the first critical edition of the works of Andrew Lang 1844 1912 the Scottish writer whose enormous output spanned the whole range of late nineteenth century intellectual culture Neglected since his death partly because of the diversity of his interests and the volume of his writing his cultural centrality and the interdisciplinary nature of his work make him a vital figure for contemporary scholars This volume covers Lang s wide and influential engagement with the central areas of late nineteenth century anthropology Lang made decisive interventions in debates around the meaning of folk tales and the origins of religion as well as being an important figure in the investigation of spiritualist claims through psychical research The work reproduced here includes journalism essays extracts from books and previously unpublished letters which together articulate and challenge some of the central ideas and discussions of the period including evolution the relation between modern and non modern cultures the nature of scientific claims to truth and the consequences of materialism The volume will provide new and illuminating ways of understanding and assessing the period for scholars across a range of disciplines including those interested in the histories of the fairy story of science of the occult of colonialism and of anthropology

Key Features Unpublished archival material Critical introductions to the major areas of his work Full explanatory notes

Andrew Teverson is Professor of English Literature and Associate Dean for the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences at Kingston University London His research centres on the use and meaning of fairy tales and he has published both on the employment of them in contemporary writing and on the historical development of the form He is the author of Fairy Tale Routledge 2013

Alexandra Warwick is Professor of English Studies and Head of the Department of English Linguistics and Cultural Studies at the University of Westminster Her research is on Victorian culture in particular the fin de siècle

Leigh Wilson is Reader in Modern Literature in the Department of English Linguistics and Cultural Studies at the University of Westminster Her research focuses on modernism on the place of supernatural and occult beliefs and practices in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and on the contemporary British novel She is the author of Modernism and Magic Experiments with Spiritualism Theosophy and the Occult EUP 2013

Folklore and Nationalism in Europe During the Long Nineteenth Century, 2012-07-25 The growth of nations national ideologies and the accompanying quest for the authentic among the people has been a subject of enquiry for many disciplines Building upon wide ranging scholarship this interdisciplinary study seeks to analyse the place of folklore in the long nineteenth century throughout Europe as an important symbol in the growth and development of nations and nationalism and in particular to see how combining perspectives from History Literary Studies Music and Architecture can help provide enhanced and refreshing perspectives on the complex process of nation building With a range of detailed case studies drawing upon archival literary visual and musical sources as well as material culture it raises questions about individual countries but also about links and similarities across Europe
