This Rebellious House Steven J. Keillor, 1996-10-03 Examining United States history from Columbus to Clinton Steven J. Keillor disabuses us of the notion that our nation has ever been a genuinely Christian one He focuses on various political economic and cultural policies or events the Civil War westward expansion that are now often cited to disprove or debunk Christianity

Critical Theology against US Militarism in Asia Nami Kim, Wonhee Anne Joh, 2016-12-24 Drawing on cultural studies scholar Kuan Hsing Chen's threefold notion of decolonization deimperialization and de cold war this book provides analyses of the interrelated issues concerning the relationship between Christianity and the United States imperialist militarism in the Asia Pacific Contributors explore the effects of US imperialist militarism on the formation of Asian and Asian American collective subjectivity and inter/intra subjectivity The book investigates the ways in which Christianity broadly defined in its own complexity has been complicit in maintaining and reinforcing US imperialist military agendas in both national and international contexts Conversely the volume also discusses the various sites and instances where Christianity has managed to serve as a force of resistance against US imperialist militarism

Paths to Power Michael J. Hogan, 2000-02-13 Paths to Power includes essays on US foreign relations from the founding of the nation through the outbreak of World War II Essays by leading historians review the literature on American diplomacy in the early Republic and in the age of Manifest Destiny on American imperialism in the late nineteenth century and in the age of Roosevelt and Taft on war and peace in the Wilsonian era on foreign policy in the Republican ascendancy of the 1920s and on the origins of

World War II in Europe and the Pacific The result is a comprehensive assessment of the current literature helpful suggestions for further research and a useful primer for students and scholars of American foreign relations Woman's

World/Woman's Empire Ian Tyrrell, 2014-03-19 Frances Willard founded the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in 1884 to carry the message of women's emancipation throughout the world Based in the United States the WCTU rapidly became an international organization with affiliates in forty two countries Ian Tyrrell tells the extraordinary story of how a handful of women sought to change the mores of the world not only by abolishing alcohol but also by promoting peace and attacking prostitution poverty and male control of democratic political structures In describing the work of Mary Leavitt Jessie Ackermann and other temperance crusaders on the international scene Tyrrell identifies the tensions generated by conflict between the WCTU's universalist agenda and its own version of an ideologically and religiously based form of cultural imperialism The union embraced an international and occasionally ecumenical vision that included a critique of Western materialism and imperialism But at the same time its mission inevitably promoted Anglo American cultural practices and Protestant evangelical beliefs deemed morally superior by the WCTU Tyrrell also considers from a comparative perspective the peculiar links between feminism social reform and evangelical religion in Anglo American culture that made it so difficult for the WCTU to export its vision of a woman centered mission to other cultures Even in other Western states forging links between feminism and religiously based temperance reform was made virtually impossible by religious class and cultural barriers Thus the WCTU ultimately failed in its efforts to achieve a sober and pure world although its members significantly shaped the values of those countries in which it exercised strong influence As and urgently needed history of the first largescale worldwide women's organization and non denominational evangelical institution Woman's World Woman's Empire will be a valuable resource to scholars in the fields of women's studies religion history and alcohol and temperance studies
