Risk Reliability Uncertainty And Robustness Of Water Resource Systems:

Risk, Reliability, Uncertainty, and Robustness of Water Resource Systems Janos J. Bogardi, Zbigniew W. Kundzewicz, 2002-01-28 Risk Reliability Uncertainty and Robustness of Water Resource Systems is based on the Third George Kovacs Colloquium organized by the International Hydrological Programme UNESCO and the International Association of Hydrological Sciences. Thirty five leading scientists with international reputations provide reviews of topical areas of research on water resource systems including aspects of extreme hydrological events floods and droughts water quantity and quality dams reservoirs and hydraulic structures evaluating sustainability and climate change impacts. As well as discussing essential challenges and research directions the book will assist in applying theoretical methods to the solution of practical problems in water resources. The authors are multi disciplinary stemming from such areas as hydrology geography civil environmental and agricultural engineering forestry systems sciences operations research mathematics physics and geophysics ecology and atmospheric sciences. This review volume will be valuable for graduate students scientists consultants administrators and practising hydrologists and water managers. Simonović, 2009 First Published in 2008 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company. Life From, For and To Water Janos J. Bogardi, 2025-05-23 This book is translated from Hungarian. It was originally published as the sixth volume of the Building the Future in Water Resources Management series of the Water Science Council of the Hungarian Water Resources Management Directorate. It presents the water resources management of the last 50 plus years as seen experienced co shaped and narrated by Janos Bogardi a research professor of the Ludovika University of Public Service in Budapest. The author is simultaneously co opted professor at the University of Bonn and distinguished adjunct professor of the Asian Institute of Technology Pathumthani Thailand. Born into a water resources engineering family and growing up in Budapest close to the Danube river pre determined his professional orientation. He describes with light irony and without the usual memoir style his search for a fulfilling professional life. He discusses his engagement with the inter university cooperation helping the transition of Central European universities earning him numerous academic recognitions. Dr Bogardi's career culminated with assignments as science diplomat and manager working at UNESCO with local scientists in Central Asia Russia and in

Africa He served as founding director of the UNU Institute for Environment and Human Security The book concludes with reminiscences to those whose influence and collaboration shaped Dr Bogardi's career

The Foreseeable Future for Water Planning Andrew James Segrave, 2014-09-14 People and societies conceptualise and experience time in fundamentally different ways This basic aspect of perception significantly influences the way we frame problems and conceive solutions This book shows how time perspectives differ across national cultures and across professional roles It shows how these differences generate ambiguity when it comes to defining problems and devising solutions in the water sector This is especially important when dealing with problems such as Sustainable Water Resources Management and Climate Change that involve culturally and professionally diverse stakeholders Response strategies to such problems inherently require concerted action because of the large spatial and temporal scale on which they take place and to minimise the occurrence of conflicting interventions This disparity between diverse problem perceptions and the need for collective understanding and united action is increasingly recognised as an important concern in the field of water resource management The conclusions are important because the time horizons considered in planning and setting research agendas influence what problems are perceived what questions are asked and what solutions are sought In general more time needs to be invested in framing problems This is particularly important for participatory planning and transdisciplinary research where the diversity in Motivational Space is greatest It is recommended that Motivational Space be collectively and explicitly framed from the outset of all planning projects especially in terms of Temporal Extent When it comes to setting research agendas it is important to match the Motivational Space of those who prioritize the questions with the goal of the research programme
