Handbook of Research in Education Finance and Policy Helen F. Ladd, Edward B. Fiske, 2012-08-21 Sponsored by the Association for Education Finance and Policy AEFPP this groundbreaking new handbook assembles in one place the existing research based knowledge in education finance and policy thereby helping to define this evolving field of research and practice It provides a readily available resource for anyone seriously involved in education finance and policy in the United States and around the world The Handbook traces the evolution of the field from its initial focus on school inputs and the revenue sources used to finance these inputs to a focus on educational outcomes and the larger policies used to achieve them It shows how the current decision making context in school finance inevitably interacts with those of governance accountability equity privatization and other areas of education policy Because a full understanding of the important contemporary issues requires input from a variety of perspectives the Handbook draws on contributors from a variety of disciplines While many of the chapters cover complex state of the art empirical research the authors explain key concepts in language that non specialists can understand School Choice Policies and Outcomes Walter Feinberg,Christopher Lubieniski,2008-10-16 Perhaps no school reform has generated as much interest and controversy in recent years as the proposal to have parents select their children s schools Opponents of school choice fear that rolling back the government s role will lead to profit driven financial scandals sectarianism and increased class and racial isolation School choice advocates believe that state provision oversight and regulation stifle entrepreneurial creativity The contributors to this volume not only provide a clear assessment of the logic and evidence supporting the different sides of the debate but also unmask the assumptions about the relationship between markets government and educational achievement Their message is that neither markets nor government alone will guarantee freedom equality achievement or community If choice is to improve education and advance equality then educational policy cannot be placed on automatic and left to the free market Rather choice policy must be deliberately directed toward meeting these goals and this book shows how that could be accomplished No Child Left Behind and other Federal Programs for Urban School Districts Frank Brown,Richard C. Hunter,2006-07-04 The No Child Left Behind NCLB Act is designed to close the achievement gap between disadvantaged and disadvantaged children through its Title I program This book explores models to achieve equity in Title I schools and defines what is required of states in Title I schools It examines how each state implements NCLB accountability standards The Color of School Reform Jeffrey R. Henig,Richard C. Hula,Marion Orr,Desiree S. Pedescleaux,2001-01-22 Why is it so difficult to design and implement fundamental educational reform in large city schools in spite of broad popular support for change How does the politics of race complicate the challenge of building and sustaining coalitions for improving urban schools These questions have provoked a great deal of theorizing but this is the first book to explore the issues on the basis of extensive solid evidence Here a group of political scientists examines education reform in Atlanta Baltimore Detroit and Washington D C where local governmental authority has passed from white to black leaders The authors show that black administrative control of big city school systems has not translated into broad improvements in the quality of public education within black led cities Race can be crucial however in fostering the broad civic involvement perhaps most needed for school reform In each city examined reform efforts often arise but collapse partly because leaders are unable to craft effective political coalitions that would commit community resources to a concrete policy agenda What undermines the leadership according to the authors is the complex role of race in each city First public authority does not guarantee access to private resources usually still controlled by white economic elites Second local authorities must interact with external actors at the state and national levels who remain predominantly white Finally issues of race divide the African American community itself and often place limits on what leaders can and cannot do Filled with insightful explanations together with recommendations for policy change this book is an important component of the debate now being waged among researchers education activists and the community as a whole Key Legal Issues for Schools Charles J. Russo,2013-01-04 While no single book can ever hope to cover all of the myriad of legal topics that school business officials and other educational leaders must master in their professional lives this book will serve as an up to date and ready source of information to help keep them abreast o Education Finance in the New Millenium Stephen Chaikind,William J. Fowler,2013-09-05 The 2001 Yearbook of the AEFA reaffirms the connections between the field of education finance and the wider education community Among the topics it examines are curricula reform outcome assessment accountability community control and privatization 2001
