Horigan, 1950 Protective Coatings for Metals John William Gailer, Ernest James Vaughan, 1950 This book has been written with the object of presenting information upon protective coatings in the light of advances made in this field during the last decade The authors have recognised the needs of both manufacturers and inspecting authorities and have attempted to meet both at the same time maintaining a theoretical background in the hope that this will encourage readers to approach their problems from this angle Preface Protective Coatings on Metals, 1986 Active Protective Coatings Anthony E. Hughes, Johannes M.C. Mol, Mikhail L. Zheludkevich, Rudolph G. Buchheit, 2016-03-01 This book covers a broad range of materials science that has been brought to bear on providing solutions to the challenges of developing self healing and protective coatings for a range of metals The book has a strong emphasis on characterisation techniques particularly new techniques that are beginning to be used in the coatings area It features many contributions written by experts from various industrial sectors which examine the needs of the sectors and the state of the art The development of self healing and protective coatings has been an expanding field in recent years and applies a lot of new knowledge gained from other fields as well as other areas of materials science to the development of coatings It has borrowed from fields such as the food and pharmaceutical industries who have used polymer techniques sol gel science and colloidosome technology for a range of encapsulation techniques It has also borrowed from fields like hydrogen storage such as from the development of hierarchical and other materials based on organic templating as nanocontainers for the delivery of inhibitors In materials science recent developments in high throughput and other characterisation techniques such as those available from synchrotrons are being increasingly used for novel characterisation one only needs to look at the application of these techniques in self healing polymers to gauge wealth of new information that has been gained from these techniques This work is largely driven by the need to replace environmental pollutants and hazardous chemicals that represent risk to humans such as chromate inhibitors which are still used in some applications Smart Protective Coatings for Corrosion Control Lingwei Ma, Dawei Zhang, 2024-03-25 Smart Protective Coatings for Corrosion Control Overview of the latest research in advanced coatings for anticorrosion and the development of optimized surfaces with high anticorrosion ability Smart Protective Coatings for Corrosion Control introduces the newest research developments in self healing coatings self reporting coatings and superhydrophobic coatings reviewing corrosion processes and strategies smart coatings for corrosion protection techniques for synthesizing and applying smart coatings different kinds of self healing and self reporting coatings activated by different environmental stimuli and current and future trends of protective coatings for automotive aerospace marine nuclear oil gas and military applications This book also discusses new ideas in the field such as the combination of self healing and self reporting properties new techniques to study localized microscale electrochemical corrosion behavior as well as atmospheric corrosion monitor technique to study the real time protection behavior of coatings in different environments The processes of coating degradation and metal corrosion are discussed in detail so that non experts can gain a basic understanding of the corrosion protection techniques Written by two highly qualified academics with significant research experience in the field Smart Protective Coatings for Corrosion Control includes information on Coating preparation filler preparation surface characterization macroscopic and microscopic electrochemical properties and self healing performance of self healing coating systems under different environmental stimuli Photothermal conversion species such as graphene oxide titanium nitride and Fe_3O_4 Different types of corrosion indicators such as phenolphthalein sulfosalicylic acid modified carbon dots and phenanthroline High mobility polymer networks that endow a shape memory effect and allow coatings to recover their original shape and barrier properties Solutions to three corrosion conditions room temperature immersion alternating wet dry and outdoor atmospheric exposure conditions Presenting the latest research in the field Smart Protective Coatings for Corrosion Control is a practical and highly valuable reference on the subject for scientists researchers and students in diverse programs of study
