Marcuse, 2023-11-15 A Marginal Jew: Rethinking the Historical Jesus, Volume IV John P. Meier, 2009-06-02 John Meier's previous volumes in the acclaimed series A Marginal Jew are founded upon the notion that while solid historical information about Jesus is quite limited people of different faiths can nevertheless arrive at a consensus on fundamental historical facts of his life In this eagerly anticipated fourth volume in the series Meier approaches a fresh topic the teachings of the historical Jesus concerning Mosaic Law and morality with the same rigor thoroughness accuracy and insightfulness on display in his earlier works Building Apartheid Nicholas Coetzer, 2016-04-22 Through a specific architectural lens this book exposes the role the British Empire played in the development of apartheid Through reference to previously unexamined archival material the book uncovers a myriad of mechanisms through which Empire laid the foundations onto which the edifice of apartheid was built It unearths the significant role British architects and British architectural ideas played in facilitating white dominance and racial segregation in pre apartheid Cape Town To achieve this the book follows the progenitor of the Garden City Movement Ebenezer Howard in its tripartite structure of Country Town Suburb acknowledging the Garden City Movement's dominance at the Cape at the time This tripartite structure also provides a significant match to postcolonial schemas of Self Other Same which underpin the three parts to the book Much is owed to Edward Said's discursive analytical approach in Orientalism and the work of Homi Bhabha in the definition and interpretation of archival material This material ranges across written and visual representations in journals and newspapers through exhibitions and events to legislative acts as well as the physicality of the various architectural objects studied The book concludes by drawing attention to the ideological potency of architecture which tends to be veiled more so through its ubiquitous presence and in doing so it presents not only a story peculiar to Imperial Cape Town but one inherent to architecture more broadly The concluding chapter also provides a timely mirror for the machinations currently at play in establishing a post apartheid architecture and urbanity in the new South Africa Handbook of Research Methods for

Nhemachena,Victor Warikandwa,2019-04-22 Tracing recent bouts of globalised Mugabephobia to Robert Mugabes refusal to be neoimperially penetrated this book juxtaposes economic liberalisation with the mounting liberalisation of African orifices Reading land repossession and economic structural adjustment programmes together with what they call neoimperial structural adjustment of African orifices the authors argue that there has been liberalisation of African orifices in a context where Africans are ironically prevented from repossessing their material resources Juxtaposing recent bouts of Mugabephobia with discourses on homophobia the book asks why empire prefers liberalising African orifices rather than attending to African demands for restitution restoration and reparations Noting that empire opposes African sovereignty autonomy and centralisation of power while paradoxically promoting transnational corporations centralisation of power over African economies the book challenges contemporary discourses about shared sovereignty distributed governance heterarchy heteronomy and onticology Arguing that colonialists similarly denied Africans of their human essence the tome problematises queer sexualities homosexuality ecosexuality cybersexuality and humanoid robotic sexuality all of which complicate supposedly fundamental distinctions between human beings and animals and machines Provocatively questioning queer sexuality and liberalised orifices that serve to divert African attention from the more serious unfinished business of repossessing material resources the book insightfully compares Robert Gabriel Mugabe Thomas Sankara and Julius Kambarage Nyerere who emphasised the imperatives of African autonomy ownership control and sovereignty over natural resources Observing Africans interest in repossessing ownership and control over their resources the book wonders why so much queer international attention is focused on foisting queer sexuality while downplaying more burning issues of resource repossession human dignity equality and equity craved by Africans for whom life is not confined to sexuality With insights for
