Resource Management In Academic Libraries:

Human Resource Management in Today's Academic Library Janice Simmons-Welburn, Beth McNeil, 2004-01-30 This book provides a comprehensive look at issues that shape the nature of Human Resources in academic libraries Libraries in varying academic environments have undergone tremendous change during the last two decades of the 20th century as they have sought redefinition as learning organizations As organizations they have experienced significant changes in the role and definition of professionalism along with challenges from such shifting workplace demographics as age and ethnicity and technological issues which have also had direct impact on the recruitment and retention of staff Much of the attention of human resources administrators in academic libraries has focused on an array of issues that mirrors concerns across campuses affirmative action and diversity the rights of employees with disabilities under the Americans with Disabilities Act the impact of the Family Medical Leave Act and other directives on employee benefits salary equity and a desire among employees for flexible work schedules

Resource Management in Academic Libraries David Baker, 1997 The funding framework of higher education is changing As the number of students going on to higher education increases competitive bidding for funded places is replacing block grant allocation This means that institutions seeking to increase their income from non government sources are having to revise traditional methods of assessing the over head cost of support services or to introduce new methods

Emerging Human Resource Trends in Academic Libraries, Michael A. Crumpton, Nora J. Bird, 2020-12-04 Emerging Human Resource Trends in Academic Libraries presents the collective wisdom of human resource librarians and administrators who have been in the forefront of practicing and applying the human resource principles in academic libraries The book is divided into five Parts Part I focuses on the present academic library environment and the unique human resource challenges that can be found there Part II looks at the role of LIS education in preparing Masters level librarians to work within academic libraries and beyond Part III examines how human resource departments in organizations can continue education beyond the degree for professionals and other staff Part IV is concerned with how academic libraries show their value to the parent institution Part V focuses on the library staff roles how they have changed and how they are valued in relation to faculty and professional positions These chapters within each Part represent the emerging trends within academic libraries that impact how librarians are educated mentored and given the ability to obtain professional development training as incumbent librarians as changes occur in the field Each chapter is written by a practitioner in HR who has experienced related problems and sought solutions
