Neal L. Cohen

Psychiatric Morbidity Report 1:

Assessing Forensic Mental Health Need Andrea Cohen, Nigel Eastman, 2000 Mentally disordered offenders MDOs have dominated the recent political agenda for mental health care emphasised by cases such as those of Christopher Clunis and Michael Stone Yet successive governments have constrained the development of all health and social services by the requirement that they must be demonstrated as capable of benefiting those to whom they are applied This book analyses the development of government policy for services for MDOs since the important Butler report in 1975 and provides a theoretical framework for adjudging research which purports to demonstrate a need and outcome Finally it emphasises the subjective and value laden nature of all needs assessments and their interpretation and poses the crucial questions of whose need it is that we address through MDO services those of the patient or of society This book will be valuable to clinicians and researchers working in mental health services policy makers service commissioners and managers Features An analysis of the history of the MDO policy in relation to needs assessment pre and post the important Reed Report A methodological framework for needs assessment of MDOs Critical appraisal of alternative definitions of needs and of related concepts Critical analysis of the application of needs assessment methods A review of research relevant to needs assessment for MDOs Needs in relation to outcome An analysis of recent policy development related to MDO services Social Inequalities and the Distribution of the Common Mental Disorders Tom Fryers, Rachel Jenkins, David Melzer, 2004-04-28 Social inequalities are established features of the distribution of physical disease in the UK and many other developed countries In most physical diseases a clear trend of poorer health is evident with each step down the hierarchy of social position By contrast the nature of the links between social position and mental illness in the general population has appeared less clear This lack of clarity is problematic as mental disorders are major causes of disability especially in adults of working age Social Inequalities and the Distribution of the Common Mental Disorders presents in depth and up to date research looking at the links between social position ethnicity and mental health Its findings will have implications for mental health professionals and policy makers

The Madness of Women Jane M. Ussher, Jane Ussher, 2011-03-28 Nominated for the 2012 Distinguished Publication Award of the Association for Women in Psychology Why are women more likely to be positioned or diagnosed as mad than men If madness is a social construction a gendered label as many feminist critics would argue how can we understand and explain women's prolonged misery and distress In turn can we prevent or treat women's distress in a non pathologising women centred way The Madness of Women addresses these questions through a rigorous exploration of the myths and realities of women's madness Drawing on academic and clinical experience including case studies and in depth interviews as well as on the now extensive critical literature in the field of mental health Jane Ussher presents a critical multifactorial analysis of women's madness that both addresses the notion that madness is a myth and yet acknowledges the reality and multiple causes of women's distress Topics include The genealogy of women's madness incarceration of difficult or deviant
