Responding To Men In Crisis:

Responding to Men in Crisis Brian Taylor, 2004-08-02 Responding to Men in Crisis is based on new research looking at gendered assumptions about rationality and men's mental health. It looks at postmodern theory in relation to masculinities and madness and discusses key contemporary debates in political uses of risk, dangerousness and so on. The author relates this to a discussion of current policy and practice responses to men within the mental health system. It offers the reader a theoretical exploration of a topically and politically sensitive issue and is relevant to service user involvement and survivor movements, making it essential reading for academics and students of sociology and allied disciplines. Messages Men

Hear Ian M. Harris, 2004-08-02 This text is based on over 10 years' research with 500 men from different classes, backgrounds, races and ethnic groups. It constructs a theory of masculinity by exploring masculine expectancies, how men form their gender identities and how those identities influence their behaviour. [Call] - Responding and the worlds inbetween

Johann-Albrecht Meylahn, 2020-01-10 The book is a reading of numerous contemporary continental philosophers: Badiou, Deleuze and Guattari, Laruelle and Derrida amongst others, and bringing them into conversation with each other around various ethical and political challenges of living in capitalist worlds. What can contemporary continental philosophy offer with regards to the questions of decolonial thinking, the challenges of identity politics, the formation of political identities in response to the dominant norms in the context of the struggles of victims of these norms? Johann-Albrecht Meylahn is professor in the Faculty of Theology and Religion at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. The Care of Men

Christie Cozad Neuger, James Newton Poling, 2011-12-01 Men in our culture are experiencing various crises to which pastors and pastoral caregivers are called to respond. These crises include changing role definitions and gender expectations as well as diminishing economic opportunities. In light of these crises, men need new foundations for self-esteem and identity and new support for changing. With their different experiences and specialties, the contributors to The Care of Men examine some crises and provide helpful ideas for caregivers in diverse situations with diverse populations of men. Politics of Masculinities Michael A. Messner, 1997-09-06 The profound changes wrought by the feminist movement were by no means restricted to women. In the years since feminism has taken root, the role of men and masculinity has begun to undergo its own redefinition. Michael A. Messner provides a sociological framework to understand the responses of men to the changes, challenges and crises in the social organization of gender. By examining not only what certain groups of men say about gender but what they do, Messner helps to illuminate the various social movements engaged with the politics of masculinity. Politics of Masculinities is one of the first books in the new Gender Lens series, which will look at the social world through the lens of gender. The mission of the series is to unpack the assumptions about gender that pervade social life and to examine the centrality of these assumptions to the way we perceive and interpret our world. Politics of Masculinities is an ideal introduction to the discussion of gender roles and masculinity. This book will be of interest to students and professionals.

Engaging East Timorese Men in the Process of Establishing Gender Equality Melanie Lotfali, 2013-09-18 ABSTRACT The equality of women and men is a prerequisite for peace. Social development interventions over recent decades have sought to achieve equality primarily by educating and liberating women from the shackles of customs and paradigms that serve to maintain gender inequality. It is increasingly recognized that due attention must be given to men's essential role in the process of men's education and liberation. In East Timor, the latter process has begun albeit on a small scale. This study looks at ways to further advance this process. Three and a half years in East Timor provided the opportunity to engage in applied research using the methodology of ethnography. I gathered data using three main techniques: semi-structured interviews with more gender equitable men and with women and men occupied with the engagement of East Timorese men in gender equality; observation and direct participation within a wide range of settings from informal encounters on local beaches to high-level meetings with the president and government ministers; and analysis of pertinent primary and secondary documents. I identified that a number of interventions are being applied to the issue of engaging East Timorese men in gender equality, including use of workshops and trainings, the performing arts, campaigns, and the mass media, role modeling, and the techniques of popular education with varying levels of success. I found that the Association of Men Against Violence and its members are key players in the advancement of this process and that they work closely with feminist organizations within East Timor. While I drew on much secular theory and practice in the course of this study, my personal beliefs and practices are guided by the teachings of the Baha'i Faith. The Baha'i teachings include much that is relevant to this study, and thus I have drawn on and presented Baha'i perspectives and approaches to such things as equality and men's role in its establishment, social and economic development, and the culture of contest, and have drawn on Baha'i principles in the discussion of results and subsequently in drawing my conclusions. By exploring the implications of interventions implemented in other parts of the world and of theory pertaining to social development, masculinities, and a culture of contest, I identified that interventions in East Timor to engage men in gender equality would be strengthened by giving due consideration to the following: developing participants' ability to communicate; providing opportunity for and developing the capacity of participants to critically reflect on their environment; addressing participants as whole human beings and members of one human race; and actively engaging participants in the development and ownership of knowledge. I concluded that three areas requiring immediate attention include the development of evaluation tools and processes, the systematic documentation and sharing of learning, as well as research into masculinities in an East Timorese context.

Critical Response: A Men in Uniform Christian Romantic Suspense Laura Scott, 2023-07-09 A men in uniform Christian romantic suspense from USA Today Bestselling Author Laura Scott. Walking the line between danger and love. Held hostage at knifepoint. As a nurse in the emergency department, Alanna Finnegan is accustomed to taking care of patients with gunshot wounds. But when she is taken hostage with a scalpel blade at her throat, she knows the ruthless gang member won't hesitate to kill her. Police officer Reed Carmichael doesn't hesitate to shoot and kill the man holding her captive and she is relieved the nightmare is over. Except it isn't. Reed is placed on administrative leave after shooting Ivan Ice Garcia only to find his rookie partner murdered. When he takes Alanna home, danger continues to stalk their every move. Nothing makes sense, especially members of a gang having the resources to find them. Reed and Alanna can only trust the Finnegan siblings to keep them safe. With a price on Reed's head, time is running out. Will they uncover the truth in time to celebrate their new found love? A men in uniform Christian romantic suspense featuring the Finnegan family of first responders who put their lives on the line for those they love. Fans of Lynn Shannon, Christy Barritt and Lisa Phillips will love this story.

Men Behaving Differently Graeme Reid, Liz Walker, 2005. Recent years have seen a growing world wide concern about men and boys. Do boys have appropriate role models at home? Are girls outperforming boys at school? Is men's health under undue pressure?

New Migration Patterns in the Americas Andreas E. Feldmann, Xóchitl Bada, Stephanie Schütze, 2018-07-25. This volume investigates new migration patterns in the Americas, addressing continuities and changes in existing population movements in the region. The book explores migration conditions and intersections across time and space, relying on a multidisciplinary collaborative approach that brings together the expertise of transnational scholars with diverse theoretical orientations, strengths and methodological approaches. Some of the themes this edited volume explores include main features of contemporary migration in the Americas, causes, composition and patterns of new migration flows and state policies enacted to meet the challenges posed by new developments in migration flows.

The New Politics of Fatherhood Ana Jordan, 2019-07-05. This book makes a unique contribution to contemporary research into masculinities, men's movements and fathers' rights groups. It examines the role of changing masculinities in creating equality and/or reinforcing inequality by analysing diverse men's movements, their politics and the identities they re-construct. Jordan advances a typology for categorising men's movements: feminist, postfeminist and backlash movements, and addresses debates over the construction of masculinity in crisis, arguing that crisis is frequently invoked in problematic ways. These themes are further explored through original analyses of material produced by feminist, postfeminist and backlash men's groups. The main empirical contribution of the book draws on interviews with fathers' rights activists to explore the gendered implications of the new politics of fatherhood. The nuanced examination of fathers' rights perspectives reveals multiple complex narratives of masculinity, fatherhood and gender politics. The cumulative effect of these is at best postfeminist and depoliticising and at worst another vitriolic backlash. The New Politics of Fatherhood expands scholarly understandings of gender, masculinities and social movements in the under-researched UK context and will appeal to readers with interests in these areas.

Psychology, Eighth Edition in Modules David G. Myers, 2007. This modular version of Myers's full-length text Psychology reflects the author's research-supported belief that many students learn better using a text comprised of brief modules as opposed to standard-length chapters. Psychology, Eighth Edition in Modules breaks down the 18 chapters of Psychology into 58 short modules retaining that acclaimed text's captivating writing, superior pedagogy and wealth of references to recent cutting edge research. The modular version has its own extensive media and supplements package with content organized to match its table of contents.

Culturally Responsive Counseling with Asian American Men

William Ming Liu, Derek Kenji Iwamoto, Mark H. Chae, 2011-01-19 Asian American men represent a complex group with distinct psychological and mental health concerns yet the current counseling literature is lacking in resources for clinicians working with this population. The purpose of this text is to provide practitioners with a comprehensive overview of the current research and theory related to the important and unique issues that Asian American men experience. It offers clinicians culturally responsive practical counseling techniques and strategies to help inform them on how to work effectively with this group. Chapters are written by leading figures in the field and explore such topics as intergenerational conflict, racism, challenges associated with masculinity and fatherhood, sexual orientation, identity development, substance abuse and career counseling. Numerous clinical vignettes and case conceptualizations are included to assist clinicians who work with Asian American men and to demonstrate appropriate treatment responses.

Numen, Old Men Joseph Gelfer, 2016-09-17

Since the early 1990s there have been various movements designed to encourage masculine spirituality. All these movements share a concern that spirituality has become too feminine and that men's experiences of the spiritual are being marginalized. The task of masculine spirituality is to promote authentic masculine characteristics within a spiritual context. Numen Old Men examines these characteristics to argue that masculine spirituality is thinly veiled patriarchy. The mythopoetic, evangelical and Catholic men's movements are shown to promote a hetero-patriarchal spirituality by appealing to either combative and oppressive neo-Jungian archetypes or biblical models of man as the leader of the family. Numen Old Men examines spiritualities that aim to honour and transcend both the masculine and feminine and offers gay spirituality as an example of masculine spirituality that resists patriarchy.

Transitions Through Adult Life

Charles M. Sell, 1991 This book not only describes life's crises but also portrays the potential of life's transitions and seeks to offer answers to the problems it analyzes. It provides an overview of the various stages of adult life, what is typical in those stages and how to deal with adults as they traverse the stages.

If Men Could Talk

Alon Gratch, 2009-05-09 This in-depth look into the seven attributes that can be used to help decode and interpret male behavior and explains the underpinnings of their outer behavioral patterns is presented. It also includes practical insights and useful tips on how women and men can learn how to talk and to change men's non-verbal action-oriented communications into the language of emotional dialogue.

Critical and Feminist Perspectives on Financial and Economic Crises

Sakiko Fukuda-Parr, James Heintz, Stephanie Seguino, 2017-10-02 Economic and financial crises have become perennial features of today's global economy. Macroeconomic theories of crisis, including the global crisis that unfolded in 2008, emphasize the role of financial deregulation, capital flow imbalances and growing debt fueled by income and wealth inequality. These approaches tend to be divorced from feminist thinking which analyzes broader distributional dynamics transmitted through structural channels and government policy responses with an emphasis on gender race class and ethnicity This volume brings together innovative thinking from heterodox macroeconomists and feminist economists to explore the causes consequences and ramifications of economic crises By doing so it highlights aspects of the economy that are frequently overlooked or ignored such as the impact of crises on the vast amount of unpaid work which women perform relative to men The collection of international studies assembled here takes an innovative approach to analyzing a range of issues from the subprime mortgage crisis to the gendered effects of austerity to the role of the International Monetary Fund in governing an unstable global economy In so doing it looks beyond causes and consequences and points to new directions for macroeconomic and financial policy This book was originally published as a special issue of Feminist Economics      Early Warning, Timely Response ,1998

Responses to Disasters and Climate Change Michele Companion,Miriam S. Chaiken,2016-11-30 As the global climate shifts communities are faced with a myriad of mitigation and adaptation challenges These highlight the political cultural economic social and physical vulnerability of social groups communities families and individuals They also foster resilience and creative responses Research in hazard management humanitarian response food security programming and other areas seeks to identify and understand factors that create vulnerability and strategies that enhance resilience at all levels of social organization This book uses case studies from around the globe to demonstrate ways that communities have fostered resilience to mitigate the impacts of climate change      Men Don't Cry, Women Do Kenneth J. Doka,Terry L. Martin,2014-03-05 Do men and women grieve differently This text while emphasizing that there are many ways to cope with grief offers a refreshing change from the popular gender stereotypes of grief Two patterns of grieving are described an intuitive pattern where individuals experience and express grief in an affective way stereotyped as female and an instrumental pattern where grief is expressed physically or cognitively stereotyped as male A third pattern representing a blending of these two is also introduced Of critical importance is that such patterns are related to but not determined by gender and each has distinct strengths and weaknesses Organized into three main parts this topical new text begins by defining terms introducing and delineating the grief patterns and rooting the book s concept in contemporary theories of grief The second part speculates on factors that may influence individuals patterns of coping with loss e g personality gender culture etc The final part considers implications and therapeutic interventions likely to be effective with different types of griever
