Olver, 2002-11-30 This is an original contribution to the much debated area of the value that we should place on human life With the euthanasia issue highlighted in the public arena this book argues for a non absolutist highest value on life ethic and how that fits with society's current emphasis on individual autonomy By the use of everyday examples the impact of placing a

Lethal Force, the Right to Life and the ECHR Stephen Skinner, 2019-08-22 In its case law on the use of lethal and potentially lethal force the European Court of Human Rights declares a fundamental connection between the right to life in Article 2 of the European Convention on Human Rights and democratic society This book discusses how that connection can be understood by using narrative theory to explore Article 2 law s specificities and its deeper historical social and political significance Focusing on the domestic policing and law enforcement context the book draws on an extensive analysis of case law from 1995 to 2017 It shows how the connection with democratic society in Article 2 s substantive and procedural dimensions underlines the right to life s problematic duality as an expression of a basic value demanding a high level of protection and a contextually limited provision allowing states leeway in the use of force Emphasising the need to identify clear standards in the interpretation and application of the right to life the book argues that Article 2 law s narrative dimensions bring to light its core purposes and values These are to extract meaning from pain and death ground democratic society s foundational distinction between acceptable force and unacceptable violence and indicate democratic society s essential attributes as a restrained responsible and reflective system

On Human Rights James Griffin, 2008-02-14 What is a human right How can we tell whether a proposed human right really is one How do we establish the content of particular human rights and how do we resolve conflicts between them These are pressing questions for philosophers political theorists jurisprudents international lawyers and activists James Griffin offers answers in his compelling new investigation of the foundations of human rights First On Human Rights traces the idea of a natural right from its origin in the late Middle Ages when the rights were seen as deriving from natural laws through the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries when the original theological background was progressively dropped and natural law emptied of most of its original meaning By the end of the Enlightenment the term human rights droits de l homme appeared marking the purge of the theological background But the Enlightenment in putting nothing in its place left us with an unsatisfactory incomplete idea of a human right Griffin shows how the language of human rights has become debased There are scarcely any accepted criteria either in the academic or the public sphere for correct use of the term He takes on the task of showing the way towards a determinate concept of human rights based on their relation to the human status that we all share He works from certain paradigm cases such as freedom of expression and freedom of worship to more disputed cases such as welfare rights for instance the idea of a human right to health His goal is a substantive account of human rights an account with enough content to tell us whether proposed rights really are rights Griffin emphasizes the practical as well as theoretical urgency of this goal as the United Nations recognized in 1948 with its Universal Declaration the idea of human rights has considerable power to improve the lot of humanity around the world We can't do without the idea of human rights and we need to get clear about it It is our job now the job of this book to influence and develop the unsettled discourse of human rights so as to complete the incomplete idea Death, the Gateway to Life Gilbert Shaw, 2024-05-03 Fairacres Publication 15 St Paul assures us of life after death and of the resurrection to eternal life In this selection from Fr Gilbert Shaw's teaching on the Christian approach to death we are given guidance in preparing for our own deaths and helping others to prepare for theirs We are urged too to pray for all drawing close to death especially those who for whatever reason have little hope in God's mercy
