Jerry Harp, 2010-12-28 When Donald Justice wrote in On a Picture by Burchfield that art keeps long hours he might have been describing his own life Although he early on struggled to find a balance between his life and art the latter became a way of experiencing his life more deeply He found meaning in human experience by applying traditional religious language to his artistic vocation Central to his work was the translation of the language of devotion to a learned American vernacular Art not only provided him with a wealth of intrinsically worthwhile experiences but also granted rich and nuanced ways of experiencing understanding and being in the world For Donald Justice recipient of some of poetry's highest laurels including the Pulitzer Prize the Bollingen Prize and the Lannan Literary Award for Poetry art was a way of life Because Jerry Harp was Justice's student his personal knowledge of his subject combined with his deep understanding of Justice's oeuvre works to remarkable advantage in For Us What Music Harp reads with keen intelligence placing each poem within the precise historical moment it was written and locating it in the context of the literary tradition within which Justice worked Throughout the text runs the narrative of Justice's life tying together the poems and informing Harp's interpretation of them For Us What Music grants readers a remarkable understanding of one of America s greatest poets Black Reconstruction in America (The Oxford W.
