Reavey

Psychiatric Morbidity Report 3:

Psychiatric Morbidity Report 3 NA NA, 1996-01-09 The OPCS psychiatric morbidity reports present data on four surveys carried out during 1993 and 1994 Reports 1 3 cover the prevalence of psychiatric disorders among people living in private households physical complaints of people with psychiatric disorders and their use of services the receipt of treatments and how people with a neurotic disorder differ from those without one e.g. their economic activity social functioning their use of alcohol drugs and tobacco Assessing Forensic Mental Health Need Andrea Cohen, Nigel Eastman, 2000 Mentally disordered offenders MDOs have dominated the recent political agenda for mental health care emphasised by cases such as those of Christopher Clunis and Michael Stone Yet successive governments have constrained the development of all health and social services by the requirement that they must be demonstrated as capable of benefiting those to whom they are applied This book analyses the development of government policy for services for MDOs since the important Butler report in 1975 and provides a theoretical framework for adjudging research which purports to demonstrate a need and outcome Finally it emphasises the subjective and value laden nature of all needs assessments and their interpretation and poses the crucial questions of whose need it is that we address through MDO services those of the patient or of society This book will be valuable to clinicians and researchers working in mental health services policy makers service commissioners and managers Features An analysis of the history of the MDO policy in relation to needs assessment pre and post the important Reed Report A methodological framework for needs assessment of MDOs Critical appraisal of alternative definitions of needs and of related concepts Critical analysis of the application of needs assessment methods A review of research relevant to needs assessment for MDOs Needs in relation to outcome An analysis of recent policy development related to MDO services

Psychological distress in healthy, vulnerable, and diseased groups: Neurobiological and psychosocial bases, detection methods, and creative management strategies Amira Mohammed Ali, Rasmieh Al-amer, Maha Atout, 2023-06-06

Psychology, Mental Health and Distress John Cromby, David Harper, Paula Reavey, 2017-09-16 Is depression simply the result of chemical imbalances or Schizophrenia a wholly biological disorder What role do the broader circumstances of an individual's social cultural and heuristic world play in the wider scheme of their psychological wellbeing In this ground breaking and highly innovative text Cromby et al deliver an introduction to the the biopsychosocial paradigm for understanding and treating psychological distress taking into consideration the wider contexts that engender the onset of mental illness and critiquing the limitations in the sole use of the biomedical model in psychological practice Rather than biologically determined or clinically measurable readers are encouraged to consider mental illness as a subjective experience that is expressed according to the individual experiences of the sufferer rather than the rigidity of diagnostic categories

Similarly approaches to recovery expand beyond psychiatric medication to consider the fundamental function of methods such as psychotherapy community psychology and service user movements in the recovery process Offering a holistic account of the experience of psychological distress this text draws upon not only statistical evidence but places an integral emphasis on the service user experience anecdotal accounts of which feature throughout in order to provide readers with the perspective of the mental health sufferer Taking an integrative approach to the psychology of mental health the authors draw from a wealth of experience examples and approaches to present this student friendly and engaging text This is core reading for anyone serious about understanding mental health issues and is suitable for undergraduate students taking introductory courses in psychology and abnormal psychology Managing Manic Depressive Disorders Ved P. Varma,1997 The reasons for the onset of manic depression are considered in order to further understand and assist treatment by increasing knowledge of how manic depressives actually feel Particular difficulties in treatment are addressed such as unresponsiveness and the problem of the manic high from which the patient may not want to recover Good Practice in Adult Mental Health Tony Ryan,Jacki Pritchard,2004 This text is a guide to good practice within adult mental health care providing a comprehensive introduction to mental health and illness It is designed to aid mental health professionals and workers agencies and any individuals coming in to contact with mental illness in recognising a mental health need or problem and offering appropriate support This is an essential introduction written by practitioners and also draws from the personal experiences of service users and carers providing up to date and topical material covering major issues such as the concepts of mental health illness and recovery advocacy and empowerment legal and policy issues relating to practice gender and ethnicity in mental health violence and abuse The broad range of this book makes it an excellent resource for mental health practitioners whether experienced or new to the field support workers students and anyone interested in understanding the complexities of mental illness and the mental health system Health Care Needs Assessment Dr. Andrew Stevens,2004 Providing vital updates this two volume set describes the central role and aim of health care needs assessment in the NHS health care reforms and explains the epidemiological approach to needs assessment and the effectiveness and availability of services Contemporary Psychiatry Fritz Henn,Norman Sartorius,Hanfried Helmchen,Hans Lauter,2013-11-11 Contemporary Psychiatry is an international textbook developed on the basis of the experience with its first three German editions making it a work with long and distinguished tradition It combines the German tradition of phenomenology and diagnosis going back to Kraepelin with the Anglo American tradition and the DSM IV diagnostic system In doing so Contemporary Psychiatry becomes a unique source among psychiatric texts offering a truly international approach to state of the art knowledge and future perspectives of psychiatry The four internationally renowned editors were able to acquire the leading specialists as contributors No less than 120 authors from 10 different countries ensure an extremely high standard and guarantee the consideration of cross cultural aspects A special feature of Contemporary Psychiatry is that it includes chapters on psychiatric disorders caused by extreme circumstances such as for example migration torture rape violence and natural and man made disasters Reaching the Hard to Reach Geoffrey Baruch, Peter Fonagy, David Robins, 2007-01-11

Social inequality and social disadvantage provide an all too fertile soil that sustains the majority of the serious mental health problems suffered by children in our society The complexity of the issues clinicians routinely encounter in working with children with mental health problems is widely acknowledged However few books concern themselves with how such difficult populations can be effectively approached and the strategies that are likely to deliver effective treatment to them This book based on a highly successful seminar for grant giving children s charities held at the Anna Freud Centre and sponsored by John Lyon s Charity provides pragmatic solutions to this major therapeutic challenge of our age The chapters bridge statutory and voluntary initiatives and are held firmly together by the commitment to evidence based systematically offered programmatic and innovative approaches that can help those who although hard to reach are in greatest need of our efforts the socially excluded children and families in our society As such this book will be invaluable to psychologists psychotherapists counselors and family therapists
