Impossibility Fiction Derek Littlewood, Peter Stockwell, 1996 Impossibility fiction is an intergenre that has recently been the resort of many writers searching for new ways of understanding and expressing the real world of the imagination making use of fantasy alternative history and science fiction Coping with ideas that are both impossible and realistically constructed is the ultimate contemporary challenge of our technology The chapters of this book move towards establishing appropriate readings that allow contemporary readers to negotiate unreality a skill that the end of the millennium is making inevitably necessary Such strategies have long been the preserve of literary and cultural study and here a number of well regarded scholars and some new to the field make their contribution to an area that has become increasingly important in recent years From Mary Shelley to Philip K Dick Iain M Banks to J G Ballard taking in African American science fiction Jurassic Park and Kurt Vonnegut and exploring issues of alternative history and ideology feminism the holocaust characterisation and impossible geography this collection is an important source book for all those interested in the literature culture and philosophy of realistic impossible worlds TalentEd Jerry D. Readers Kathy Collins,2023-10-10 Primary grade teachers face an important challenge teaching children how to read while enabling them to build good habits so they fall in love with reading Many teachers find the independent reading workshop to be the component of reading instruction that meets this challenge because it makes it possible to teach the reading skills and strategies children need and guides them toward independence intention and joy as readers In Growing Readers Kathy Collins helps teachers plan for independent reading workshops in their own classrooms She describes the structure of the independent reading workshop and other components of a balanced literacy program that work together to ensure young students grow into strong well rounded readers Kathy outlines a sequence of possible units of study for a yearlong curriculum Chapters are devoted to the individual units of study and include a sample curriculum as well as examples of mini lessons and reading conferences There are also four Getting Ready sections that suggest some behind the scenes work teachers can do to prepare for the units Topics explored in these units include print and comprehension strategies reading in genres such as poetry and nonfiction connecting in school reading and out of school reading developing the strategies and habits of lifelong readers A series of planning sheets and management tips are presented throughout to help ensure smooth implementation We want our students to learn to read and we want them to love to read To do this we need to lay a foundation on which children build rich and purposeful reading lives that extend beyond the school day The ideas found in Growing Readers create the kind of primary classrooms where that happens

Baudelaire in Song Helen Abbott, 2017-11-03 Why do we find it hard to explain what happens when words are set to music This study looks at the kind of language we use to describe word music relations both in the academic literature and in manuals for singers or programme notes prepared by professional musicians Helen Abbott's critique of word music relations interrogates overlaps emerging from a range of academic disciplines including translation theory adaptation theory word music theory as well as critical musicology musicology and cognitive neuroscience It also draws on other resources whether adhesion science or financial modelling to inform a new approach to analysing song in a model proposed here as the assemblage model The assemblage model has two key stages of analysis The first stage examines the bonds formed between the multiple layers that make up a song setting including metre prosody form structure sound repetition semantics and live performance options The second stage considers the overall outcome of each song in terms of the intensity or stability of the words and music present in a song accretion dilution Taking the work of the major nineteenth century French poet Charles Baudelaire 1821-67 as its main impetus the volume examines how Baudelaire's poetry has inspired composers of all genres across the globe from the 1860s to the present day The case studies focus on Baudelaire song sets by European composers between 1880 and 1930 specifically Maurice Rollinat Gustave Charpentier Alexander Gretchaninov Louis Vierne and Alban Berg Using this corpus it tests out the assemblage model to uncover what happens to Baudelaire's poetry when it is set to music It factors in the realities of song as a live performance genre and reveals which parameters of song emerge as standard for French text setting and where composers diverge in their approach Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33
