Critical perspectives on ageing societies Miriam Bernard, Thomas Scharf, 2007-05-16 This important book brings together some of the best known international scholars working within a critical gerontology perspective Together they review and update our understanding of how the field has developed over the last twenty five years and through the lens of passionate scholarship provide a challenging assessment of the complex practical and ethical issues facing older people and those who conduct research on ageing in the 21st century. The contributions extend the critical gerontological approach conceptually, methodologically and practically. They offer close and scholarly analysis of policies affecting the lives of older people and provide insights into why research is done in particular ways. Special attention is paid to feminist contributions and new approaches to working in partnership with older people, age discrimination and ageism, the impact of neo liberal policies and the passage of various human rights instruments, the re-medicalisation of later life, the participation of older people in research and justice between generations. The editors and contributors offer suggestions for promoting change and an exciting set of visions and perspectives for the renewal and development of critical gerontology in the years ahead. Critical Perspectives on Ageing Societies will be a valuable resource for all students, academics and practitioners interested in ageing and the life course. Oxford Textbook of Old Age

Psychiatry Tom Dening, Alan Thomas, 2013-09-26. Broad in scope and with global appeal, The Oxford Textbook of Old Age Psychiatry second edition is the definitive resource on old age psychiatry. It comprehensively provides the latest knowledge on the science and practice of treating later life mental disorders, focusing on the health and social issues that arise around ageing, dementia, co-morbidity, dependency and the end of life in progressively ageing societies across the world. Published in previous incarnations as the much-loved Psychiatry in the Elderly, this core resource for all old age psychiatrists, trainees and other clinical professionals treating older people's mental health has been fully revised, updated and significantly expanded. Twelve months' inclusive access to the online version, including the full text which can be browsed by the contents list, index or searched links from references to external sources via PubMed, ISI and CrossRef, and the ability to download all figures and illustrations into PowerPoint, ensures that it remains the leading text on old age psychiatry in the field. Maintaining the classic combination of comprehensive coverage, clear writing style and the provision of authoritative and up-to-date information from earlier editions, this highly respected volume covers the underpinning basic science, both the neurobiological and social varieties, clinical practice and specific disorders, as well as providing information on psychiatric services for older people and medico-legal and ethical issues that often present hard challenges for those treating older patients. Taking a global approach by highlighting both the common burdens and the differences in management from country to country and with a much expanded cast of contributors providing a truly international perspective, The Oxford Textbook of Old Age Psychiatry second edition includes information on all the latest improvements and changes in the field. New chapters are included to reflect the development of old age care, covering palliative care, the ethics of caring and living and dying with dementia. Existing chapters have also been revised and updated throughout, and additional information is included on brain stimulation therapies, memory clinics and services and capacity, which now includes all mental capacity and decision making. Providing extensive coverage and written by experts in the field, the second edition of The Oxford Textbook of Old Age Psychiatry is an essential resource for all old age psychiatrist trainees or anyone working in the field of mental health.

care for older people should be without a copy on their bookshelf Ageing and Diversity Daatland, Svein Olav, Biggs, Simon, 2006-04-05 Assessing the stereotyped conceptions of ageing this book explores the diversity of individual pathways of ageing the sources of identifications migration and otherness and the tension between social structures and personal agency It is aimed at academics students and practitioners in the fields of sociology social psychology and welfare Aging in Slavic Literatures Dagmar Gramshammer-Hohl, 2017-07-15 In Slavic studies aging and old age have thus far been only marginal concerns This volume brings together the scattered research that has been done up to now on aging as represented and narrated in Slavic literatures The essays investigate Bosnian Croatian Serbian Polish Russian Slovak Slovene and Ukrainian representations of age aging in various literary genres and epochs and analyze age as a powerful marker of difference and as constitutive of social relations and personal identity Geographical Gerontology Mark W. individual lives set in the context of the shift towards the more tolerant and permissive society of the 1960s and the rise of Thatcherite neo liberalism as the structures of Britain's post war settlement crumbled from the later 1970s The mass observers featured in the book four women and three men are drawn from across the social spectrum wife of a small businessman teacher social worker RAF wife mechanic lorry driver City banker all active and forceful characters with strong opinions and lives crowded with struggle and drama The honesty and frankness with which they wrote about themselves takes us below the surface of public life to the efforts of ordinary but exceptionally articulate and self reflective people to make sense of their lives in rapidly changing times Youth and Age in the Medieval North Shannon Lewis-Simpson,2008 This interdisciplinary volume explores social cultural and biological definitions of youth and age specific to the medieval north and changing mentalities towards youth and age as a result of political cultural and religious transformations in the north Communicating Health Nova Corcoran,2007-05-14 This text will be extremely useful for students on a range of health related courses as well as practitioners in the health field The application of theory to practice is particularly well presented Ruth Cross Senior Lecturer in Public Health and Health Promotion Leeds Metropolitan University Why is communication important in health How can good health and well being be promoted to the public How can these communication skills be improved Effective health communication is a critical aspect of healthcare at both the individual and wider public level Health practitioners are frequently involved in the design planning implementation and evaluation of programmes campaigns or policies in their work This engaging new textbook explores current research and practice in the field and examines the knowledge and skills needed by health practitioners to promote and improve the health of the population The book opens the debate around communication and health and the design of programmes to promote health and thus moves closer to achieving fundamental health promotion goals The book bridges the gap between communication theory and the implementation of policy contains practical advice for designing effective campaigns covers key topics such as health promotion theories and models communicating with the wider public communication in traditional and non traditional settings the role of the mass media and information technologies evidence based practice and methods of evaluation Communicating Health will be essential reading for students needing to understand the factors that contribute to effective communication in health It provides a detailed and up to date overview drawing upon material from several health related disciplines including public health health studies and nursing It will also be invaluable for health care professionals involved in public health who wish to reflect upon and develop their practice Nova Corcoran works as a Senior Lecturer in Health Promotion and Public Health at the University of East London She has a background in Health Promotion work in particular the planning design and delivery of health campaigns and programmes Politics of the Past David Cowan,2024-04-11 The inter war period 1918 1939 is still remembered as a period of mass deprivation the hungry thirties But how did this impression emerge Thousands of conversations about life in the inter war period between parents and children around the dinner table among workmates at the pub shaped these understandings In turn these fed into popular politics Stories about the embryonic welfare system in the early twentieth century informed how people felt towards the National Health Service memories of the Great Depression shaped arguments about state intervention in the economy Challenging accounts of widespread political disengagement in the twentieth century Politics of the Past shows how re telling family stories about the inter war period offered ordinary people an accessible way of engaging in politics Drawing on six local case studies across Scotland and England this book explains how stories about the inter war working class experience in industrial areas came to appear commonplace nationwide Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology Julia Twigg,Wendy Martin,2015-06-12

Later years are changing under the impact of demographic social and cultural shifts No longer confined to the sphere of social welfare they are now studied within a wider cultural framework that encompasses new experiences and new modes of being Drawing on influences from the arts and humanities and deploying diverse methodologies visual literary spatial and theoretical perspectives Cultural Gerontology has brought new aspects of later life into view This major new publication draws together these currents including Theory and Methods Embodiment Identities and Social Relationships Consumption and Leisure and Time and Space Based on specially commissioned chapters by leading international authors the Routledge Handbook of Cultural Gerontology will provide concise authoritative reviews of the key debates and themes shaping this exciting new field Cultural Gerontology Lars Andersson,2002-11-30 The concept of culture has gained considerable attention within the humanities and social sciences in general and this is certainly true in the field of gerontology The new perspectives thus gained widen the scope of gerontology In this study chapter authors examine the growth of gerontology as a discipline the phenomenon of ageism as a socio cultural concept identity politics in which older persons are perceived as belonging to a subculture and images of the older body in cultural perspective The manner in which gerontology emerged as a discipline was embedded in culturally defined views of aging that had consequences for how it was seen to vary between cultures One consequence was a perception of ageism as a cultural construction Since the 1980s much of the politics of older people is a form of identity politics in which groups are mobilized to further their interests Questions of cultural meanings ascribed to the gendered aging body is a central question for ageism social identity and self image These questions become especially relevant in confrontations with bodily decline and negotiations of intimacy in institutions for older people

Growing Old with the Welfare State Nick Hubble,Jennie Taylor,Philip Tew,2019-05-16 The combined effect of the welfare state and medical advances means that more people now live longer lives than ever before in history As a consequence the experience of ageing has been transformed Yet our cultural and social perceptions of ageing remain governed by increasingly dated images and narratives Growing Old with the Welfare State challenges these stereotypes by bringing together eight previously unpublished stories of ordinary British people born between 1925 and 1945 to show contemporary ageing in a new light These biographical narratives six of which were written as part of the Mass Observation Project reflect on and compare the experience of living in two post war periods of social change after the first and second world wars In doing so these stories along with their accompanying contextual chapters provide a valuable and accessible resource for social historians and expose both historical and contemporary views of age and ageing that challenge modern assumptions

Social Work Practice with Older People Rory Lynch,2013-11-13 Older people are the biggest service user group for social workers and an increasing proportion of the population In this refreshingly positive and practical textbook Rory Lynch draws on years of practice and teaching experience to show how to achieve best social work practice with older adults He takes a person centred approach which fosters respect by valuing the fact that elderly people have more lived experience than others Exploring the key theoretical approaches and methods of intervention this book helps social workers to identify understand and facilitate their service users wishes for well being and a fulfilling older age Chapters are practice driven containing case studies drawn from a range of care settings reflective questions and exercises Mapping directly onto the key modules on the social work degree this is essential reading for all student social workers especially as they prepare to go on their practice placement It is also valuable reading for qualified social workers Rory Lynch is Lecturer in Social Work at Robert Gordon University

Ageing, Narrative and Identity N. Hubble,P. Tew,2015-12-11 This book outlines the methodology and results of the Fiction and the Cultural Mediation of Ageing Project led by a research team from Brunel University UK It investigates how older people resist stereotypical cultural representations of ageing and demonstrates the importance of narrative understanding to social agency

Foundations of Health and Social Care Robert Adams,2007-07-20 Written specifically for students and practitioners in health and social care taking foundation degrees or further professional qualifications this textbook offers a wealth of material on contexts knowledge bases skills and practices as well as dealing with work carried out by those involved in treatment therapy advocacy and management Written in very accessible style this very comprehensive book is set to become a core text for all Foundation Degree students within the health and social care field and a very valuable resource for tutors and practitioners in the field
