

What I know of the sea

Ilhan Sami Çomak Translated by Caroline Stockford

from Separated from the Sun (2022)

Rains wander your face, the gentleness of dew is in your voice.

Let each and every spring be yours!
May all mountains tire and arrive here!

Here at the place where stars have spilled you where waters flow; the place where you say
Curl up on my lap and let birds take flight
In the place where we collected questions such as 'what was before words?'

What I know of love is so little!
Yet I'm constantly thinking of you!

of society not just its leaders for militarism During the Vietnam War soldier poets accepted themselves as both victims and perpetrators of war's misdeeds writing a nontraditional more personally candid war poetry The book not only discusses the poetry of trench warfare but also shows how the lives of civilians women and children in particular entered a global war poetry dominated by air power invasion and occupation Goldensohn argues that World War II blurred the boundaries between battleground and home front thus bringing women and civilians into war discourse as never before She discusses the interplay of fascination and disapproval in the texts of twentieth century war and notes the way in which homage to war hero and victim contends with revulsion at war's horror and waste In addition to placing the war lyric in literary and historical context the book discusses in detail individual poets such as Wilfred Owen W H Auden Keith Douglas Randall Jarrell and a group of poets from the Vietnam War including W D Ehrhart Bruce Weigl Yusef Komunyakaa David Huddle and Doug Anderson Dismantling Glory is an original and compelling look at the way twentieth century war poetry posited new relations between masculinity and war changed and complicated the representation of war and expanded the scope of antiwar thinking     The Anglo-American Encyclopedia and Dictionary: Dictionary department (A-Z) ,1904
