determine how the body is treated and experienced in school International and multidisciplinary in scope this unique collection is of interest to postgraduate students and researchers in education and public health as well as history policy studies and sociology International Perspectives on Financing Higher Education Josef C. Brada, Wojciech Bienkowski, Masaaki Kuboniwa, 2015-10-05 Higher education is increasingly important to the labor market success of individuals and the prosperity of nations yet as this book shows public funding for higher education is declining It presents innovative approaches to increasing funding for universities through closer ties with business and through privatization of universities Defense Spending, Natural Resources, and Conflict Christos Kollias, Hamid E. Ali, 2017-10-02 This book is an intellectual contribution of policy scientists and researchers from different academic institutions in different parts of the world The Arab Spring the rise of ISIS and terrorism ignite the debate on studying conflict and natural resources Uniquely the book discusses the sources of the conflicts and the institutions that are managing the conflicts The natural resources defense spending conflict and human welfare are intertwined In support of the resource curse hypothesis the book shows that an abundance of natural resources particularly oil encourages an increase in military spending and lower economic growth In addition the good economic and political institutions do reduce the hazard of conflict and strong political institutions for checks and balances appear to weaken the impact of natural resources on conflicts The book also examines the relationship between defense and social welfare expenditures specifically health and education Shedding light on the complicated nature of the relationship between defense spending inequality and types of political and welfare regimes gives us a deeper understanding of the type of democratic systems that will likely improve social welfare In studying the political economy of defense spending the book shows the link between public opinion toward defense spending and voters support for candidates The analysis shows that party identification or having a vested interest in defense industries do correlate with a preference for increasing defense spending This book was published as a special issue of Defence and Peace Economics

Government and the Economy Jan-Erik Lane, Svante O. Ersson, 2002-01-01 Globalization is a common theme in the discourse of post industrial society yet it is a process that is ill understood Is it basically a technological phenomenon or does its immense impulse derive from economic factors Should it be regulated by government and at what level Questions such as these are debated continuously in the mass media yet there are no simple answers available as globalization is not only an amorphous but also a contested phenomenon Government and the Economy is a completely reworked edition of Jan Erik Lane and Svante Ersson's popular text Comparative Political Economy which the authors have updated for the twenty first century They present a profound analysis of how globalization changes the boundaries between state and market public and private and government and society When the state retreats and markets expand what are the major outcomes And what is driving this process of redefining the roles of government and the tasks of society The book offers a penetrating survey of the differences between the countries of the world in terms of their economy and polity and a forceful critique of the prevailing models in political economy Lane and Ersson look closely at Public Choice theories which emphasize the role of markets in accomplishing efficient solutions to human interaction while modeling governments as enhancing state failure They argue that such accounts are misguided The need for government in the global market economy is as strong as it is in relation to the domestic economy They go on to suggest that the most efficient and equitable means of strengthening government in the global market place without creating one world government is the reform and empowerment of IGOs Reframing Global
