Henderson, 2010-08-25 At the biological crossroads of the Americas Costa Rica hosts an astonishing array of plants and animals over half a million species Ecotourists birders and biologists come from around the world drawn by the likelihood of seeing more than three or four hundred species of birds and other animals during even a short stay To help all of these visitors as well as local residents identify and enjoy the wildlife of Costa Rica Carrol Henderson published Field Guide to the Wildlife of Costa Rica in 2002 and it became the instant and indispensable guide Now Henderson has created a dedicated field guide to the birds that travelers are most likely to see as well as to the unique or endemic species that are of high interest to birders Birds of Costa Rica covers 310 birds an increase of 124 species from the earlier volume with fascinating accounts of the birds natural history identification and behavior gleaned from Henderson's forty years of traveling and birding in Costa Rica All of the accounts include beautiful photographs of the birds most of which were taken in the wild by Henderson There are new updated distribution maps and a detailed appendix that identifies many of the country's best bird watching locations and lodges including contact information for trip planning purposes Gods of Noonday Elaine Neil Orr, 2003-08-29 The daughter of medical missionaries Elaine Neil Orr was born in Nigeria in 1954 in the midst of the national movement that would lead to independence from Great Britain But as she tells it in her captivating new memoir Orr did not grow up as a stranger abroad she was a girl at home only half American the other half Nigerian When she was sent alone to the United States for high school she didn't realize how much leaving Africa would cost her It was only in her forties in the crisis of kidney failure that she began to recover her African life In writing Gods of Noonday she came to understand her double rootedness in the Christian church and the Yoruba shrine the piano and the talking drum Memory took her back from Duke Medical Center in North Carolina to the shores of West Africa and her hometown of Ogbomosho in the land of the Yoruba people Hers was not the dysfunctional American family whose tensions are brought into high relief by the equatorial sun but a mission girlhood is haunted nonetheless by spiritual atmospheres and the limits of good intentions Orr's father Lloyd Neil formerly a high school athlete and World War II pilot and her mother Anne found in Nigeria the adventure that would have escaped them in 1950s America Elaine identified with her strong fun loving father more than her reserved mother but she herself was as introspective and solitary as her sister Becky was pretty and social Lloyd acquired a Chevrolet station wagon which carried Elaine and her friends to the Ethiopia River where they swam much as they might have in the United States But at night the roads were becoming dangerous and soon the days were clouded by smoke from the coming Biafran War Interweaving the lush mission compounds with Nigerian culture furloughs in the American South with boarding school in Nigeria and eventually Orr's failing health the narrative builds in intensity as she recognizes that only through recovering her homeland can she find the strength to survive Taking its place with classics such as Out of Africa and more recent works like The Poisonwood Bible and Don't Let's Go to the Dogs Tonight Gods of Noonday is a deeply felt courageous portrait of a woman's life
