Catalog of Educational Captioned Films/videos for the Deaf, 1993      Networks of Champions Christine A. DeGregorio, 2010-05-25 Media accounts of Congress emphasize conflict and the failure of Congress to enact legislation. Rarely do we see accounts of the successful efforts of members of Congress and outside advocacy groups to pass legislation dealing with important and controversial issues. In Networks of Champions Christine A. DeGregorio identifies who in the U.S. House of Representatives took the lead in shepherding six major bills dealing with welfare reform, drug control, international trade, farm policy, nuclear weapons testing, and assistance to the Contras through Congress, and how these champions of legislation worked with outside advocacy groups. DeGregorio finds that the champions of this legislation were drawn from a diverse group that included individuals both within and outside the formal hierarchy of leadership. The champions, who were not necessarily the prominent holders of important positions, are characterized by having knowledge of the subject matter, experience in the House, a facility for bargaining and compromise, the right committee assignments, and a commitment to hard work. DeGregorio traces how these groups become influential and how the groups affect the policy-making process. She finds a reciprocal process in which advocacy groups use champions to express their views, while champions use the resources of advocacy groups to gain influence in the House. Based on extensive interviews with key congressional staff members and the leaders of advocacy groups, DeGregorio provides critical new insights into the legislative process. This book will be of interest to those who study the legislative process and the role of interest groups in making American policy, a substantial contribution to our understanding of advocacy in Congress. Barbara Sinclair, University of California, Los Angeles. Christine A. DeGregorio is Associate Professor, Department of Government, School of Public Affairs, American University.      Television Specials Vincent Terrace, 2013-07-03 This is a complete revision of the author's 1993 McFarland book Television Specials that not only updates entries contained within that edition but adds numerous programs not previously covered, including beauty pageants, parades, awards programs, Broadway and opera adaptations, musicals produced especially for television, holiday specials (e.g., Christmas and New Year's Eve), the early 1936-1947 experimental specials, honors specials. Marill, 2008-12-30 Television has always augmented its dramatic and variety programming with sports After covering wrestling and boxing matches for several years ABC added the hugely popular Roller Derby between 1949 and 1951 and later college and pro football Today there is a multitude of pay and cable networks devoted exclusively to baseball football golf hockey tennis ice skating and auto racing Rather than focusing on live sports broadcasts however this book chronicles the history of sports themed comedies and dramas to see how our national fictions have affected our authentic sports experiences and vice versa Sports dominate the television landscape today and still the demand for more is so great that pay and cable networks continue to find funding and success even when devoted exclusively to a single sport But this is really nothing new television has always augmented its dramatic and variety programming with sports Live sports have had a tremendous impact on what we see on television and on how we see it Rather than focusing on live sports broadcasts however this book takes a critical look at sports themed comedies and dramas to see how our authentic sports affect our national fictions as well From the character studies that supplement Olympic coverage to nightly highlight reels to reality programming on ESPN sports both echo and help shape the myths that pervade our culture Sports on Television covers the changing relationship between live sports broadcasts and television dramas as well as the important technological developments and cultural shifts that have changed the way we view the reality of sports In 1949 after covering wrestling and boxing matches for several years ABC added the hugely popular Roller Derby and later moved on to college and pro football where humble beginnings have since developed into a national obsession In the early sixties Jimmy Stewart played a disgraced baseball player in Flashing Spikes which was also one of the rare ventures into television for veteran director John Ford On HBO the Yankees have been the subject of both 61 about Roger Maris s quest to top Babe Ruth s home run record and The Bronx Is Burning about the 1977 Yankees team And there have been sports themed TV sitcoms as well such as Sports Night Aaron Sorkin s critically lauded but commercially unsuccessful project which preceded his work on The West Wing Meanwhile American Gladiators a strange blend of canned programming and authentic athletic endeavor that in effect puts television audiences in an arena with what amounts to professional athletes is quickly becoming one of the most popular shows on primetime Here Marill gives due time to all of these unique projects      New York Magazine ,1989-06-19 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea      Sightlines ,1981
