This book covers research works carried out by various students such as bachelor master and doctoral scholars, faculty and industry persons in the area of artificial intelligence, machine learning, deep learning, applications in healthcare, agriculture, business, security, etc. It will also cover research in core concepts of computer networks, intelligent system design and deployment, real time systems, WSN sensors and sensor nodes, SDN, NFV, etc.

Urban Development Serafeim Polyzos, 2012-03-30 Cities are growing as never before and nowadays it is estimated that at least 50% of the world's population lives in urban areas. This trend is expected to continue and simultaneously the problems in urban areas are anticipated to have an increase. Urbanization constitutes a complex process involving problems with social, economic, environmental and spatial dimensions that need appropriate solutions. This book highlights some of these problems and discusses possible solutions in terms of organisation, planning and management. The purpose of the book is to present selected chapters of great importance for understanding the urban development issues written by renowned authors in this scientific field. All the chapters have been thoroughly reviewed and they cover some basic aspects concerning urban sustainability, urban sprawl, urban planning, urban environment, housing and land uses. The editor gratefully acknowledges the assistance of Dr Marius Minea in reviewing two chapters.

Response Surfaces, Mixtures, and Ridge Analyses George E. P. Box, Norman R. Draper, 2007-04-10 The authority on building empirical models and the fitting of such surfaces to data, completely updated and revised. Revising and updating a volume that represents the essential source on building empirical models. George Box and Norman Draper, renowned authorities in this field, continue to set the standard with the Second Edition of Response Surfaces: Mixtures and Ridge Analyses, providing timely new techniques, new exercises and expanded material. A comprehensive introduction to building empirical models, this book presents the general philosophy and computational details of a number of important topics including factorial designs at two levels, fitting first and second order models, adequacy of estimation and the use of transformation and occurrence, and elucidation of ridge systems. Substantially rewritten, the Second Edition reflects the emergence of ridge analysis of second order response surfaces as a very practical tool that can be easily applied in a variety of circumstances. This unique, fully developed coverage of ridge analysis, a technique for exploring quadratic response surfaces including surfaces in the space of mixture ingredients and/or subject to linear restrictions, includes MINITAB routines for performing the calculations for any number of dimensions. Many additional figures are included in the new edition and new exercises, many based on data from published papers, offer insight into the methods used. The exercises and their solutions provide a variety of supplementary examples of response surface use forming an extremely important component of the text Response Surfaces Mixtures and Ridge Analyses Second Edition presents material in a logical and understandable arrangement and includes six new chapters covering an up to date presentation of standard ridge analysis without restrictions design and analysis of mixtures experiments ridge analysis methods when there are linear restrictions in the experimental space including the mixtures experiments case with or without further linear restrictions and canonical reduction of second order response surfaces in the foregoing general case Additional features in the new edition include New exercises with worked answers added throughout An extensive revision of Chapter 5 Blocking and Fractionating 2k Designs Additional discussion on the projection of two level designs into lower dimensional spaces This is an ideal reference for researchers as well as a primary text for Response Surface Methodology graduate level courses and a supplementary text for Design of Experiments courses at the upper undergraduate and beginning graduate levels
