Resistance My Life For Lebanon:

Resistance Souha Bechara, 2003-12-19 In a time when violent conflicts in the Middle East continue to rage the story of a secular Orthodox Christian who risked her life to rid her country of occupying forces will resonate with those looking to understand why young Palestinian girls blow themselves up in crowded Jerusalem markets In 1988 at the age of twenty Souha Bechara attempted to assassinate General Lahad chief of militia in charge of Israeli occupied Southern Lebanon Immediately apprehended interrogated and tortured for weeks she was sent to Khiam a prison and death camp regularly condemned by humanitarian organizations After an intense Lebanese European and even Israeli campaign in her favor she was released in 1998 Her story told here in Resistance clarifies in the most personal terms why the conflict in Israel and Palestine continues unabated Coming directly from the voice of a practitioner of armed struggle who was labeled a terrorist Resistance humanizes a deeply misunderstood side of the conflict offers insight into the roots of a highly complex political problem and provides a personal memoir of resistance and oppression Love and Resistance in the Films of Mai Masri

Victoria Brittain, 2020-02-14 This book covers Mai Masri's three decades documenting iconic moments of Palestinian and Lebanese linked history Her films unique for giving agency to her subjects tell much about the untold unseen people namely women and children who lived these experiences of war and occupation Former Lebanese political prisoner Soha Bechara praised her feature film 3000 Nights as the Lest we forget of Palestine Her focus on the social and political climates of the vivid lives of unseen people connects to the deepening violence in Palestine today Resistance Souha Béchara, 2003

Martyr Cults and Political Identities in Lebanon Sabrina Bensen, 2019-10-24 Sabrina Bensen sheds light on political cults of martyrs in Lebanon and reconsiders the context of their emergence development and distinct characteristics since 1920 She examines how the honouring of martyrs became an established practice in Lebanese politics and is crucial to grasp the logic of violence and conflict Drawing on the case of the Amal movement the author analyses central narratives to the group's discourse and practices concerning martyrdom to show how identity construction and strategies of legitimizing power are intertwined Moreover the book provides insides into political competition strategies especially in regards to the two major Shi'ite political actors Amal and Hizbullah and takes a new look on martyrdom by going beyond cultural religious explanations

Poetics of Contemporary Narratives in the Arabic Diaspora F. Elizabeth Dahab, 2024-02-19 Poetics of Contemporary Narratives in the Arabic Diaspora presents a captivating exploration of the rich tapestry of Middle Eastern diasporic literature spanning the landscapes of Canada and France With eloquent prose the author guides readers on an enthralling journey through the intricate interplay of themes styles tropes and sociohistorical contexts This monograph breathes life into an array of mesmerizing texts authored by luminaries including Wajdi Mouawad Khaled Osman Rawi Hage Denis Villeneuve and Soha Bechara whose literary roots span Lebanon and Switzerland Through meticulous analysis and thoughtful reflection this work unveils the profound resonance of these writers' voices across borders and cultures

Encyclopedia of Arab Women Filmmakers Rebecca Hillauer, 2005 Arab women filmmakers Who are they What drives them What are their experiences in a male dominated profession How do they function within the contexts and constraints of patriarchal societies The answers are complex and sometimes surprising as complex and surprising as the vastly different films these women direct In this unprecedented book Rebecca Hillauer assembles a comprehensive and penetrating look into the history of Arab women's filmmaking as well as the political and social background of the countries Egypt Iraq Lebanon Syria Algeria among others from which these artists emerged In addition to the biographies filmographies and discussions of their most important works lively in depth interviews allow us to hear from the filmmakers themselves Collectively these women who hail from a wide range of professional religious and social backgrounds provide a varied and vivid picture of what it means to work in creative and journalistic fields in the modern Arab world For Hillauer the subject of a film its genesis and the personal story of the artist who created it reveal far more than a particular approach to cinematography Arab women filmmakers and their main characters who are often semi autobiographical not only afford us a look at seldom seen facets of Arab societies they personify an alternative women's model one that is far removed from western clichés Broad in scope and rich in insight Arab Women Filmmakers is a must read for cineastes as well as students of film feminism and the Middle East

What the War Left Behind Malek Abisaab, Michelle Hartman, 2024-05-15 Conspicuously missing from narratives of the Lebanese Civil War are the stories of women who took part in daily social activism and political organizing during the tumultuous conflict What the War Left Behind documents their stories with eight women directly sharing their experiences of action and survival through the hardship of war What the War Left Behind brings together oral histories of women from a range of political affiliations socioeconomic classes and religious identities These histories present an alternative image of women during war highlighting the actions of those who sought to make life better for themselves and their neighbors during conflict By centering women s voices in the war Abisaab and Hartman present a new perspective on an oft discussed historical era demonstrating the power of resistance during difficult times These translated texts showcase the active roles women take during wartime and how women s political efforts are an essential part of Lebanese history

Historical Dictionary of Women in the Middle East and North Africa Ghada Talhami,2013 The overriding theme of this work is that women s struggles human rights myths and literary expression are indispensable to an understanding of the modern culture and socio political development of the Middle East region The work demonstrates that no aspect of Middle Eastern history and modern evolution was shaped in isolation of women s lives and contributions to society The dictionary covers the biographies and written work of prominent historical female figures in the Middle East and North Africa as well as 20th century feminists both male and female who advanced women s rights over many years The Historical Dictionary of Women in the Middle East and North Africa includes a chronology an introductory essay an extensive bibliography and a dictionary section that has over 400 cross referenced entries on various aspects of Middle Eastern feminism and culture touching upon religious themes such as Sharia laws Islamic marriage divorce and inheritance practices This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the culture and history of women in the Middle East and North Africa

The Fate of Third Worldism in the Middle East Rasmus C. Elling,Sune Haugbolle,2024-01-04 In the latter half of the twentieth century a revolutionary idea promised to upend the global order Anti imperialist militancy bolstered by international solidarity would lead to not only the national liberation of oppressed peoples but universal emancipation shattering the division between the prosperous nations of the capitalist West and the poorer countries of the Global South The idea was Third Worldism and among others it inspired struggles in Iran and Palestine By the early 1980s however progressive visions of independence and freedom had fallen to the reality of an oppressive Islamic theocracy in Iran while the Palestinian Revolution had been eclipsed by civil war in Lebanon Israeli aggression and intra Arab conflict This thought provoking volume explores the dramatic decline of Third Worldism in the Middle East It reveals the lived realities of the time by focusing on the key protagonists from student activists to guerrilla fighters and from volunteer nurses to militant intellectuals and juxtaposes the Iranian and Palestinian cases to offer a riveting re examination of this defining era Ultimately it challenges us to reassess how we view the end of the long 1960s prompting us to reconsider perennial questions concerning self determination emancipation change and solidarity Contents Introduction The Transformation of Third Worldism in the Middle East Sune Haugbolle and Rasmus Elling 1 Demystifying Third World Solidarity Cuba and the Palestinian Revolution in the Seventies Sorch Thomson 2 Nursing the Revolution Norwegian Medical Support in Lebanon as Solidarity 1976 1983 Pelle Valentin Olsen 3 Searching for Friends Across the Global South Classified Documents Iran and the Export of the differences can be overcome Finally the book presents concrete examples cases methods and practices of global education in bioethics The unique feature of the book is that it addresses global education challenges specifically in the area of healthcare medicine and medical science It combines two areas of research and experience that are usually not connected global bioethics and global education This book is written for all those involved in global ethics teaching in medicine nursing ethics philosophy law and theology courses

Women and the Lebanese Civil War Jennifer Philippa Eggert, 2021-11-09 This book analyses the reasons for women's participation in the various Lebanese and Palestinian militias involved in the Lebanese Civil War 1975-1990 Whilst most existing accounts of the Civil War in Lebanon either overlook the roles and experiences of women entirely or focus on women as victims or peacemakers only Women and the Lebanese Civil War highlights that women were involved as militants and often also as fighters in all of the militias partaking in the war Analysing individual motivations organisational characteristics security related aspects and societal factors the book explains why women were included as fighters in some of the militias but not in others Based on extensive fieldwork in Lebanon the book is the first comprehensive study of female perpetrators and supporters of political violence during the Lebanese Civil War Beyond the case of Lebanon it questions widespread assumptions about the roles of women at times of violent conflict and war

Posthumous Images Chad Elias, 2018-09-07 For almost two decades of its history 1975-90 Lebanon was besieged by sectarian fighting foreign invasions and complicated proxy wars In Posthumous Images Chad Elias analyzes a generation of contemporary artists who have sought in different ways to interrogate the contested memory of those years of civil strife and political upheaval In their films photography architectural projects and multimedia performances these artists appropriate existing images to challenge divisive and violent political discourses They also create new images that make visible individuals and communities that have been effectively silenced rendered invisible or denied political representation As Elias demonstrates these practices serve to productively unsettle the distinctions between past and present the dead and the living official history and popular memory In Lebanon the field of contemporary art is shown to be critical to remembering the past and reimagining the future in a nation haunted by a violent and unresolved war

War Is Coming Sami Hermez, 2017-01-16 From 1975 to 1990 Lebanon experienced a long war involving various national and international actors The peace agreement that followed and officially propelled the country into a postwar era did not address many of the root causes of war nor did it hold main actors accountable Instead a politics of no victor no vanquished was promoted in which the political elite agreed simply to consign the war to the past However since then Lebanon has found itself still entangled in various forms of political violence from car bombings and assassinations to additional outbreaks of armed combat In War Is Coming Sami Hermez argues that the country's political leaders have enabled the continuation of violence and examines how people live between these periods of conflict What do everyday conversations practices and experiences look like during these moments How do people attempt to find a measure of certainty or stability in such times Hermez's ethnographic study of everyday life in Lebanon between the volatile years of 2006 and 2009 tackles these questions and reveals how people engage in practices of recollecting past war while anticipating future turmoil Hermez demonstrates just how social interactions and political relationships with the state unfold and critically engages our understanding of memory and violence seeing in people's recollections living and spontaneous memories that refuse to forget the past With an attention to the details of everyday life War Is Coming shows how even a conversation over lunch or among friends may turn into a discussion about both past and future unrest Shedding light on the impact of protracted conflict on people's everyday experiences and the way people anticipate political violence Hermez highlights an urgency for alternative paths to sustaining political and social life in Lebanon

Theory of Irregular War Jonathan W. Hackett, 2023-12-01 From Afghanistan to Angola Indonesia to Iran and Colombia to Congo violent reactions erupt states collapse and militaries relentlessly pursue operations doomed to fail And yet no useful theory exists to explain this common tragedy All over the world people and states clash violently outside their established political systems as unfulfilled demands of control and productivity bend the modern state to a breaking point This book lays out how dysfunctional governments disrupt social orders make territory insecure and interfere with political economic institutions These give rise to a form of organized violence against the state known as irregular war Research reveals why this frequent phenomenon is so poorly understood among conventional forces in those conflicts and the states who send their children to die in them

Philosophy of Expressive Arts Therapy Stephen K. Levine, 2019-07-18 Laying the philosophical foundations of expressive arts therapy this book highlights the role and importance of poiesis the art of making as a response to the world in the expressive arts therapies as well as our own lives The concept of poiesis was originally developed and brought into the field by Stephen K Levine It is a perspective that restores the primacy of the arts for the arts therapies instead of reducing art making and art objects to psychological data Bringing together different schools of thought in unexpected ways this book shows how the principles underlying expressive arts therapy have relevance to ethics politics and social change It includes chapters on Taoism improvisation in the arts and the importance of creativity for understanding human existence With personal narratives and poetry to help create natural points for the reader to stop and reflect Philosophy of Expressive Arts Therapy is the perfect guide for those wanting to understand the role of the arts and art making in life and in therapeutic change

My Life Is a Weapon Christoph Reuter, 2006-04-24 What kind of people are suicide bombers How do they justify their actions In this meticulously researched and sensitively written book journalist Christoph Reuter argues that popular views of these young men and women as crazed fanatics or brainwashed automatons fall short of the mark In many cases these modern day martyrs are well educated young adults who turn themselves into human bombs willingly and eagerly to exact revenge on a more powerful enemy perceived as both unjust and oppressive Suicide assassins are determined to make a difference for once in their lives no matter what the cost As Reuter's many interviews with would be martyrs their trainers friends and relatives reveal the bombers are motivated more by how they expect to be remembered as heroic figures than by religion infused visions of a blissful life to come Reuter who spent eight years researching the book moves from the broken survivors of the childrens suicide brigades in the Iran Iraq war of the 1980s to the war torn Lebanon of Hezbollah to Israeli occupied Palestinian land and to regions as disparate as Sri Lanka Chechnya and Kurdistan He tells a disturbing story of the modern globalization of suicide bombing orchestrated as his own investigations have helped to establish by the shadowy Al Qaeda network and unintentionally enabled by wrong headed policies of Western governments In a final hopeful chapter Reuter points to today s postrevolutionary post Khomeini Iran where a new social environment renounces the horrific practice in the very place where it was enthusiastically embraced just decades ago

Leila Khaled Sarah Irving, 2012-05-08 Dubbed the poster girl of Palestinian militancy Leila Khaled s image flashed across the world after she hijacked a passenger jet in 1969 The picture of a young determined looking woman with a checkered scarf clutching an AK 47 was as era defining as that of Che Guevara In this intimate profile based on interviews with Khaled and those who know her Sarah Irving gives us the life story behind the image Key moments of Khaled s turbulent life are explored including the dramatic events of the hijackings her involvement in the Marxist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine a radical element within the PLO her opposition to the Oslo peace process and her activism today Leila Khaled s example gives unique insights into the Palestinian struggle through one remarkable life from the tension between armed and political struggle to the decline of the secular left and the rise of Hamas and the role of women in a largely male movement
