Beyond the Walls of Separation Tobias Brandner, 2013-12-03 Beyond the Walls of Separation is an essential and easy to read guidebook for chaplains and volunteers working in the context of prison and for all those who are professionally or through family links related to those in prison The book tells the story of what life behind bars is and how inmates experience transformation through Christian faith. People at the crisis points of their life where they are shattered and where little is left of what made them may experience life as fragile and as a transparent filter for the mysterious. Yet they also may experience God's life giving presence. Love expressed in forgiveness against all odds against all merits and previous experiences lies at the root of many stories of transformation that emerge from prison. The book guides visitors to approach inmates without condescension with an awareness of the social dimension of power and inequality and with sensitivity to the suffering and alienation that individual prisoners experience. The many years of prison ministry in different cultural contexts and with inmates from all nations have taught the author that Christ does not need to be brought to prison through visitors through evangelistic events or through Christian outreach. He is already powerfully present in prison.

Restorative Justice and Practices in New Zealand Gabrielle M. Maxwell, James H. Liu, 2010-09-01. The quest for justice has been a powerful driving force in all human societies. In recent times the notion of restorative justice has gained currency. To achieve restorative justice all those affected by a crime must be involved in finding a solution one that repairs the harm and restores the broken relationships. This means striving to rebuild the damaged lives not only of those who have suffered but also of those who have caused suffering to others. It means that healing of hurts the reconciliation of offenders and victims and the eventual reintegration into the community of those who have offended as responsible and productive members of society. This is no easy task. But it is vital to building a cohesive inclusive and fair society. Moreover restorative practices need not be limited to the criminal justice arena. They are equally applicable in other fields of human endeavour where people have been harmed and where the restoration of broken relationships is needed. This book provides an account of how restorative processes and practices are being applied in New Zealand in the justice system education civil disputes and governmental responses to historical wrongs. It will be a valuable source of ideas and inspiration for all those who are seeking to build a more restorative society.

Recapturing Freedom Dot Goulding, 2007 Recapturing Freedom is about the experience of long term prisoners as they prepare for release Dot Goulding shows the connection between the institutionalisation that strips inmates of their identity in order to make them tractable and their subsequent all too common failure to cope with life on the outside Her book is based on extensive in depth interviews with male and female prisoners Recurring themes are the relentless surveillance and control to which prisoners are subjected and the centrality of violence and brutalisation in the prison experience group violence sexual violence and according to the interviewees violence which is officially sanctioned Recapturing Freedom shows why most long term prisoners find freedom so hard to recapture physically free but mentally still locked into a subculture of brutality isolation and deprivation it is most often prison that recaptures them Goulding finishes her book with suggestions on how taking account of the actual experiences of prisoners this endless cycle of recidivism might be stopped
