Afresh Sisir Kumar Chatterjee, 2025-03-12 Begin Afresh The Evolution of Philip Larkin's Poetry offers incisive insightful and yet lucid analyses of all the individual poems contained in the four major collections of Larkin 1922 1985 It also deals with his Juvenile Poems Brunette Coleman poems those in In the Grip of Light and XX Poems as well as his last poems The book also discusses Larkin's novels and drafts It evaluates the critical opinions regarding various aspects of Larkin's poetry especially the issue of its development and shows that it may not follow a clearly identifiable linear chronological line of evolution but it does evolve in a subtle way from one phase of his career to the next The book explores how Larkin discovered his own original inimitable idiosyncratic poetic voice by truly democratising English poetry for the first time by writing accessible and pleasurable poetry and by forging a new poetic out of a philistine aesthetic which stands out as an artistic holotype It shows how Larkin restores the relation between poetry and the reading public a relation which was broken down by Modernist poets It also establishes how his poetic vision is neither optimistic nor pessimistic but realistic in that it preserves the universal human condition without moralising or philosophising The book aims to make a fresh departure in Larkin criticism and mark a new era in Larkin studies This volume will be of interest to students and researchers of Modernism twentieth century literature poetry language and literature

The Great War and the Death of God Charles A. O'Connor, 2014-04-07 A compelling analysis of how World War I spurred the rise of atheism and the subsequent effect on Western theology philosophy literature and art The catastrophic Great War left humanity in a world no longer trustworthy and reassuring but seemingly meaningless and indifferent Instead of redressing humanity's cosmic alienation postwar Western culture abandoned its concern for cosmic meaning lost its confidence in human reason and enabled the scientific worldview of neo Darwinian materialism to emerge and eventually dominate the Western mind According to the proponents of that worldview science is the only source of genuine truth nature is the product of a blind evolutionary process and reality at bottom is just physics and chemistry Thus God is dead and continued belief in a transcendently purposeful universe is intellectually indefensible and either disingenuous or delusional By turning away from the eternal questions about the nature of reality Western culture effectively ceded unwarranted credibility and prominence to neo Darwinian materialism including its recently strident New Atheism O'Connor revisits the 20th century's journey from Nietzsche's declaration of the death of God to the rise of materialism as the dominant worldview of western intelligentsia We live in a world that has largely expelled both mind and meaning from the citadels of serious intellectual pursuit and O'Connor's book is a fascinating and scholarly expedition into the how and why of that troubling development Carter Phipps author of Evolutionaries I found this topic to be top rate The book is well researched and conceived nicely narrated and analyzed and an original body of inquiry into a challenging fascinating intellectual tradition Ronald M Johnson Professor Emeritus of American History Georgetown University

The novel begins with Richard Pape, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
